Mayor's race to highlight city election

By BOB AMEEN
ANP Staff Writer

Next Tuesday Romulus voters will go to the polls to pick their city's next mayor, seven council members, clerk and treasurer.

A fever pitch has surrounded the race for mayor, with ex-mayor Terry L. Troutt and seven-year council veteran William M. Oakley squaring off in center ring.

The two mayoral candidates have waged a strong campaign, but in vastly different styles. Oakley has carried on a steady, subdued campaign characterized by promises of plans he wants to put into action if elected to the city's top post. Troutt, on the other hand, has fought in his usual "tooth and nail" fashion, with his supporters utilizing a newsletter type brochure backed by the local Democrat party to push his candidacy.

Most local observers see the forthcoming battle between Oakley and Troutt to go right down to the wire.

Although the races for clerk and treasurer were not contested in the primary election, the scramble for those two seats are attracting considerable interest among Romulus voters.

Incumbent Leonard Folmar has been city clerk for seven years, being elected to that seat in 1970 as the city's first elected official in that position. He is being challenged by Jerry Kubiak, who had been director of the department of public safety until his dismissal by Mayor James C. Stewart following his primary bid for re-election.

Kubiak is on the Troutt slate, and it was allegedly his support of the ex-mayor that led to his being dropped by Stewart.

However, those close to the scene do not see

Kubiak as a serious threat to the entrenched position enjoyed by Folmar, now finishing his third term in office.

In the race for treasurer, incumbent John Lewkowicz could be the victim of too much "cuckoo's nest" activities in which he and his office have become embroiled in recent months.

His opponent, Helen Gallien, city finance director, might just pull off the upset, depending upon how Troutt and his slate of candidates do in the election on Tuesday. Lewkowicz is an avowed supporter of Troutt.

A real battle is shaping up in the race for seven council seats by 14 candidates, nearly half of whom are on the Troutt slate. Only five of the seven members now on council are seeking re-election. William M. Oakley is running for mayor, and Joan Lee is not seeking a return to council.

Incumbents hoping to be re-elected are: Beverly McAnally, Gerry Canejo, Junior Block, Jimmie C. Raspberry, and Robert H. Martin.

Challenging for the seven open council seats are: Mary Ann Banks, a political newcomer who led the 23-candidate field in the primary election last September; Mary Louise Carter; John R. Ryznar; Ray Cantrell; Robert N. Knight; Brooker Edwards; Edmund W. Bizek; Barry Baumann; and David A. Ferdon.

Carter, Ryznar, Bizek, Knight, Baumann and McAnally are all members of the Troutt team for council.

Polls will open on Tuesday, Nov. 8, at 7 a.m. and will remain open until 8 p.m.

Absentee voters will have until Saturday Nov. 5, to file applications for voting in the city clerk's office from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Recall looms

Schools set 6th millage

It's a tossup which will cause the most excitement next Tuesday in Romulus—the sixth millage try in two years by the Romulus Community School District or the sizzling hot race for mayor in the general city election.

The local public school system is proposing to increase operating school taxes by 8.5 mills over a five-year period. The boost would represent a levy of $8.50 per each $1,000 of state equalized valuation on taxable personal property.

The school system's sixth millage bid comes on the heels of a strong parent protest registered after it was announced that no children would be bused to school because of cuts made in the budget following the fifth millage try in September of this year.

Supt. James Garfield and the school board relented enough to grant busing for pupils who live more than a mile and a half from school. It was pointed out that the school district would lose a sizable amount of state aid if they did not provide transportation for students living past the 1½-mile limit.

Following the original decision to not bus any pupils, parents picketed schools and the board office, many carrying signs of their protest and threatening a recall of most of the trustees. Although the school board's concession to bus a portion of the students has pacified some parents in the Romulus district, organized parent groups are still reported to be working for a recall of five members of the school board.

With the hot mayor's contest, and races for clerk, treasurer and seven council seats at stake in Tuesday's election, the voter turnout is expected to be large with the millage question also on the ballot.

So concerned was a group of parents that they made a special trip to Lansing to confer with officials of the state Board of Education and other state agencies to get answers to their questions on local school problems.

Suit to see water bills backfires

A Romulus woman has won her lawsuit to see the water bills of mayoral candidate William Oakley, but her efforts apparently backfired, not only against herself, but against the mayoral candidate she is supporting.

Mrs. Carole Bales, who is a staunch supporter of Oakley's opponent, Terry L. Troutt, brought suit in Wayne County Circuit Court last week to force the water department to make the records public.

Acting Wayne Circuit Court Judge Verne C. Boewe ruled that water bills are open for public inspection, overruling a city policy which held that the bills were the private concern of the utility customer.

Judge Boewe, in effect, ruled that water bills represent liens against property and so are property rights and not personal rights.

However, even though Mrs. Bales won the right to see Oakley's water bills, Mike Herman, director of water and sewer billing, said she had not come to city hall to see the figures.

Mrs. Bales first requested to see the water bills when she learned that Oakley did not have an operable water meter at his home from 1967 to February of this year.

The meter had been disconnected because of constant mechanical failure, Herman said, and Oakley had his water bills estimated until this past February.

Mrs. Bales asked to see the water bills of Troutt and Oakley, to make a comparison. When Herman was advised by the city attorney that the water records were private information, he refused to divulge the amounts.

However, Judge Boewe ruled against the city Friday, saying property rights, not personal rights, were involved and said the city must give citizens access to water bills upon their request.

Herman said his office will comply with the judge's edict, informing residents he will issue the information upon written request.

The records show that Oakley has paid more than Troutt during the past 10 years, Herman reported.

In another curious turn of events, investigation has disclosed that Mrs. Bales herself reportedly has not paid a water bill since 1976.

Instead, she had the water and sewer charges added each year to her city taxes, being assessed $94.01 in 1976 and $181.86 in 1977.

Two other staunch Troutt backers, Bob Plank, who delivered the court summons to Herman, and Jack Trumble, editor of Troutt's monthly campaign newsletter, apparently followed in Mrs. Bales' footsteps and also paid water and sewer charges on their city tax assessment.

Neither of them has paid his water bill since at least 1975.

High school sets reunion

The Romulus High School Alumni Association is planning a 1978 reunion of the graduating classes of the 1920s, 1930s and 1940s.

The event is held every five years and attracts approximately 400 graduates from those years.

Anyone from any of these years is asked to call 721-2497 or 722-2266 after 5 p.m., regarding the planning of the next reunion to be held in May 1978.

"We'd like to have as many as possible come to the next reunion," said Joe Fisher who is helping to head up the event. "You know, there weren't all that many graduates each year back in those three decades, and we're trying to get news of the gathering to as many of the RHS grads as possible."

Graduates of the 20s, '30s and '40s are urged to call before Nov. 14, so plans for the big event can get underway as soon as possible.

Hunting casualties: Many are felled by heart attacks

It's that time of year again—the Great American Hunting Season—when thousands of people take to field and forest in the quest for game. Some will be successful, proudly bearing home the catch, while others will return with nothing more than the story of the 14-point buck who got away.

Sadly, some will be hunting casualties. Every year during the weeks of hunting season the papers are full of stories about hunters who didn't come back. Probably, when hunting casualties are mentioned, most people think of shooting accidents. Far too many hunters, however, are the victims of heart attack because they failed to realize the hazards of unaccustomed exertion during cold weather.

Dr. Sol Pickard, Henry Ford Hospital cardiologist and president of the Michigan Heart Association, explained: "Cold weather is a hazard to the heart in itself. The body reacts to cold weather by constricting its small arteries, thus making it harder for the heart to do its job of pumping blood to all parts of the body."

"While this is happening, the hunter may be, putting himself through the added exertion of cross-country hiking, which he may not have experienced since last year at this time. Combine these two factors, and you may be a candidate for a heart attack."

"There are, however, several precautions a person can take to reduce these hazards while hunting," Dr. Pickard said. "First of all, never hunt alone. Get a good rest before starting out and be moderate in your eating and drinking. Also, be very cautious about smoking in cold weather, since smoking also constricts the blood vessels."

Other precautions you can take are:

- Wear several layers of light warm clothing. This will keep you warmer than one heavy layer.

- If you are on medication for your heart, be sure that other members of your party know what it is, where you keep it, and instructions for its use.

- Know the symptoms of a heart attack, a sensation of fullness, heaviness or squeezing pain in the center of the chest, which may spread to arm, shoulder, neck or jaw, and may be accompanied by nausea, vomiting, sweating or shortness of breath. Symptoms may subside and then return.

- Get help to "drag the bag" out of the woods back to camp. It can be very physically demanding to do so!

"It has been found," said Dr. Pickard, "that hunting may quadruple the demands normally put on the heart as extremes of weather, change of altitude, rough terrain and the stress of the chase can levy heavy tax on the hunter's capacity. Don't be one of the casualties."

And here's a recipe from the Heart Association for preparing the catch.

Consumers buying beef be wary of 'bait and switch'

Consumers buying freezer beef for storage in home freezers this fall should be on guard against the "bait and switch" tactics used by some establishments, according to B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture (MDA).

Enforcement by MDA of the Primal Cut and Carcass Weight law, which is designed to protect consumers purchasing freezer meats, has curbed this activity but cases continue to spring up occasionally in various areas of the state, Ball said.

Dr. Edward Heffron, MDA's Food Inspection division chief, said in the last fiscal year three establishments were convicted for violation of the freezer meat law after complaints by consumers were investigated, but others are "fly-by-night" operations that tend to disappear when complaints mount.

Heffron said a dealer playing the "bait and switch" game attracts customers by advertising meats at a low price. Once the customer comes into the establishment, the dealer shows him the "advertised" carcass which often is of poor quality and overfat. He then shows the consumer a leaner carcass of good quality at a higher price and convinces him this is the better buy for his family.

Aside from "bait and switch," consumers often are shocked at the percentage of loss when the carcass at hanging weight is cut and trimmed into retail meat portions. Heffron explained that an average weight loss of about 30 percent can be expected and can be legitimate for a side of beef. The loss represents fat, bone, and other waste materials.

The freezer meat law, Heffron requires dealers to provide a delivery statement to the buyer specifying the initial weight of the carcass or primal cut purchased; the type of animal and carcass section, such as the loin, rib, chuck or flank; and the estimated cost per pound of the final weight after cutting loss, including the charge for packaging and freezing.

If the seller cuts the meat, the statement must show the weight of each cut. All prices advertised by the seller must include the estimated net price per pound, including all cost of the delivered product.

The law also applies to custom meat processors.

Heffron cited this example: "In a recent complaint investigated by MDA, a customer brought a beef carcass slaughtered elsewhere to a custom meat cutter for processing. An approved form with an accurate signed statement of weight of meat delivered was not furnished by the processor and the complainant was shorted approximately 175 pounds."

Another practice to beware of is the substitution of cuts from the forequarter for hindquarter cuts, he said. Consumers should know what meat cuts to expect from each section of the carcass. Also, dealers offering free chicken, pork chops or other products should be approached with caution. Consumer demand for beef is such that legitimate dealers need not offer bargains.

A FINAL MESSAGE...

In the past 7 months I have stood at your doorsteps to tell you why I think I can be the best employee you've ever had in a million dollar business that belongs to you — our city government.

It would be an honor to serve you. But without your participation in this election — without your favorable decision in the voting booth, I can go no farther. So let's get together for Romulus on Tuesday, November 8.

My warmest regards to you each and to our future.

Who are THEY?

--We the People ask

How many times have you heard someone blame all that goes wrong on they? If the schools are not run like you think they should be, city services aren't the best, you say people in city hall are indifferent to the needs of the people, they should pass a law, taxes are out of this world.

All these things are blamed on they.

But, do you really know who they are? They actually are the people! THEY IS YOU!! They, the ones who are setting civic policy and spending your tax dollars, must be responsive to the wishes of the citizen. If you wish to help guide your own destiny, you must be informed of both sides of issues, so that you can make intelligent decisions when you vote, or communicate with your political representatives.

WE THE PEOPLE started when some people talked together and decided that there had to be citizens in Romulus who cared for the city and would like to join together for the purpose of getting accurate information, discussing the facts and acting in a collective manner if necessary.

The meetings of We The People are informal and open to members and non-members alike who are free to question the speakers.

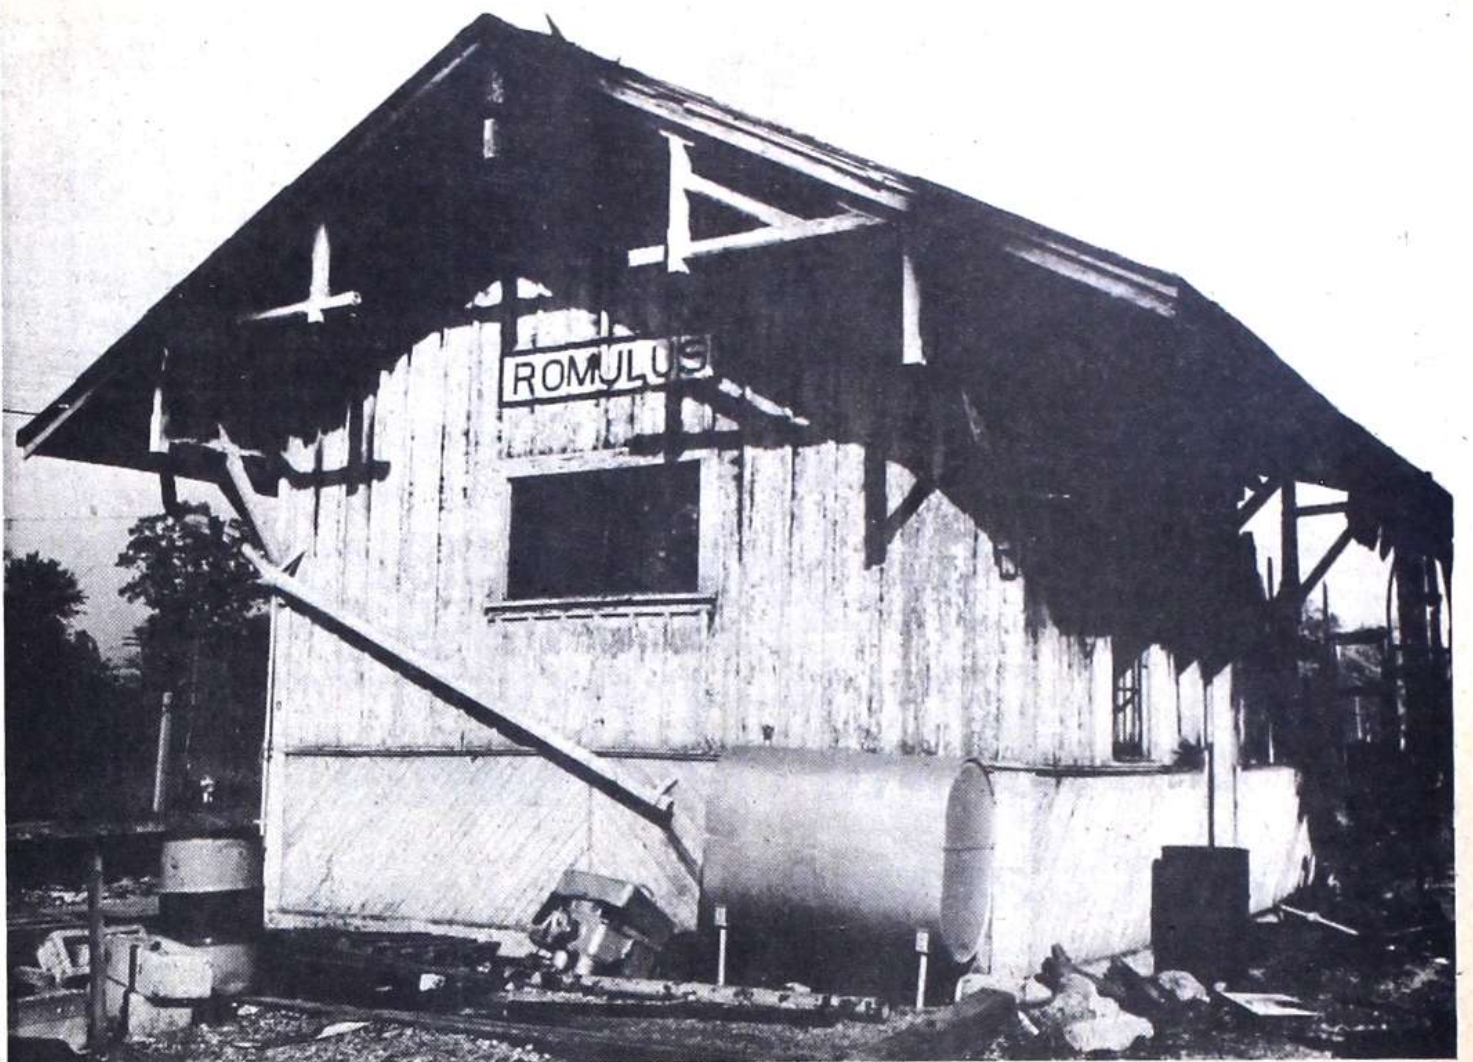

We emphasize that this group is interested in the political issues in our city, but will not be aligned with any person in office or seeking office. Whoever you vote for is your own business!

We would also like to sponsor social events that would bring the people together for fun and possibly raise money for expenses. We have had speakers on issues concerning the citizens of our city and will continue to seek out persons who are qualified to speak on issues that concern the residents of Romulus.

We would also like to inform members of the action taken at public meetings in a newsletter.

All regular meetings are scheduled to be held on the fourth Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m., in the meeting room of City Hall.

If you wish information, please contact any officer of the membership chairman, or Midge Prybyla at 941-2356, Grace Boc at 941-3891 or Temporary Chairman Dick Campbell at 941-0218.

Long-time residents of Romulus were saddened by the recent fire which destroyed the historic train depot near the corner of Goddard and Shook roads. Built around the turn of the century, the well-known landmark was a sentimental favorite of nostalgia buffs. "Many Romulus residents had a sentimental attachment to the historic train depot," said Romulus Fire Chief John Wilhide. Although the cause of the fire is undetermined, Wilhide said that faulty wiring may have played a part in the blaze. The fire chief also reported that a rash of approximately 50 fires have been reported in Romulus in the past two or three weeks. The top picture shows the west end of the depot, which was the only part still standing, and the name "Romulus" slightly singed but still heralding the location of the building. The depot was owned by Norfolk and Western Railroad which leased out part of it to Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad. A steel safe kept vital records of C & O safe from the 2-hour fire. These graphic photos tell the story of the fire that caused Romulus to lose a vital portion of its historical past. — Photos by ANP Chief Photographer Lothar Komietzko.

Schools' advisory panel releases in-depth report

For the past six weeks, an 11-member Citizen's Advisory Committee has been meeting with parents, school administrators and the school board in an effort to get an in-depth report to Romulus citizens for the Nov. 8 millage election.

Approved by the school board, the advisory committee was chaired by Doug Baum and has released its report.

Following is the committee's report exactly as it was given to The Romulus Roman:

"At a special Board of Education Meeting held on Sept. 15, 1977, at the Romulus High School Auditorium, the board officially approved an eleven (11) member "fact-finding" committee.

The committee of Romulus residents, known as the Advisory Committee, founded by Doug Baum, was to study the financial conditions of our schools and relate the information to the general citizenry of our city.

ROMULUS CITIZENS ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Doug Baum, chairman, Effie Beenum, Bob Daniels (In-active due to illness), Dann Doss, Jess Kitchens, Dave Rokotz, Virgil Smith, Cyril Bird, Noreen DePalma, Ellen Grishaber, Sandra Langley and Lynn Slaughter.

FINDINGS

After full review of budgets and audits of the Romulus Community Schools for the years 1975-1976, 1976-1977 and 1977-1978, the Advisory Committee finds:

(1.) That the Romulus Community Schools do need the 8.5 mills for five (5) years to operate our school's.

Vote by the Committee was as follows: 8 yes, 2 no and 1 abstention.

(2.) That the Romulus Community Schools do need the 8.5 mills for five years to operate our school's for the following reasons:

- (a.) To continue the present educational programs at five (5) hours per day.
- (b.) To reinstate full bussing.
- (c.) To reinstate athletics, music and art programs as soon as possible.
- (d.) To prevent further cuts in school programs and services.

3. The reason behind the "no" vote for the millage is:

- (a.) The millage is needed at the present time, but will it be needed in three, four, or five years after the city's reassessment program.
- (b.) Our student enrollment is below capacity as to the number of schools we are operating.

(4.) After many hours of discussion and fact finding, we have found no discrepancies in the spending of school funds by the Board of Education or the administration.

(5.) The Board of Education members receive no financial compensation other than reimbursement for attending out of town conferences.

(6.) That the Administration and Board of Education made a wise decision in hiring the Manpower Optimization Program (MOP). The initial $38,000 that it cost already has saved taxpayer's over $100,000 in the first year, let alone the many thousands it will save in the future.

(7.) That we the Advisory Committee appreciate the many hours and the full cooperation extended to us by James M. Garfield, Marvin P. Fischer, Thomas M. Janack and the members of the Board of Education.

Our Committee met 10 times which involved approximately 34 hours of investigation.

RECOMMENDATIONS

After a review of our findings, the committee recommends:

(1.) Reinstatement of full bussing, if, and when, the millage passes on Nov. 8, 1977, as first priority.

(2.) That three (3) elementary schools and one (1) junior high school be closed regardless of the outcome of the millage.

(3.) That the Board of Education check into the inadequacies and discrepancies at the various schools.

(4.) If the 8.5 mills passes, the Board of Education should re-evaluate the school millage program in two (2) years. If a portion of the millage is not needed, then it should not be levied.

(5.) The Board of Education should consider looking into ways to reduce loans where only interest is being paid at the present time, with nothing being paid on the principle.

(6.) We recommend that the Board of Education institute a permanent Citizen's Advisory Council representing a cross-section of our city as well as students from the Romulus Senior High School, to work in conjunction with the Board of Education and Administration and the faculty at the various schools.

The purpose of this would be to keep the general citizenry of our community informed of all aspects of the educational process.

In Brief

Carriers fly high

About two dozen prize-winning carriers from the Associated Newspapers took to the air Saturday morning from the airport at National Flying Service on Ford Road near John Hix Road in Westland. They came from Wayne, Westland, Canton, Inkster and Romulus.

Unfortunately, the weather was overcast with a ceiling of only 500 feet, but it did not dampen the spirits of the carriers.

The glowing looks on the faces of the carriers when they got off the plane after their flight revealed the excitement and thrill they enjoyed. To many, it was their first time at being off the ground.

Many parents were on hand to see their sons or daughters take off. Top honors are due to Ken Foss, a Romulus Roman carrier who lives in the vicinity of Ecorse and Middlebelt roads. He pedaled his bicycle 10 miles one way — a total of 20 miles — to enjoy his first flight.

The pilot was Don Yordy, who has more than 3,000 hours of flying time. Host was Art Sandstedt of Associated Newspapers. Arrangements were made through Chuck Spicer of National Flying Service.

Do you have your shots?

An immunization clinic will be held at the PCHA Annapolis Hospital in the City of Wayne on Saturday.

The clinic will begin at 9 a.m. and will run through 3 p.m.

There will be no charge for the immunizations. The clinic is being offered by Annapolis Hospital as a community service.

School-aged children will be able to receive immunizations for diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, polio, measles, mumps and Rubella.

The hospital administration emphasized that all area children are welcome to avail themselves of this free service.

Candidates say no to full-time council

In last week's Romulus Roman, the following question was asked of the 14 candidates running for City Council and two candidates running for Mayor of Romulus in the Nov. 8 general election:

"Do you feel that City Council seats should remain part-time or should be made into full-time positions with proportionately larger salaries?"

The candidates who responded were:

MARY ANN BANKS (Council) — "I feel the City Council should remain a part-time position for a city our size."

"Presently the City Council meets three times a month and other times when necessary. I support this position."

JIMMIE C. RASPBERRY (Council) — "Yes, I think the City Council office should remain part-time."

"I also believe that the responsibility of the City Council is full-time. It is noteworthy to say that since July, the deadline for acceptance of petitions, very few candidates for office have been present at Council meetings."

"What preparations have you made for holding public office, like attending council meetings, reading the City Charter and attending other vital meetings?"

BROOKER EDWARDS (Council) — "I don't think the City of Romulus, with 25,000 population, could afford the extra expense of seven full-time council members."

"The salary required to attract qualified leaders would have to be proportionate to private industry at a minimum of $15,000 per year."

I believe the city can prosper and get the job done with hard-working, conscientious, experienced, part-time council members.

RAY CANTRELL (Council) — "No, I feel at this time our city does not have the population or the revenues to justify a full-time council."

"If the individuals elected to the council positions would do their jobs to the best of their ability and for the good of the community, there would never be a need for a full-time council."

BILL OAKLEY (Mayor) — "I believe city council positions should remain part-time, with the incentive for service being the general welfare of the city."

As full-time mayor, I will insure that the part-time council members have all the information they need, when they need it, to make responsible and reasoned decisions for the good of the city."

Carrier of the week

Dan Smith

About nine months ago 12-year-old Danny Smith needed something to do and he needed some money, so he turned to Associated Newspapers, where he became one of the paper's many news carriers. The son of 18th District Court Judge and Mrs. Thomas Smith of Steinhauer, Westland, Dan's interests include football, basketball and baseball. He's a seventh grader at Titus School.

Faust to seek amendment to change appointments

Senate Majority Leader William Faust (D-Westland) has introduced a joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to change the way in which gubernatorial appointments take effect.

The change proposed by Faust would require that appointments be specifically approved by a majority vote of the Senate before they can take effect. The state constitution now stipulates that appointments, made with the advice and consent of the Senate, automatically take effect unless they are specifically disapproved by a majority vote within 60 days of the date of the appointment.

"The change I am proposing would be an improvement over the present procedure for reviewing appointees as it calls for direct input and examination by the Senate before the appointment can take effect," Faust said. "This, I believe, will result in the appointment of the best qualified individual and will more fully realize the constitutional goal of the Senate playing an active role in advising on appointments."

Faust also pointed out that this proposed change is in keeping with the philosophy underlying the recent legislative override of the Governor's veto of the administrative rules bill.

"The effect of that override,"

Faust said, "was to implement a bill requiring proposed administrative rules to be approved by the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules before they can be put into effect by state agencies."

"This too serves the objectives of good government by providing for a thorough review of any proposed rules by the elected representatives of the people."

If the Faust resolution is approved by the Legislature, the proposed constitutional amendment could be placed before Michigan voters in the 1978 election. Approval of the governor is not required to place the question on the ballot.

FIGHT INFLATION!

Non-phosphate detergents shouldn't affect wash result

With the recent change from phosphate to non-phosphate detergents in Michigan, consumers laundering with soft water should not notice any change in their wash, a Department of Natural Resources spokesman said.

But consumers using hard water, and the same brand of detergent as before, may encounter problems in getting soil out and preventing dinginess and deposits. Those problems depend on the hardness of the water and the amount of soil in the clothes.

The state ban on laundry detergents containing more than one-half of one percent phosphates went into effect Oct. 1. The Natural Resources Commission implemented the ban because phosphate accelerates the growth of algae in lakes and streams, hastening their aging.

In order to help consumers avoid laundry problems, the DNR offers these tips:

— Soak or rinse very dirty clothes with a laundry detergent or presoak product, or rub the soiled area with soap or detergent before adding the clothing to your wash.

— Sort clothes to avoid washing white and colored items together, or very dirty with less dirty items.

— Use hot or warm water. Soak items that are stained with blood, perspiration, or food, in cool water.

— Dissolve the detergent in your wash water before adding clothes. If a packaged water softener is used, add clothes before adding detergent.

— Use more detergent than recommended, if your water is hard or if you wash your clothes in cold water.

— Extra detergent will help remove additional soil in polyester or durable press cotton, especially, if you use a gentle cycle.

— Do not overload your washer.

INDEPENDENT AND PROUD

"As an independent Councilman I will be better able to represent all the people all the time."
"I pledge the same honest, hard-working effort that I've demonstrated in the past."

I am writing to each concerned family of Romulus to hopefully gain their support, not only for myself but for others. Shortly, Romulus will be involved in what could possibly be the most important city election ever — and that means much to your family's future.

As most of you know, I do not loan my support easily. But at this point I am concerned that certain candidates receive your support. Independent Council candidates Mary Ann Banks, Ray Cantrell, David Ferdon, Jimmie Rasperry, Junior Block, Gerry Canejo and Brooker Edwards are a source of talent that our city needs.

I believe these people would do a good job and they need your support and vote in the coming No. 8 general election. These people represent a group of "Independents", a type of candidate our city cannot afford to lose.

An independent candidate is an "individual" who's willing to be judged on his own merits.

Team or slate members have a tendency to become conformists. I believe teamwork begins after you're elected, not before. Therefore, I urge you to support the Independent Candidates and I feel it will be a wise investment of your vote.

Sincerely,
Robert H. Martin

SEMTA chief asks for transportation funds

Enactment would avoid statewide crisis

Larry E. Salci, General Manager of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA), is urging Gov. Milliken and state legislative leaders to enact an earlier announced total transportation package before Christmas to avert a statewide financial crisis.

The proposed bills, announced Sept. 1, contain provisions to raise new money for transportation, as well as the restructuring of the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation.

"We're facing a very crucial situation," Salci said. "SEMTA has been forced to use local tax money, which had been earmarked for major capital expansion, for operating purposes, and we're extremely concerned about this."

"The money raised by the proposed transportation package are needed to meet our capital and operating needs for the next two to three years. Failure by the legislature to act, jeopardizes our long-term and short-term programs."

"Our budget for 1978 would be totally out of balance without the use of those vehicle weight and vehicle transfer taxes which recently went into effect in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties," he added.

The problem which transit operators face is intensified because the Michigan Supreme Court has not yet ruled on the validity of using gas tax money to repay bonds authorized to be sold by the legislature last year. Those bonds were earmarked for the purchase of buses and other necessary capital equipment, but they can't be sold without a court opinion.

The proposed transportation package calls for an additional 2 cents per gallon gasoline tax as well as a 30 to 35 percent increase in license plate fees. These tax increases will yield $145.6 million annually.

Additionally, the package proposes that 1 percent of the existing state income tax be earmarked for transportation purposes, raising another $42 million annually. About $187 million would be raised through this package with $59 million of it for all state administered programs, including state highways, passenger and freight rail, airports, ports and all urban and rural programs (bus and rail). The rest of the money would be allocated to county roads, city streets and the State Police.

The restructuring of state transportation programs includes proposed constitutional amendments which will:

- (1) change the name of the Highway Commission to the Transportation Commission;
- (2) expand the commission membership from four to six;
- (3) give the governor the power to appoint the department director with the advice and consent of the Senate; and
- (4) delete the requirement that the Department Director be a qualified highway engineer.

On Sept. 1, Gov. Milliken attended a meeting of a specially created legislative committee at which all of the interest groups were present and urged quick action on the above listed proposals. The Governor indicated his belief that the proposals are a reasonable compromise between the differing points of view and represent the best possible transportation package that can be enacted. He emphasized the importance of passing some law this year to avoid conflict with the 1978 elections.

"But today is Oct. 20, and there still is no action on the package," Salci said. "The clock is running out. There has not even been a budget adopted for the state's fiscal year which began Oct. 1, although it is my understanding that a 4-month budget bill may become law this week."

"We call upon Gov. Milliken and legislative leaders to take immediate action on the package and urge other groups, particularly those representing road and highway interests to join with us in achieving action before Christmas," Salci urged.

Non-immunized students will be sent home Nov. 7

If your child is among the 2,000 children thus far identified by the Wayne County Health Department as not having all his shots you can expect that the school will send the child home on Nov. 7.

Dr. Perry Stearns, director of the Wayne County Health Department, indicated that most of the 38 individual school districts in Wayne County — excluding Detroit — have been extremely cooperative thus far in the county's attempt to enforce the mandatory school immunization law.

More than 4,000 letters warning of possible exclusion were sent to parents earlier this month based on school immunization records of new school enterers," said Dr. Stearns. "It looks now as if at least half of these children were immunized and letters were sent simply because parents haven't kept the schools up to date on the immunization progress of their children," but this means there may be at least 2,000 kids out there who still are unprotected from many serious childhood diseases."

'...at least 2,000 kids...who are unprotected...'

Free Health Department immunization clinics have seen large increases of school age children during the last two weeks. Parents are urged not to wait until the last minute to bring their children to these clinics in order to avoid long waiting periods.

Four local hospitals have volunteered their resources to hold special free immunization clinics.

The hospital and Health Department clinic schedules are:
— In Wayne and Westland, the Wayne County Health Department,

Merriman Road north of Michigan Avenue, 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 3:30 p.m. weekdays, as well as 4 to 7:30 p.m. Nov. 9. Call 274-2800 or 729-2211 for further information.

— In Wayne, Annapolis Hospital, 33155 Annapolis Avenue, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday. Call 722-4400 for information.

— In Taylor, South Health Center, 21201 Eureka Road, 9 to 11 a.m., 1 to 4 p.m. and 5 to 7:30 p.m. Nov. 8. Call 287-2400 for information.

— In Rockwood, Rockwood Congregational Church, Wood Street north of Huron River Drive, 9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m. Nov. 9. Call 729-2211.

Any Child attending the clinic must be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian. The accompanying parent must sign a consent form at the time of immunization. Parents should bring up-to-date records with them to the clinic.

For further information call 728-2211 or 274-2800 weekdays between 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Harold Rediske

"What should I look for in a nursing home?"

People often tell us about their experiences with nursing homes. We have some very fine ones in our city and these are just some of the things to look for in choosing a nursing home.

1. Consult first with your doctor as to the particular type and amount of care required.
2. Visit the facility yourself, alone.
3. Does the home provide all the services your doctor requires?
4. If the patient is dependent on Medicare or Medicaid, does the nursing home participate in both programs?
5. Obtain and read the "patient's Bill of Rights." This is posted conspicuously and it gives the regulations necessary to be certified for Medicare and Medicaid.
6. Who is the "house" doctor? Is he available on staff or on-call 24-hours? How many registered nurses?
7. Are emergency patient transfers to a hospital provided for? How far away is it?
8. What is the exact total monthly covered and what is and is NOT covered? Is a written basic service agreement available?

Be sure to discuss with the patient's doctor other special services he may require — special diet, exercise, personal attention, etc.

TODAY'S Real Estate

by M. Phyllis Crabtree

The American Revolution momentarily halted land speculation activity in the colonies. During the war, however, seeds were sown for the frantic activity that would follow. As the costs of war mounted, the Continental Congress began assessing each of the states. The states, in turn, issued "debt certificates" and other "scrip" — most of which was worthless. When the scrip came due, the government solved its problem by selling off portions of new land holdings to entrepreneurs. The proceeds were used to retire the war debt.

ANP endorses Oakley, Folmar, and Gallien

The Romulus Roman considers it an important responsibility to the community to recommend candidates for election to the various offices that voters must fill every two years.

The Roman accepts this responsibility, but does not take it lightly.

Because the staff of the Roman covers the news events that occur daily, and in that regard have frequent dealings with Romulus elected officials, we feel that maybe we have an edge when it comes to evaluating the performance of officials throughout the year. We do not intend to imply that ours is the only opinion, indeed we provide our endorsements of candidates only for your consideration. You must be the final judge of the relative merits of those men and women who now seek your support.

respected, we feel that Mrs. Gallien will have to make her presentations a little more "down to earth" when called upon by council members and others to do so.

One of her main jobs, as we see it, will be to help others understand financial situations which she grasps easily.

Mrs. Gallien will work with others and we feel she will bring stability and efficiency to the treasurer's office we like the integrity of men like Martin who vote their convictions without fear or favor and are willing to take the consequences.

Mary Ann Banks ✓

Mary Ann Banks is a fresh new face on the Romulus political horizon who appears to have the charisma so vitally necessary for political success today.

Mrs. Banks, in her first race for political office, swept to first place in the primary, finishing ahead of well-known incumbents in the process.

We like her appealing personality and sincere interest in the issues confronting Romulus. She ran as an independent and we feel that people voted for her in the primary on that basis.

It has come to our attention that Mrs. Banks has been wooed by various political factions since her startling first-place primary victory.

We hope she remains as she started out and it not influenced by those who would use her for political gain.

The other seven candidates for Romulus City Council are: Gerry Canejo, Mary Louise Carter, John R. Ryznar, Robert N. Knight, Edmund W. Bizek, Barry Baumann and David A. Ferdon.

There are many qualified candidates among this group and Romulus is indeed fortunate to have them willing to serve.

Gervazio Canejo

Canejo is currently mayor pro-tem and chairman of the council and would seem a likely choice to be endorsed.

However, we feel that Canejo has shown little leadership, and has been too indecisive to merit our endorsement. He is a likeable man with a good name and business in Romulus and has worked hard on council.

John R. Ryzner

Ryznar is to be commended for his desire to serve his city and perhaps he can find an avenue of service in other areas.

Mary Louise Carter

Mrs. Carter is a likeable and personable candidate. She possesses the necessary qualifications to serve on the council, but we feel she would do a much more effective job if she would shed the team image with which she has surrounded herself.

In short, a more independent position would enable her to better use her own potential rather than that of those who may want to prompt her.

Robert N. Knight

Knight, we feel, has much potential, but should gain experience before shooting for a position on the council.

Edmund W. Bizek

Bizek, a former Councilman, comes from a well-known political family in Romulus, and may someday fulfill his desire to serve his city.

Barry Baumann

Baumann is a young man with a lot of energy, but little experience. Perhaps he could best use this desire to work on other groups and committees in gaining further background to better qualify him for a council seat.

David J. Ferdon

Ferdon is a very bright candidate with a lot to offer the city of Romulus in many areas. His broad education should be put to use in other ways while he gains experience to later serve his city as a councilman.

For Mayor

William M. Oakley ✓

For the office of Mayor: The Romulus Roman endorses Bill Oakley for the office of mayor.

While Oakley, a seven year veteran of the city council, has not in the past provided the sort of visible leadership that we would have expected, he has shown a definite and sincere interest in improving his town. Additionally, Oakley has displayed the ability to conduct a campaign based on the issues as he sees them, and has refrained from the characteristic "mud slinging" associated with Romulus politics. We at the Roman feel that it is absolutely essential that the good image of Romulus be restored. Without that restoration, Romulus is doomed to wallow in a reputation of hosting only misfits and malcontents in public office.

As we see it, Oakley is the only man in the race who could possibly bring that new image to the city. Preferring to work behind the scenes, Oakley quietly moves to resolve problems that become "politically" unsolvable. He has consistently placed the best interest of the city before his own.

Bill Oakley brings to the campaign a breath of fresh air, and we think he could provide the same for the citizens of Romulus.

Terry L. Troutt

The second candidate for the office of mayor is Terry Troutt.

Troutt brings to this race for the mayor's office a long history of public service. From township supervisor to mayor and state senator, Troutt has seen it all. But we think that the "old firehorse" has answered the bell once too often.

Troutt did not choose to enter the race for the mayor's seat until Beverly McAnally withdrew. And then, once in the race, he proceeded to follow the old political campaign path that had been so successful for him in the past. But times have changed.

At a time when Romulus was desperately searching for a new image, Troutt and his campaign proceeded to raise new unrelated questions detrimental to the city's image. An image that had already driven prospective investors to other communities. At a time when the citizens of Romulus were pleading for an end to the Neanderthal politics of the past, Troutt and his team were developing bigger and better "dirty tricks", because after all, isn't that the way a campaign is supposed to be run?

We feel that Troutt has earned a pat on the back from the citizens of Romulus for his years of public service, but we do not feel that his election now would be beneficial for the city. Additionally, we feel that Troutt's lack of interest in the office of mayor, until MacAnally withdrew, indicates political expediency.

We prefer that the successful candidate for the mayor's office be someone who chose to run for the purpose of improving his city, not just because a friend withdrew from the race.

For Clerk

Leonard J. Folmar ✓

In the city clerk race, incumbent Leonard Folmar is being challenged by Gerald Kubiak, former director of Public safety.

For city clerk we endorse incumbent Leonard Folmar.

Folmar has served three consecutive terms as city clerk and is the only one Romulus has known in its seven years as a city.

An articulate, college-trained administrator, he is looked upon by many as the most talented elected official in the city of Romulus.

He has instituted punch-card absentee ballots in Romulus and has initiated other procedures which other cities have inquired about and asked his help.

Folmar's ability is probably best illustrated by the fact he was elected president of the Wayne County Municipal and Township Clerk's Association and was appointed to an advisory committee of the International Institute of Municipal Clerks.

Born and raised in Romulus, Folmar graduated from Romulus High School and came back home after college to serve his city. He probably could have a much larger income if he chose some other profession, but his loyalty to Romulus keeps him here serving his neighbors.

The only time Folmar has come under fire in his political career was when he had to use his city pension funds to repay personal debts. These debts were incurred in his personal dealings and were in no way connected to his duties as an elected public servant.

We feel a man of Folmar's overall political stature and extensive experience is vitally needed to help eradicate the negative criticism Romulus has been subjected to in the past.

We believe that a man of Folmar's caliber and well-rounded administrative background will be able to cooperate and work effectively with the incoming city administration to guide Romulus to a more promising future.

Gerald J. Kubiak

However, his opponent for Clerk, Kubiak, is a personable, hard-working man who has served the city well in his two-year stint as director of public safety.

Romulus is indeed fortunate to have two candidates of high caliber running for the clerk's office. Kubiak, a fine family man who has always vowed to keep his city above petty politics, has succeeded for the most part, despite those connected with him.

There's no doubt Kubiak could do a good job as city clerk once he learned the job. However, he is inexperienced and Romulus needs a steady hand in that position to help guide the city to its full potential.

For Treasurer

Helen M. Gallien ✓

We endorse Helen Gallien because a positive change is needed.

Mrs. Gallien will bring to the treasurer's position a very knowledgeable person who has not only a college background in finances, but also a 17-year tenure in the finance department in Romulus.

She has promised to try to cut expenses in the treasurer's office and use other cost-cutting measures to save taxpayers' dollars.

While she is highly-trusted and

John B. Lewkowicz

In the race for Treasurer, incumbent John B. Lewkowicz is being challenged by finance director Helen Gallien.

It's time petty politics and juvenile actions were removed from City Hall.

Lewkowicz hasn't been the most knowledgeable treasurer in his four years in that post, but he has tried hard and worked together with most people at City Hall.

However, of late he seems to find it harder and harder to get along with an increasing number of employees at city hall. His lack of knowledge concerning his position is compounded by his growing unwillingness to cooperate with others.

So it's time for a change.

For Council

For the seven council seats we endorse the following: Jimmie Raspberry, Beverly McAnally, Junior Block, Robert Martin, Mary Ann Banks, Ray Cantrell and Brooker Edwards.

Jimmie C. Raspberry ✓

Raspberry has served on the ruling body of Romulus for 18 of the past 20 years and has done a respectable, workman-like job.

He is truly concerned with the needs of Romulus citizens, especially the senior citizens and brings to the council post a compassionate concern for his fellow man.

Raspberry researches into questions and matters brought before the council and strives to find answers. We believe he will continue to be a steady influence on the group.

Some have a tendency to turn him off after awhile. But, all things considered, Raspberry will help the Council and is a fine representative of the black community in Romulus.

Beverly MacAnally ✓

Beverly McAnally is a hard-working Council member who has the city's best interest at heart.

We believe, however, that she would do an even more commendable job if she would put aside petty political considerations, and exercise the full range of capabilities at her command.

We would like to see Mrs. McAnally return to the more independent attitude and viewpoint she displayed in the early months of her political career.

A very knowledgeable person with the ability to grasp a situation quickly, she could be a very instrumental force in making the council into a cohesive and more productive group.

We feel if Mrs. McAnally would exercise her own abilities and potential, she could be a vital cog in the emergence of Romulus as a thriving, wholesome community where people would be proud to live.

Fred J. Block ✓

Junior Block has been on the City Council all of the seven years that Romulus has been a city.

A man who has lived in Romulus all his life, he knows how to labor hard with his hands and is vitally concerned with his city.

Some have mistaken his silence on the council at times to mean a lack of answers. But Block has learned the realities of politics and speaks when he feels the need to do so.

Although he may lack the eloquence and polish attributed to most politicians, we like Block's "hometown" flavor and down-to-earth honesty and concern for his city.

Not one to use fancy words, he gets his message across simply and directly.

Robert H. Martin ✓

Robert Martin is similar to Block in many cases.

A hard-working man who has a local business, Martin can be depended upon to keep the city's best interests at heart. He has seen both sides of the political fence and has chosen to walk the independent path.

Behind his quiet demeanor lies an astute ability to size up a situation, although it may take him a little longer than most.

Some who have appeared before council on business, say Martin has difficulty understanding an issue unless it's spelled out clearly and simply.

This may be true in some instances. But,

Roman supports following candidates:

An editorial opinion

ANP endorses Carlson and Loria for council

Associated Newspapers, publisher of The Belleville Enterprise, feels it is the obligation of a responsible community newspaper to endorse candidates in local elections.

A newspaper generally has more contact with all candidates than the average citizen, both during an election campaign and throughout the year.

Therefore, we at Associated take our responsibility to endorse quite seriously.

There are three candidates running for the two four-year terms on the Belleville City Council; incumbent Donald Carlson, Jack Loria and Michael Kohut.

After a personal interview with each candidate and evaluation of their attributes, we have decided to endorse Don Carlson and Jack Loria.

Following is an evaluation of the candidates, as we see them, and a brief explanation of the qualities that have determined our preferences.

Don Carlson impresses us as an intelligent and conscientious councilman who takes his job seriously. He is involved in many community activities and feels that "if you care for your city, you'll get involved".

A long-time resident of the area, Carlson is married and the father of two girls. His interest stems not only from being a resident, but a concerned father who wants to make Belleville a better place to live.

An intelligent man, (he's a graduate mechanical engineer who holds four patents) Carlson brings an inquiring, yet open mind to problems and challenges facing the city.

He fits in well with the other council members and works in cooperation with them.

The only danger, as we see it, is that the City Council may have a tendency to fall into a friendly little clique, or "men's club", which doesn't really challenge one another.

While cooperation is necessary for progress, Carlson will have to make every effort to help the council maintain a challenging, progressive posture in which each member can feel free to express a difference of opinion.

Jack Loria just missed being elected to City Council by 33 votes in 1975, and we feel he deserves a chance to show what he can do.

He has shown his willingness to work by serving on the city planning commission for two years and as a volunteer fire fighter for the past four years.

Being a 28-year resident of the area, Loria wants to improve Belleville and make it a nicer place for his children to grow up in. Married eight years, Loria is the father of two children.

He's interested in teenagers, as evidenced by his work with his church's youth group, and we believe he can help provide leadership on the council in that area.

If Loria is elected, we hope he maintains his inquisitive mind and eagerness to seek solutions to the problems confronting Belleville.

Once on the Council, there might be the tendency to "go along" with the older members, but we hope the 30-year-old Loria brings the vibrance of his youth to meet the challenges of the city.

Although we did not endorse Mike Kohut, we were impressed with his enthusiasm and boldness to speak up and ask questions.

He expressed a lot of good ideas and concepts that Belleville could use.

However, starting "at the top", that is, on the council, is not the best policy, we believe. Perhaps Kohut's vitality and inquisitive mind could be used on other committees or groups while he gains experience and maturity.

He said he wants Belleville to become a better place for everyone. It would be nice for him to settle down in Belleville and bring his numerous talents to the problems and challenges facing the city.

These are our impressions of the three candidates running for Belleville City Council in Tuesday's election. We don't claim that our choices are any "better" than yours. Our hope is that we have given you "food for thought" in our effort to assess these enterprising candidates.

Your vote is valuable and important. Be sure to use it next Tuesday.

Open forum School finance explained

What has happened to school finances? This is one explanation of the reason for Romulus Community Schools and many other systems to be in or near financial failure today.

Increasing the value of local property through reassessment or the addition of property to the tax rolls will not yield another cent to Romulus Schools. However, increasing the mills levied will increase school income. The reason for this lies in the State School Aid Formula, which establishes "guaranteed" operating dollars totaling an amount above our local tax collection. The difference we receive in "State Aid."

School income is provided by State and Federal agencies under categorical classifications, (Vocational Education, Transportation, Title Programs, Etc.). But let's look at our major source — the State "School Aid Formula." Three factors determine the "guaranteed" annual income of a school system. The first and most obvious is student enrollment. This figure, determined on the fourth Friday of the year, is one of three factors, which, when multiplied, determine the total money a school system is guaranteed by the State of Michigan.

The second factor is called "per student allotment" or the number of dollars per student that our system has to deal with. That multiplied times the number of students, and again multiplied times the third (and controversial) part of our formula is our "guaranteed" income.

The third factor is the local millage levy or "mills." This is the number in the school aid formula that has given local systems in Michigan added financial burden. The mills factor has been used to "equalize" funding. Schools must assess local tax payers the established rate to qualify for guaranteed income. It wasn't always so.

Romulus currently levys 27.65 mills for school operation. Today, that is multiplied times the enrollment, 6,259, then the pupil allotment, $40.00, to determine a portion of our guaranteed income. We could use 30 mills if we levied it, but we don't. That fact will cost us $588,346.00 in state aid this year. The sum above ($588,346.00) is derived by subtracting our levy from the equalization factor and multiplying that times $40.00 and the student count. (30 - 27.65 - 2.35 x $40.00 x 6,259 = $588,346.00) The second half of the 1977-1978 formula determines our total guarantee by multiplying $164.00 times student count. In effect, if we had a 30 mill operations levy in Romulus, we would realize $1,364.00 per student. By levying less than 30 mills, the State saves money and we penalize ourselves and our educational programs.

Comparing today's formula to another year shows that the change in the equalization factor or "mills per student" has placed the burden of supporting our school more and more into the pocket-books of the local taxpayers.

In 1973, the mills factor was equalized to 22 mills. When we levied 27.65 mills in 1973 we were financially healthy. The State guaranteed us funds equalized to 22 mills, however, the excess 5.65 mills were our show of support for education in Romulus. We, in effect did not have to operate at minimal levels. 5.65 was multiplied times our tax base to provide funds for the six hour day, extracurricular activities, and fine arts programs we had then. By raising the "equalization factor" from 22 in 1973, to 25 in 1974, to 27 in 1975, to 28 in 1976 and finally 30 in 1977, Romulus residents and industries have had to absorb the rising cost of education without an equal increase in State Aid.

Think about it . . .

Dave Ferdon

School millage needed

To the Editor:

I wish to speak for the 6258 children of the city of Romulus who cannot go the polls on November 8 to vote for their own educational needs, or, most assuredly, they would do so.

The millage need is great and the voters responsibility clear.

It is not important how we feel about our school board, our administrations, or even certain instructors, but more important that we give the children of this community that which is their right, a fine

Small sacrifice only

To the Editor:

During my 28-year tenure as a member of the Board of Education, I was privileged to share in the development of the fine programs offered over the years by the Romulus Community Schools.

The active support of the people of Romulus has permitted an outstanding staff to give our children excellent training in art, music, and physical and vocational education, in addition to the academic subjects, to enable them to pursue further education and to become independent, self-supporting adults.

I am distressed that these programs might become unavailable to future students and those still in school through lack of funds to continue them. Although the school district vigorously seeks out and makes full use of revenues from all sources, as evidenced by the schools built with the help of federal financing and the programs supported with federal and state funds, these resources are limited and in most cases can be used only for specific purposes. Increased local support is the only remaining hope for our boys and girls, who have the opportunity to pass through school just once.

On November 8, the citizens of Romulus will be asked to approve an 8.5 mill increase in the school tax rate to provide this added local support. They will make the determination as to whether our youngsters will receive the education that is their right or whether they will be crippled throughout life by an inadequate education.

If approved, the rate increase may mean some sacrifice for higher tax levies, but it will not mean hardship for anyone. The industrial and business establishments in the community will pay a large share of the bill. Senior citizens, through recent state legislation, will have full relief from the tax increase.

When weighed against the devastation of the educational program a rejection of the millage will cause, the cost of approval must not be counted.

This letter is a plea not only to the citizens of Romulus, but to all public officials and candidates for public office as well, to unite in the movement for adequate funds to continue for the children of this city, and, indeed, for all people of the community, the benefits only a well rounded education can provide.

'Witch Hunt for the sake of.....'

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

"Water, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink!"

The current turmoil surrounding charges, that one of the candidates for mayor of Romulus has not been faithfully paying his water bills, has brought the '77 election its second issue.

But witch hunts, for the sake of witch hunts, is a poor utilization of time that could be spent in a more productive enterprise.

When Troutt supporter Carole Bales, sought information from the city's water department concerning the amount of water that was being used and paid for by the other candidate for mayor, she apparently felt that the information forthcoming would be damning.

Well, that did not happen.

What Carole Bales succeeded in accomplishing was to provide new information about the habits and character of several of her friends, also supporting the candidacy of Troutt.

For example: As a direct result of Mrs. Bales' request for access to water billing information, and the ruling by the Circuit Court that the information was public record and consequently available to any citizen, it has been learned that Mrs. Bales herself has not paid a water bill since September of 1974.

She apparently preferred to have the charges for water and sewer added each year to her city taxes, and in 1976 she was assessed $94.01, and in 1977 assessed $181.86.

For the benefit of you citizens who have been paying your water and sewer bills promptly, we should explain that in the event that a resident of the city does not pay his or her water and sewer bills during the year, the city will add the amount owing to the resident's tax bill for the year.

And for some bright people, this means they may be able to hit Uncle Sam for the cost because city taxes are a deductible item on their 1040s.

In addition to Mrs. Bales' apparent tardiness in paying for her water, it was also learned that two other Troutt lieutenants have been practicing the same procedure.

Jack Trumble, editor of the Troutt monthly campaign newsletter, made his last water payment in February of 1975. Trumble had $102.85 added to his city taxes in 1976, and $267.41 in 1977.

Bob Plank, another Troutt stalwart, has also been lax in paying for water.

Plank made his last water and sewer payment in September of 1973, and for the next four years opted to have his bills added to his city taxes. In 1974, $147.84 was added to his tax bill, in 1975, $238.11 was added, in 1976, $151.24 was added and in 1977 $329.96 was added to Plank's taxes to cover his unpaid water and sewer bills.

So what, right?

Well, to me this appears to be the classic case of the 'pot calling the kettle black'.

Since Mrs. Bales has opened up the subject of unpaid water bills, I think it would now be appropriate for her, Trumble, and Plank to provide us with their assurance that those unpaid water bills that were added to their taxes, totaling $1,513.28, were not deducted from their 1040's along with their city taxes.

Your move, Mrs. Bales.

Negative school attitude hit

Letter to the Editor:

I have been most astonished in the past six weeks at the various negative attitudes of the community toward educating our young.

Many people I have come in contact with would rather see their children's education cut to 2½ hours a day rather than take away the convenience of transportation.

"There's an old saying, 'Where there's a will there's a way,'" and if parents would realistically face the situation, I believe they could find a cooperative way to transport their children to school.

Our school district was affected financially when the state took away the small business tax (personal property tax) and our schools lost upwards of $200,000.

There was a new million and half dollar increase for teachers and when many of our students left Romulus to attend schools in other districts, we lost over $400,000 in state aid.

With the loss of those students, we are faced with an even smaller enrollment, putting us way below capacity and causing the possible closing of additional Romulus schools.

A large percentage of senior citizens receive all or a portion of their taxes back and they still continue to vote against improving our inadequate school system. The last millage increase was passed in 1971.

During the past six years, school operating costs and employees' wages have skyrocketed. Therefore, to be realistic, the schools need more money to operate their system.

Without an adequate school system, you cannot have a progressive community. And if this trend continues, Romulus will be a low-income, government-subsidized city.

If the millage fails and we are forced to place students on 2½ hour days, juvenile delinquency is definitely bound to increase.

Also, if the state has to step in, and it looks likely that they may have to, the principal and interest on the state loan will cost us taxpayers far more than 8.5 mills for five years.

If only you could have sat through the hours of investigation with the Citizen's Advisory Committee as I have, I'm sure your thinking would be basically the same as mine.

I hope I have not offended anyone by my honest appraisal of the situation.

These thoughts have come from the bottom of my heart. My fellow citizens, the youth of our community is in "our" hands.

Douglas S. Baum, Chairman
Citizen's Advisory Committee

Oakbrook response to campaign letter

To the Editor:

The approval for the Oakbrook Townhouses construction was approved prior to 1968, while we were still under Township Government. This is a matter of record in the City of Romulus archives. The people named in this "newsletter" could not have possibly created "these problems" because they were not holding office and did not until we became a city in 1970.

For the purpose of information, Oakbrook is divided into 5 (five) groups, Oakbrook Subs 1 & 2, called Emerald Green; Oakbrook Subs 3 & 4, called Diamond Point, and Oakbrook 5 called Washington Park. In addition, there is the Oakbrook Plaza (the shopping center) and Oakwood Village which consists of the apartments-townhouses. These were all plotted and approved before Romulus became a City.

TROUTT TEAM RECORD IN OAKBROOK SUBDIVISION (in 1973): Prior to "The Troutt Team", there was a very active group in Romulus called "The Romulus Homeowners Association"; - 600 families strong, that fought and won the war against "shoddy building" and demanded the ouster of a former head of the Building Department.

These families came from Oakbrook, Windcliff, Huron Hills, and Huron River Estates the Meadows and Applewood subs, but we won even before we became a City.

How dare Troutt take credit for work, effort & negotiations with this same builder, that produced needed repairs, change in the building code which was incorporated into our City Building Code, "WE THE HOMEOWNERS FOUGHT OUR OWN BATTLE AND WON" without Troutt's help.

The so-called "Troutt Team" were not even involved in the battle. Mr. Knight was too busy delivering mail, Mr. Mahon gave token support, but Mrs. Slaughter & Mrs. Bales were not yet in residence, in Oakbrook, or any other subdivision in this City. Just ask them!

When Troutt was approached by the Romulus Homeowners Association for information and help, we were not too politely told he was involved in his own political campaign for the State Legislature against Rep. Ed Mahalk, so that he could go back to Lansing, and we should solve our own problems. "Nobody twisted your arm to sign your mortgage, don't cry to me. I have a campaign that needs my attention."

The record shows he was defeated (mainly in his own hometown), and for other offices he sought.

Troutt's record of attendance as a "voted-in public servant" has been less than his grandiose promises. For instance; as a member of the City Charter Commission, illness kept him from most of the crucial meetings. (Check the roll call for the Charter Commission Meetings & corresponding dates of his confinement at the U of M Hospital. Yet this man in poor health deemed it necessary to launch a campaign against our Cityhood!!!! (Was he well informed, if so, by whom????).

As Mayor, he was not accessible to the people. These responsibilities were delegated to political cronies and supporters. Meanwhile, Florida was lovely, while the heat was right here!

As Supervisor of Romulus Township, Troutt was very helpful in bringing the airlines into Wayne County Airport (presently known as "Detroit" Metropolitan Airport)!!!! Then, while serving as Mayor launched a campaign against his prodigy (the Airport) to halt its expansion?

If Troutt is as far-sighted as he claims, why the about face?

If Troutt was informed about the development of our subdivisions, why didn't he publicly vocalize his present objections, which were well published in our local paper and in public forums?

Troutt should be publicly challenged on these many of his former campaign promises that were unfulfilled, along with his very, very expensive taxpayer solutions to the real and imagined problems that Romulus faces because of his irresponsible statements!

Cougar's coaches thanked

To the Editor:

Since the Cougar football season is now coming to an end, a special thank-you should be extended to the freshmen coaches Sam Villa, Brian Frye, Tom Price and Mike Schrig for their time and dedication.

Belleville should be proud to have fathers who are willing to sacrifice many hours of their time to ensure that our children have an organized football team. "HATS OFF" to these men!

Class E licenses are delayed

By JANICE PLESIEWICZ
Nightbird KNN 5032

It looks like it could be a year or more before we will be able to be classified as Class E Citizens Band. Recently, the FCC announced that there would be no OK in the near future for Class E licensing.

It seems that the FCC hasn't made up its mind yet as to whether Class E CB will take place at 900

MHz or 220 MHz. It was conceded that 900 MHz would be an ideal spot for Class E, especially since the peak skip cycle is coming up in 1981. (Very rarely have signals been known to skip off the ionosphere above 30 MHz).

In case your wondering about what will happen to the 220 MHz frequency band, it's presently used by the amateur radio service, and it might not be a bad idea to allocate it to a communicator class. To qualify for the ham communicator license, with operating privileges on 220 MHz, a CBER would be required to pass a fairly simple technical quiz on amateur radio circuits, antennas and the rules regulating ham bands. It's not a bad idea. This could open the door to anyone that might be interested in entering the ranks of amateur radio operator.

More than likely it won't be until January 1978 before we hear any announcement from the FCC regarding their plans for Class E licensing. Even after the announcement is made it probably will be another year before the commission allows any operation on these two bands. If you are interested at all on this matter you can send for a set of papers entitled "Spectrum Alternatives for Personal Radio Service". Just write to Personal Planning Group, 1919 M St., Washington, D.C. 20554.

I recently received a letter from China Doll (channel 3) asking me to please print a poem that was written by the Westland Warloc. Since it seems fitting at this time of year I thought I would try it on you and see what you think. Here goes.

BREAKER - BREAK!

Breaker, Break you got a copy?
As you go through the channels, flippy floppy.
Radio check bring it back
This is the one "Happy Jack".
Skip-land, skip-land, is all you hear
Remember when the air waves were quiet and clear.
Wall to wall and tree top tall
Keying the mike, a real rat-chet jaw.
All you 10-36's take a standby
Cause tonight this radio is walking and talking, pushing that needle sky high.

Hey there beaver what's your 10-20?
Your voice sounds so sweet, just like honey.
Mercy sakes, oh good golly
Howdy, howdy to that Captain Jolly
Copying the mail and doing 10-5
Man this channel is really alive
All those snuff skeeters have the breaks stacked Going 10-7 to hit the sack.

Properly adjusted furnaces a can decrease fire hazards

The fall months bring cool weather, and our thoughts are directed to preparation for winter. Many home fires are caused by defective heating equipment.

Underwriters Laboratories (UL), a leader in fire safety, suggests that a properly maintained and well-adjusted furnace will decrease fire hazards and provide needed warmth during the cold winter ahead. Defective heating equipment can cause fire and asphyxiation.

The following rules are suggested by UL, done regularly to keep heating equipment in top running order:

- (1) Replace disposable-type air filters when dirty — look for UL Listing Mark on replacements. Permanent-type wash in mild soap and water eliminating dust.
- (2) Make certain the room thermostat is free of dust and correctly set.
- (3) Check warm air outlet registers and all air return openings, make sure they are not covered by rugs, drapes, curtains or other materials of this nature.
- (4) Keep furnace area clear of combustible materials.

- (5) Clean and inspect humidifier. UL recommends that a qualified serviceman make the following inspections and service at the start of every heating season:
 - (1) Rid combustion chamber and firebox area of accumulated scale, and inspect for cracks or openings in combustion chamber and heat exchange — looking for perforations which might leak combustion products into circulating air.
 - (2) Inspect flue pipe connections between furnace and chimney.
 - (3) Clean circulating air blower wheel.
 - (4) Inspect setting of fan switch. If adjustable, controls should be limited in accordance with manufacturer's recommendations.
 - (5) Lubricate all motors according to manufacturer's instructions.
 - (6) Inspect air blower belts — replace if worn.

In addition, UL recommends that these inspections and services be performed on oil burners:

- (1) Oil pumps, lines and fittings are to be free from oil leaks.
- (2) Check burner flame for proper pattern. Replace nozzle if necessary.

- (3) Clean and adjust ignition electrodes — replace if worn.
- (4) Clean combustion air blower wheel.

Start early to secure your home for a warm, fire safe winter.

House bills ease cost of transcripts

Two bills designed to save counties throughout the state an estimated three-quarters of a million dollars were overwhelmingly approved by the Michigan House of Representatives Oct. 14.

The bills, sponsored by Rep. Robert Law (R-Livonia), would amend the Criminal Procedure Code and the Revised Judicature Act to cut down on the number of transcripts automatically produced after a preliminary examination.

"Since a substantial number of cases never reach trial, these bills eliminate the mandatory preparation of transcripts of the preliminary examination," Law explained. "Normally, these transcripts are automatically forwarded to the Circuit Court. My bills would change the procedure so that transcripts would not be prepared unless a written demand is filed within two weeks of Circuit Court arraignment or by a motion."

"It has been estimated that some 12,000 unnecessary transcripts are produced each year, and the counties must bear the cost. My bills provide the mechanism to eliminate this costly and wasteful exercise," Law continued.

The two bills will now move to the Senate for final approval.

The bills have the support of the State Court Administrator's Office, the District Judges' Association, the Office of Criminal Justice Programs and the Michigan Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice.

Ayes: Stinehour, Carlson, Tontalo, Memering, Emerson.

Upon Motion by Councilman Carlson, seconded by Councilman Stinehour the following Ordinance was offered

CITY OF BELLEVILLE ORDINANCE NO. 77-177

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NO. 66-92 BEING AN ORDINANCE TO ADOPT BY REFERENCE THE NATIONAL ELECTRICAL CODE FOR SAFEGUARDING LIFE AND PROPERTY BY REGULATING AND PROVIDING FOR THE INSPECTION OF THE INSTALLATION AND MAINTENANCE OF ELECTRICAL WIRING, ELECTRICAL DEVICES AND ELECTRICAL MATERIAL; TO REGULATE AND PROVIDE FOR THE LICENSING AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS AND THE LICENSING OF JOURNEYMEN ELECTRICIANS IN THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE; TO PROVIDE A RECIPROCAL ARRANGEMENT FOR THE RECOGNITION OF EXAMINATIONS AND LICENSING ISSUED BY OTHER MUNICIPALITIES IN THE STATE OF MICHIGAN VOLUNTARILY COOPERATING IN THE ENFORCEMENT OF THIS ORDINANCE; TO PROVIDE A PENALTY FOR VIOLATIONS THEREOF AND TO REPEAL ALL OTHER ORDINANCES AND SECTIONS OF ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT THEREWITH OF THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE.

THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE ORDAINS:

Section 1. That Ordinance No. 66-92 entitled "City of Belleville Electrical Ordinance" be and the same is hereby amended by adding Section 4.2, which added section shall read as follows:

Section 4.2. Requirements in addition to and amendments to Electrical Code.

A. The following specific sections of the National Electrical Code adopted by reference are hereby changed, altered or amended as follows:

(1) Section 210-4, multiwire Branch Circuits is amended to read as follows:

(a) Branch circuits recognized by this Article shall be permitted as multiwire circuits. Multiwire branch circuits shall supply line to neutral load only.

Exception number 1: a multiwire branch circuit supplying a single appliance.

Exception number 2: where all ungrounded conductors of the multiwire branch circuit are opened simultaneously by the branch circuits over-current device.

(b) Circuit Interconnection. Neutral and ungrounded circuit conductors for two (2), three (3) or four (4) wire circuits shall originate at the same outlet or panel. Neutral and/or ungrounded conductors for circuits shall not be tapped from different locations in the wiring system.

(2) Section 210-22 (a), Motor-Operated and Combination Loads is amended to read as follows:

Where a circuit supplies only motor-operated loads, Article 430 shall apply. Where a circuit supplies only air conditioning and/or refrigerating equipment, Article 440 shall apply. Fixed appliances with motors larger than 1/4 HP rating shall be connected to circuits supplying motors only.

(3) Section 210-24, Branch Circuit Requirements - Summary is amended to read as follows:

The requirements for circuits having two or more outlets, other than the receptacle circuits of section 220-3 (b) as specifically provided for above are as summarized in Table 210-24. Branch circuits in dwelling type oc-cupancies shall not be connected to serve more than one dwelling unit.

(4) Section 210-25 (b), Dwelling Type Occupancies is amended to read as follows:

In every kitchen, family room, dining room, breakfast room, living room, parlor, library, den, sun room, recreation room, or similar rooms, receptacle outlets shall be installed so that no point along the floor line in any wall space is more than 6 feet, measured horizontally, from an outlet in that space, including any wall space 2 feet or more in width and the wall space occupied by sliding panels in the exterior walls. The wall space afforded by fixed room dividers, such as freestanding bar-type counters, shall be included in the 6 foot measurement.

In kitchen and dining areas a receptacle outlet shall be installed at each counter space wider than 12 inches. Counter top spaces separated by range tops, refrigerators, or sinks shall be considered as separate counter tops spaces. Receptacles rendered inaccessible by the installation of stationary appliances shall not be considered as these required outlets.

Receptacle outlets shall, in so far as practicable, be spaced equal distances apart. Receptacle outlets in floors shall not be counted as part of the required number of receptacle outlet unless located close to the wall.

At least one wall receptacle outlet shall be installed in the bathroom adjacent to the basin location.

For a one-family dwelling, at least one receptacle outlet shall be installed outdoors.

At least one receptacle outlet shall be installed in each basement and attached garage.

Laundry equipment duplex receptacle in dwelling type occupancies shall be mounted on the wall not higher than forty eight (48) inches above the floor within 6 feet of the intended location of the equipment. A laundry lift pump of less than one-sixth (1.6) HP shall be permitted to be connected to the laundry circuit.

At least one receptacle shall be installed for the laundry.

Exception number 1: In a dwelling unit that is an apartment or living area in a multi-family building where laundry facilities are provided on the premises that are available to all building occupants, a laundry receptacle shall not be required.

Exception number 2: In other than single-family dwellings where laundry facilities are not to be installed or permitted, a laundry receptacle shall not be required.

Exception number 3: A dwelling that is a unit in a hotel, motel, motor court, or motor hotel, a laundry receptacle shall not be required.

As used in this Section a "wall space" shall be considered a wall unbroken along the floor line by doorways, fireplaces, and similar openings. Each wall space two or more feet wide shall be treated individually and separately from other wall spaces within the room. A wall space shall be permitted to include two or more walls of a room (around corners) where unbroken at the floor line.

The purpose of this requirement is to minimize the use of cords across doorways, fireplaces, and similar openings.

The receptacle outlets required by this Section shall be in addition to any receptacle that is part of any lighting fixture or appliance, located within cabinets or cupboards, or located over 5 1/2 feet above the floor.

Lavatory: At least one duplex receptacle outlet shall be installed on the same wall as the wash basin or on a wall immediately adjacent to the wash basin. The receptacle shall not be more than four (4) feet from any wash basin and shall be installed not less than thirty (30) inches and not more than forty-eight (48) inches the floor and rates 15 amperes, 125 volts.

Halls, corridors, etc., multi-family dwellings shall have at least one receptacle outlet for each twenty-five (25) linear feet or major fraction of hall length.

Receptacle outlets located more than twenty-four (24) inches above the floor or more than twenty-four (24) inches above a fixed work surface they are intended to serve and pendant receptacle outlets are not to be counted as any of the receptacle outlets required by Section 210-25 (b) and (c) of the National Electrical Code except as provided for in lavatories.

Unfinished attic space in dwelling type occupancies adaptable for living is accessible by permanent stairs shall be provided with at least one receptacle outlet which shall be wired on an independent circuit of at least 15 ampere capacity.

(5) Section 210-25, Receptacles Outlets (in other than dwelling type occupancies), is amended to read as follows:

(a) Receptacle outlets shall be supplied by a circuit of minimum 20 ampere capacity in industrial plants, machine shops, service garages, gasoline stations or similar occupancies.

(b) Receptacle outlets in commercial buildings shall include not more than nine (9) on circuits of 20 ampere capacity and not more than six (6) on circuits of 15 ampere capacity.

(c) Receptacle outlets shall not be connected to circuits supplying general lighting including office portions of buildings.

(d) A readily accessible duplex receptacle, fed from any 115 volt receptacle circuit, shall be installed on the roof within twenty-five (25) feet of each roof top heating, air conditioning and refrigeration unit or any combination of these units.

(6) Section 210-26, Dwelling type occupancies, is amended to read as follows:

At least one wall switch controlled lighting outlet shall be installed in every habitable room; in hallways, stairways, and attached garages; and at outdoor entrances.

At least one lighting outlet shall be installed in an attic, underfloor space, utility room and basement where used for storage or containing equipment requiring servicing.

Wall switches located for convenience and readily accessible use shall be required for all ceiling lighting outlets, except closets, storage spaces and unfinished basements. Lighting outlets over sink and dinette portions of kitchens, in halls, vestibules and at outdoor entrances, shall not be combined in any manner and shall be switched separately. If more than one lighting outlet is installed in any one of these areas, such lighting outlets shall be permitted to be combined on a single switch.

Laundry lighting outlet in dwelling type occupancies shall be provided for use in the laundry area and shall be permitted to be connected to the same circuit which supplies the laundry equipment receptacle outlet.

Exception number 1: In habitable rooms, other than kitchens or bathrooms, one or more receptacles controlled by a wall switch shall be permitted in lieu of lighting outlets.

Exception number 2: In hallways, stairways, and at outer entrances remote, central, or automatic control of lighting shall be permitted.

(7) Section 210-26 (d), Basement Lighting, is amended to read as follows:

Basements in dwelling type occupancies shall be wired for a minimum of one lighting outlet in each 200 square feet of major fraction of area for use as general illumination. All enclosed areas that may be walked into such as toilet rooms, fruit storage rooms, utility rooms, excavated areas under porches, etc., shall be provided with at least one lighting outlet (except coal bins).

(8) Section 210-26 (e) Stairways and Hallways (in dwelling type occupancies), is amended to read as follows:

(1) Stairways shall be provided with a lighting outlet or outlets so placed that each stair section shall be adequately illuminated. Such lighting outlets for basement, second floor or attic stairs shall be located directly over stairway section or at head or foot of stairs. These lighting outlets shall not be counted as comprising any of the required lighting outlets for basement, attic rooms, etc.

(2) All stairway lighting outlets shall have multiple switch control at head and foot of stairway unless supplied by house meter and controlled by time clock or controls accessible to authorized persons only.

(3) Unless served from separate house meter, stairway lighting outlets shall be supplied from circuits of the dwelling units using the stairway.

(4) Hallway lighting. A minimum of one lighting outlet shall be installed for each twenty-five (25) feet or major fraction thereof.

(9) Section 210-28, Switches (in other than dwelling type occupancies), is amended to read as follows:

(a) Switches shall be installed to control general lighting outlets. These switches may be wall switches or disconnecting means incorporated in a readily accessible distribution on panel. Individual switches to control specific fixtures shall be permitted to be installed if desired.

A switch adjacent to entrances to all areas that may be walked into shall be provided to control a fixture or fixtures located so as to furnish sufficient illumination for persons to see their way into those areas.

(b) All stairway lighting outlets shall have multiple switch control at head and foot of stairway unless supplied by house meter and controlled by time clock or controls accessible to authorized persons only.

(10) Section 220-3 (e) Space Heating Equipment (other than electric heat), is amended to read as follows:

(1) At least one (1) individual branch circuit of not less than 15 ampere capacity shall be installed for the heating equipment.

(2) Only those motors which are an integral part of the heating equipment shall be permitted to be connected to the circuit required by (1).

(11) Section 230-72 (c), Location of Service Equipment and Distribution on Panels, is amended to read as follows:

On dwelling type occupancies, service equipment and distribution panels shall not be located in coal bins, bathrooms, lavatories or clothes closets. Where practicable, they shall be located in the basement, utility room or garage. In single and two-family dwellings, this equipment shall be at least four (4) feet from the floor and shall not be subject to mechanical injury or shall be provided with suitable protection. Sufficient clearance and accessibility shall be provided when installed near laundry trays, oil tanks, or other permanently installed obstructions.

(12) Section 334-13, Wiring in Attics, is amended to read as follows:

Non-metallic sheathed cable and armored cable installed in attics of dwelling type occupancies shall conform to Section 336-9 National Electrical Code except, if headroom in any portion of the attic is four (4) feet or over, wiring shall be installed as concealed wiring at least to the point where head room is reduced to three (3) feet. In liveable attics, or attics adaptable under the Building Code for future living, wiring shall be installed as concealed wiring at least to a point of one (1) foot clearance of roof rafters and attic floor joists.

(13) Section 336-3, Non-metallic Sheathed Cable; Uses permitted or not permitted, is amended to read as follows:

Type NM and Type NMC Cables shall be permitted to be used in one and two-family dwellings, or multi-family dwellings and other structures.

(a) Type NM. This type of non-metallic sheathed cable shall be permitted to be installed for both exposed and concealed work in normally dry locations. It shall be permissible to install or fish type NM cable in air void in masonry block or tile walls where such walls are not exposed or subject to excessive moisture or dampness.

Type NM cable shall not be installed where exposed to corrosive fumes or vapors; nor shall it be imbedded in masonry, concrete, fill or plaster; nor run in a shallow chase in masonry or concrete and covered with plaster or similar finish.

(b) Type NMC. Type NMC cable shall be permitted for both exposed and concealed work in dry, moist, damp, or corrosive locations, and in outside and inside walls of masonry block or tile.

(c) Uses Not Permitted for Either Type NM or NMC. Types NM and NMC cables shall not be used as: (1) service-entrance cable, (2) in commercial garages, (3) in theaters and similar locations, except as provided in Article 518, places of assembly, (4) in motion-picture studios, (5) in storage battery rooms, (6) in hoistways, (7) in any hazardous location, (8) embedded in poured cement, concrete or aggregate.

(14) Section 410-49, Lampholders, is amended to read as follows:

(a) Lampholders installed in wet or damp locations shall be of the weatherproof type.

(b) Porcelain or metal shell sockets used as cord pendant lighting outlets shall not be permitted within reach of grounded portion of buildings.

(15) Section 422-8 (d), Residential Food Waste Disposers, is amended to read as follows:

All such equipment and controls in dwelling type occupancies shall be provided with an independent disconnecting means within sight of the equipment and it shall be readily accessible. Food waste disposers of one-half house power or less shall be wired only with heavy duty 3-wire minimum No. 16 hard service cord and approved cap and three wire "U" slot grounding type receptacles. On new construction, a disconnect switch shall be mounted in the wall adjacent to the sink.

(16) Section 422-21(c), Space Heating Equipment (other than electrical heat), is amended to read as follows:

(1) A readily accessible disconnect switch shall be mounted on the exterior of the heating equipment or on a surface adjacent to the heating equipment.

(2) Heating equipment which is not readily accessible shall have an additional disconnect installed at the nearest readily accessible location.

(17) Section 517-63 (f), Circuits in Anesthetizing Locations, is amended to read as follows:

(1) General purpose lighting circuit connected to the normal grounded service shall be installed in each operating room. Exception: Where connected to any alternate source permitted in 700-6 which is separate from the source serving the emergency system.

(18) Section 620-73, Elevator Rooms, is amended to read as follows:

Elevator rooms shall be wired for at least one lighting outlet controlled by a wall switch, and one receptacle outlet.

(19) Section 725-18, Conductor Physical Protection, is amended to read as follows:

(a) Where damage to remote-control circuits of safety control equipment would introduce a hazard, as covered in Section 725-4, all conductors of such remote-control circuits shall be installed in rigid metal conduit, intermediate metal conduit, electrical metallic tubing, Type MI cable, Types ALS cable, Type CS cable or be otherwise suitably protected from physical damage.

(b) Low energy wiring. Remote control, signaling, and power limited circuits.

(1) Conductors shall run parallel to or through joists.

(2) Conductors shall run parallel to beams and/or pipes if within one (1) inch, or shall be run on sill plates.

(3) Low energy wiring shall comply with (1) and (2). Vertical drops of conductors to furnaces, heaters, etc. shall be mechanically protected by securing to gas or oil pipes or electrical raceways, or securing to ducts, frame structures or back boards, or installing in metallic or non-metallic raceways, or forming in spiral coils for vertical drops of eighteen (18) inches or less.

(20) Chapter 10, Minimum Standards for Existing Dwelling Units, is amended to read as follows:

1000-1 Inspection: If inspection reveals that the wiring system of an existing dwelling type occupancy is inadequate, or if certification as a habitable dwelling is requested, the following minimum requirements shall be complied with:

(a) Entrances and exits: Where two (2) or more entrances and/or exits exist, at least two (2) entrances and/or exits shall be illuminated by exterior lights. Lighting outlet shall be controlled by interior wall switches, located for convenient and readily accessible use.

(b) Living Room: Living room shall be provided with illumination. Lighting outlet shall be controlled by a wall switch, located for convenient and readily accessible use, one of the receptacle outlets controlled by a wall switch in lieu of ceiling lighting outlet is acceptable. Convenience duplex receptacle outlets shall be provided. Receptacle outlets shall be equally spaced around the room with at least one duplex receptacle outlet on each wall.

(c) Kitchen: Kitchen shall be provided with illumination. Lighting outlet shall be controlled by a wall switch located for convenient and readily accessible use.

A separate kitchen appliance circuit shall be provided supplying a minimum of three (3) grounding type duplex receptacle outlets. Two (2) of these receptacles shall be readily accessible for convenient use of portable appliances. New appliances circuits shall be twenty ampere capacity.

(d) Bathroom: Bathrooms shall be illuminated. Lighting outlets shall be controlled by a wall switch. A receptacle outlet separate from the light fixture, shall be provided and shall be located at least thirty (30) and not more than forty-eight (48) inches above the floor adjacent to the wash basin and not more than four (4) feet from the basin.

(e) All other Habitable rooms: Illumination for each inhabitable room shall be provided. Lighting outlet shall be controlled by a wall switch. Wall switches shall be located for convenient and readily accessible use. Convenience duplex receptacle outlets shall be provided a minimum of two (2) receptacle outlets equally spaced around the room. An additional receptacle outlet controlled by a wall switch is acceptable in lieu of a lighting outlet.

(f) Basement: Basement shall be wired for a minimum of one lighting outlet in each 200 square feet or major fraction of area for use as general illumination. All enclosed area that may be walked into, such as toilet rooms, fruit storage rooms, utility rooms, excavated areas under porches, etc. shall be provided with at least one lighting outlet (except coal bins).

Stairwell and laundry area lighting outlets shall not be counted as part of the required basement lighting outlets.

CITY OF ROMULUS CHAPTER VI, ARTICLE 4 (B)

AN ORDINANCE TO ADOPT BY REFERENCE THE NATIONAL ELECTRICAL CODE OF 1975.

SHORT TITLE: ELECTRICAL CODE
SECTION I. STATE OF PURPOSE

WHEREAS: Act No. 230 of the Public Acts of 1972 requires that the City of Romulus, prior to November 11, 1977, elect to follow one of the following options:

Option 1: The City may adopt a local ordinance to administer and enforce the Michigan Electrical Code in its area.

Option 2: The City may elect not to administer and enforce the Michigan Electrical Code. The county would then be responsible for the administration and enforcement of the Michigan Electrical Code in that municipality.

Option 3: The City may adopt a local ordinance to administer and enforce another nationally recognized model electrical code.

Option 4: Counties, cities, villages or townships may provide by agreement for joint enforcement.

and,
WHEREAS: The Reciprocal Electrical Council Advisory Committee did conduct a study of the foregoing options and recommends that the City of Romulus select Option 3, Adopt the 1975 National Electrical Code and adopt the 20 amendments to the National Electrical Code, as proposed by the State Electrical Administrative Board Ad Hoc Committee and amended by the Advisory Committee; and,

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus feels that same will be fair, comprehensive, and satisfactory as the Electrical Code for the City of Romulus; and,

WHEREAS: it is the intention of the City of Romulus in adopting the National Electrical Code of 1975 together with the 20 amendments to the N.E.C. as a means of insuring the public health, safety and general welfare of the residents of the City of Romulus in the practical safeguarding of persons and property from hazards arising from the use of electricity; and,

WHEREAS: It is the purpose of this code, in addition thereto, to control all matters regarding the use of electricity; except as such matters are otherwise provided for in other local ordinances or in the statutes of the State of Michigan.

SECTION II.

The National Electrical Code of 1975 as adopted by the National Fire Protection Association together with the 20 amendments to the National Electrical Code, as proposed by the State Electrical Administrative Board Ad Hoc Committee and amended by the Reciprocal Electrical Council Advisory Committee shall be and the same are hereby adopted by reference.

SECTION III. REPEAL OF PRIOR INCONSISTENT ORDINANCES

Any and all other ordinances of the City of Romulus currently in existence shall remain in full force and effect until the effective date of this Ordinance at which time each of said Ordinances insofar as any or all of said Ordinances are inconsistent with the provisions hereof, shall be and the same shall be, at said time, effectively repealed.

SECTION IV. SEVERABILITY

Should any section, clause or provision of this ordinance be declared by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of the Ordinance as a whole or any part thereof other than the section, clause or provision of this Ordinance as a whole or any part thereof other than the section, clause or provision of this Ordinance declared by such Court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid.

SECTION V. CONFLICTING PROVISIONS

All Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict with any of the provisions of this Ordinance, be and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION VI. EFFECTIVE DATE

This ordinance shall take effect immediately upon publication in the Official Newspaper.

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an ordinance adopted by the Romulus City Council at their regular meeting held on the 25th day of October, 1977.

Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk
City of Romulus

ATTEST: James C. Stewart, Mayor

Within forty-five (45) days after the publication of any ordinance duly passed by the Council, a petition may be presented to the Council protesting against such ordinance and shall be signed by not less than six (6 percent) percent of the registered electors registered at the last preceding election at which a Mayor of the City was elected. Said ordinance shall thereupon and thereby by suspended from operation and the Council shall immediately reconsider such Ordinance.

SUMPTER TOWNSHIP BOARD MINUTES

Regular Board Meeting October 25, 1977

Meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag at 8:05 p.m. Supervisor Demski presiding.

Roll Call found present: Supervisor Demski, Clerk Reeves, Treasurer Banotai and Trustees: Folks, Hall, Overman & Williams. Also present were Attorney Hess, Deputy Clerk Sienko and approximately fifteen citizens.

Motion by Reeves, supported by Williams to accept agenda. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Reeves, supported by Williams to accept Regular Board Meeting Minutes of October 11, 1977 as published. Motion carried unanimously.

Supervisor's Report: Read and filed letter from Brownstown Township regarding the endorsement of the MTA and the meeting to be held at 1 p.m. November 2, 1977 at Brownstown Township. Agenda items include election of officers, establishing dues and meeting dates, etc. Read letter from Representative Thomas H. Brown urging the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to continue operation of the Wayne County General Hospital psychiatric wing. Read letter from Chamber of Commerce regarding a meeting, subject of the meeting to be a study of Trucks on the Highways.

Reminded Senior Citizens of the Hobby Arts & Crafts Display at the East Eight Mile Armory on November 5, 1977. Also reminded the citizens of the Public Hearing October 26, 1977 at 7 p.m., at the UAW 735 Hall on Michigan Avenue for the purpose of airing their views on the conditions of the roads in Sumpter Township. Supervisor Demski also announced the Township is to receive $115,000 for another Rehabilitation Program. As information becomes available it will be in the newspaper and announced at Board Meetings. Read letter from Edgar L. Harris with regard to the meeting of the Wayne County Board of Health and the citizens of the Township that is to be held on Monday November 14, 1977 at 10 a.m. on the 13th floor of the City-County Building. Citizens will be allowed to discuss their problems relating to water, septic tanks and taxes. Their goal being governmental assistance. Supervisor Demski asked the Attorney to read a ruling that he had prepared on the conflict of interest with Trustee Overman, owner of Bill's Firestone, selling tires, accessories, etc. to the Township. Attorney explained that a resolution could be passed by two-thirds of the Board that they did not feel as if there was a conflict of interest as his prices are reasonable and competitive for the area.

Motion by Williams, supported by Hall, Board adopt resolution that Sumpter Township continue to purchase and is hereby authorized to purchase tires and accessories from Bill's Firestone so long as prices are reasonable and competitive for the area notwithstanding the fact that William Overman is a Township Trustee and has publicly disclosed that he is the sole owner of Bill's Firestone. Overman abstained. Motion carried.

Motion by Williams, supported by Overman to accept Supervisor's Report. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Banotai, supported by Reeves to pay Rehabilitation Program Statement, in the amount of $2,500.00, out of General Fund. Amount to be reimbursed by Rehabilitation Program. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Folks, supported by Williams to accept bid of Stan Januszyk, Contractor for the installation of a septic tank and field at Pole Barn. Motion carried unanimously.

Engineer's Report: Submitted plans & contracts to Supervisor for the present water phase. Explained the reason for the rate increase ordinance to the Board and citizens present. Motion by Reeves, supported by Folks to accept Engineer's Report. Motion carried unanimously. Motion by Williams, supported by Reeves to accept Treasurer's Report. Motion carried unanimously. Motion by Williams, supported by Folks to pay Joe Maytjka for 80 geese killed by dog or dogs unknown. Motion carried unanimously.

On the advice of Attorney Hess two prior claims for 1975 and 1976 cannot be honored as the County states they have to be presented within a reasonable time after the loss.

Motion by Hall, supported by Folks to raise Dog Wardens wages $32.00 per month, retroactive to April 1, 1977. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Banotai, supported by Reeves to approve transfer of Revenue Sharing Funds to reimburse the General Fund to cover Police and Auxiliary Police payroll ending 10-14-77, in the amount of $2,051.71, per receipt No. 3311. Withholdings included. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Banotai, supported by Williams to approve payment to Beri Klei, in the amount of $1,200.00 for architectural services. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Banotai, supported by Folks to approve transfer of $12,000.00 from Water Receiving to Water Operating & Maintenance Fund to pay approved bills. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Banotai to approve payment to Garrison & Co. in the amount of $24,169.47 for Building Construction, management fees and supervision. Motion withdrawn.

Motion by Banotai, supported by Folks to approve payment to Wayne County Water Commission the September 1977 Water Bill, in the amount of $5,664.27. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Banotai, supported by Folks to approve transfer to Water Savings Account, known as the Savings Deposit Receipt, the amount of $22,282.82, which represents the 6 mills collected in delinquent taxes during the months of May, May Land Sales, June and July 1977 by the County. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Banotai, supported by Folks to approve payment to Garrison & Co., in the amount of $24,169.47, for Building Construction, Management fees and Supervision. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Hall, supported by Overman to make recommendation to drop millage rate down to 5 mills on the 1978 tax roll. Support withdrawn. Motion failed. No support.

Motion by Folks, supported by Banotai to pay warrants. Motion carried unanimously.

Floor discussion - 10 minutes.

Motion by Hall, supported by Williams to adjourn. Meeting adjourned at 9:24 p.m.

Respectfully Submitted
James M. Reeves, Clerk

I, James M. Reeves, Clerk of Sumpter Township, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the minutes taken at a Regular Board Meeting held on October 25, 1977 at 23483 Sumpter Road, Belleville, Michigan 48111.

3A1. Motion by Oakley, supported by McAnally, to adopt Resolution 77-646.
RESOLUTION 77-646
WHEREAS: Act No. 198 of the Public Acts of 1974 is designed to provide a stimulus in the form of significant tax incentives to industry to renovate and/or expand aging plants and to build new plants in Michigan; and
WHEREAS: Under the provisions of the Act, a local governmental unit in which the total property tax levy is at least thirty (30) mills may establish property tax incentives to attract new plants to the area; and
WHEREAS: Said Act provides that a firm may apply for and be issued an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate which entitles the facility to exemption from ad valorem real and personal property taxes for a period of twelve (12) years. In lieu of the property tax, the firm will pay a specific tax known as the Industrial Facility Tax. The Industrial Facility Tax for a new plant in an industrial development district is determined by the ad valorem property tax lived by the municipality instead, however, of using the total mills levied, only the millage rate is applied; and
WHEREAS: Said Act provides that seventy-five (75 per cent) percent of the owners of property to be affected by any proposed industrial development district may apply to the local governmental unit for the establishment of an industrial development district; and
WHEREAS: Highland Construction Company, did on October 25, 1977 submit a request to the City of Romulus to establish an industrial development district, its description as follows:
The South 323.24 feet of Lots 7 to 17 inclusive, of the B & B Subdivision of part of the North 1/4 of the Northwest 1/4 of Section 13, Town 3 South, Range 9 East, according to the plat thereof as recorded in Liber 68, Page 7 of plats, Wayne County Records.
ALSO
A parcel of land in Section 13, Town 3 South, Range 9 East, described as: Beginning at a point on the West line of said Section 13 distant South 0 degrees 03 minutes 40 seconds East 665.07 feet from the Northwest corner of said Section 13; thence North 89 degrees 41 minutes 20 seconds East 1314.35 feet; thence South 0 degrees 06 minutes 00 seconds West 820.94 feet; thence South 89 degrees 48 minutes 30 seconds West 689.68 feet to a point. Thence South 0 degrees 07 minutes 00 seconds West parallel to Easterly line of said premises, a distance 161.62 feet to a point; thence South 89 degrees 48 minutes 30 seconds West to a point or the Westerly line of said Section 13; thence North 0 degrees 03 minutes 40 seconds West along the West line to point of beginning.
ALSO
A parcel of land in the South 3/4 of the Northeast 1/4 of the Northwest 1/4 of Section 13, Town 3 South, Range 9 East, Romulus Township (now City of Romulus), Wayne County, Michigan; described as commencing at the North 1/4 corner of said Section 13; thence S 00 degrees 03' 40" W. 346.04 ft. along the N. & S. 1/4 line; thence S. 89 degrees 34' 00" W. 43.00 ft. to the point of beginning; thence S. 00 degrees 03' 40" W. 992.89 ft. along the Westerly line of Harrison Rd. (86 ft. wd.); thence S. 89 degrees 40' 10" W. 1270.74 ft.; thence N. 00 degrees 07' 47" E. 990.77 ft.; thence N. 89 degrees 34' 24" E. 1269.57 ft. along the Southerly line of B & B Sub. (Recorded in Liber 68, Plats, Page 7 W.C.R.) to the point of beginning. Containing 28.920 acres. Subject to any incumbrance as may be disclosed by title search. and,
WHEREAS: The Highland Construction Company represents more than seventy five (75 per cent) percent of the property owners to be included in the aforementioned district as required by the provisions of Public Act 198; and
WHEREAS: Public Act 198 requires that a public hearing to be held to hear any objections to and all reasons for the establishment of such an industrial development district when a request is received by the local municipality for the establishment of such a district; and
WHEREAS: City Council of the City of Romulus is cognizant of the critical employment situation existing within its corporate limits compounded by an equally critical employment situation in the State and indeed the country; and

WHEREAS: The establishment of the requested industrial development district would go far to encourage the Highland Construction Company to continue with additional projects on this site resulting in additional jobs for the citizens of the City of Romulus, as well as, a substantial increase to the City's tax base.
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the City Council of the City of Romulus hold a Public Hearing on December 6, 1977, at 7:00 p.m. in the Romulus City Council Chambers, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan, to take testimony from any and all parties having objections to the establishment of the requested industrial development district and to take testimony from any and all parties having reason to support the establishment of the requested industrial development district.
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That copies of this resolution be forwarded to all property owners within the proposed boundaries of said industrial development district, to all units of government currently levying ad valorem tax on property included in the proposed industrial development district, and that a copy of this resolution together with a notice of public hearing be published at least once in the official newspaper of the City of Romulus not less than five (5) days proceeding the hearing.

Legislation enacted to save neighborhoods

Prohibits mortgage 'red lining'

Major legislation designed to save older and declining neighborhoods came a step closer to being enacted into law Oct. 20.

The legislation H.B. 4227, introduced by House Republican Floor Leader, William R. Bryant Jr., (R-Grosse Pointe Farms), which prohibits the practice of mortgage "redlining," was unanimously reported out of the Senate Committee on Corporations and Economic Development.

Bryant said he expects the Senate to complete action on the bill in the very near future and send it to Gov. Milliken for signature. The bill was passed by the House last June.

This legislation, Bryant explained, is one bill in a package of proposals which will enable the saving and rebuilding of neighborhoods.

It prohibits lending institutions from denying mortgages or home improvement loans, or making the terms of a loan less favorable on the basis of racial or ethnic characteristics or trends in a given neighborhood, or due to the age of the structure involved or other structures in the neighborhood.

The bill also requires lending institutions to make a full disclosure of loan denials and establishes a mechanism for local citizen mortgage review boards which will aid people in obtaining loans.

"This bill was reported out of the Senate committee without substantive amendments and with a commitment on the part of the Statewide Coalition on Redlining and lending institutions that no substantive amendments will be proposed on the Senate floor," Bryant said. "The Senate Committee and its chairman, Sen. Tony Derezinski are to be congratulated for their prompt and fair treatment of the bill."

Bryant's legislation was developed through extensive negotiations and compromise on the part of members of a special House subcommittee of the Urban Affairs Committee, chaired by Rep. Lynn Jondahl, the Statewide Coalition, and representatives of leading institutions.

"There is agreement by all parties involved and I am extremely gratified by the good faith shown by the banks and savings and loan institutions during the negotiations on this bill. They have expressed a strong willingness to cooperate in the effort to end redlining practices," Bryant said.

"The Statewide Coalition on Redlining, chaired by Detroit Councilwoman Erma Henderson, deserves a great deal of credit for its work in calling attention to this problem and working very hard on solutions to it," he added.

When this bill is signed into law Bryant said an excellent opportunity exists for neighborhood improvement groups to begin, or continue, their rebuilding efforts. While this bill takes a major step forward in solving the redlining problem, Bryant admitted that it is not the total answer.

"We still have to tackle the problem of insurance redlining and work in determining the causes and solutions to urban disinvestment. This whole issue is a very complex one, but one I feel the legislature is addressing one step at a time," he said. "With passage of this bill we will have taken two steps. We have already passed the bill to provide state assistance for home improvement grants and loans."

In the armed forces

Laurie serves on Eisenhower

Navy Airman Appren. Jan R. Laurie, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Laurie of Martinsville Road, Belleville, is serving as a crewmember aboard the Navy's newest aircraft carrier.

The USS Dwight D. Eisenhower was commissioned Oct. 18 at the Naval Station at Norfolk, Va.

Laurie is one of more than 3,300 officers and enlisted men assigned to the Eisenhower. With an overall length of 1,092 feet and a flight deck area covering 4½ acres, the Eisenhower can accommodate 100 tactical aircraft and approximately 2,800 personnel assigned to an attack wing along with her regular crew. The Eisenhower will be homeported in Norfolk, Va.

A 1970 graduate of Belleville High School, the airman joined the Navy in February 1977.

Also in the armed forces:

Pvt. David Jones Jr., 18, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Jones of Calumas Street, Romulus, recently completed the wire-guided missile system repair course at the U.S. Army Missile and Munitions Center and School at Redstone Arsenal Ala.

Students learned to inspect, test, and perform maintenance and repair on the TOW and DRAGON weapons systems and associated test equipment.

Pvt. Jones entered the Army last February.

Spec. 4 Lawrence A. Woodall, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Woodall, of Aston Drive, Romulus, recently participated with other American and allied troops in Exercise Reforger '77.

Some 12,000 U.S. based soldiers and more than 37,000 tons of equipment arrived in Europe in late August as the massive exercise got under way.

Reforger, conducted by NATO's Allied Command, Europe, emphasized the orderly disposition of forces and stressed deployment procedures and techniques.

Spec. Woodall is regularly assigned as a canvas repairman with the 71st Maintenance Battalion in Bamberg, Germany.

He entered the Army in June 1975. The specialist is a 1974 graduate of Romulus High School.

His wife, Denise, is with him in Germany.

Navy Electronics Tech. 3 c. Richard A. Browning, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Browning of Van Born Road, Romulus, recently returned to his ship's homeport of Mayport, Fla.

He is serving as a crewmember aboard the frigate USS Patterson. His ship spent nearly a year in the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard undergoing a routine overhaul and an extensive modernization of engineering and weapons systems. Additionally, a new surface-to-air missile system and communications system were installed. The Patterson is assigned as a unit of Destroyer Squadron 24 and is scheduled for extensive training during the next few months.

He joined the Navy in June 1975.

'Focal Point' to survey youth criminal penalties

Are the laws that require criminal penalties for children who run away from home useful or do they create bigger and different problems? This is one of the issues dealt with in a special 2-part edition of "Focal Point," Channel 56's own Tuesday night series of Detroit documentaries.

The two parts on

"Children's Rights" will be shown on Nov. 8 and Nov. 15 at 10:30 p.m. on Channel 56.

The show looks specifically at the recommendations of the Michigan Juvenile Justice Services Commission that could revolutionize this state's legal code for children. The proposal would remove criminal penalties for children who refuse to go to school and who run away from home.

Critics of the measure say that, if passed, it would make the State of Michigan a mecca for runaways and a magnet for child pornographers. They also claim that the ultimate effect would be to undermine parental authority in the home.

The supporters of the bill respond that the laws as they stand today don't inhibit the runaway problem; they just make it harder for the children to get the help they need. The backers of the bill also say if child pornography is the problem, then the state should crack down on the pornographers, not the children.

Fun Times are Under the Sun Times

ROBERT H. MARTIN SPEAKS OUT FOR HIMSELF RE-ELECT COUNCILMAN ROBERT H. MARTIN TO ROMULUS CITY COUNCIL

VOTE TUESDAY NOV. 8

VOTE TUESDAY NOV. 8

A VOTE FOR ROBERT H. MARTIN MEANS:

- Honesty comes first
- Electing a person who knows how to live within a budget in these times
- Selecting a man who is always available to listen to ideas, questions or problems (at 36110 Goddard Garage)
- A return of city government to independent thinking
- You want a person who has proven his honesty in his dealings with others

HERE ARE A FEW THOUGHTS FOR YOU TO CONSIDER:

- Bob Martin "can" work with whomever you choose for MAYOR, other candidates are too weak to function independently.
- Bob Martin is not a "rubber stamp" vote for every idea.
- Bob Martin speaks his own mind, he doesn't need others to hold him up. He's a man-not a parrot!!!!!!
- Bob Martin doesn't believe in political favors, that's why they call him an independent.
- Bob Martin doesn't 'change faces' just because he's running for office, that's why they call him HONEST.
- Bob Martin is responsible for all his literature, he doesn't have to buy a newspaper to see what he stands for from week to week.
- Bob Martin wants the power balanced between the Council and the MAYOR.

Each election time seems to spawn a rash of political smear-sheets which are totally negative in content and whose prime objective seems to be to discredit anyone not connected with their group.

I agree with the letter-carrier who recently said to us, "The only time that rotten paper comes out is at election time."

I hope the people of Romulus will not believe these misleading political smear-sheets that attempt to destroy a man and his family.

I urge the voters to research the candidates so they can make a more intelligent choice.

"Remember — posters are not necessarily the 'sign' of a qualified candidate."

After serving two years on Romulus City Council, I'm convinced the city could have accomplished much more if certain elected officials had not purposely obstructed progress because of their political allegiance.

I believe there are two prime examples of poor spending of taxpayers' money.

AIRPORT FOLLIES:

In my opinion, the lawsuit instituted by the previous Troutt Administration and School Board against Metropolitan Airport was senseless, ill-advised folly that has already cost the city taxpayers more than $60,000 and will cost them several thousand dollars more if it's continued.

The School Board has since dropped out of the lawsuit.

But if the city officials who wasted your tax dollars are re-elected, will they continue to spend your tax money recklessly on a lost cause?

Don't forget, it's not their money they're spending, it's YOURS!

COGSWELL PARK: If the Terry Troutt administration had done its "homework" with the residents of the Cogswell Park area, there wouldn't have been another $40,000 of taxpayers' money washed down the drain.

Vets to receive larger VA benefit checks

More than 2 1/4 million disabled veterans will receive larger Veterans Administration (VA) checks next month, reflecting a 6.6 percent increase in compensation payments, VA Administrator Max Cleland said.

The increase results from recent Congressional action signed into law by President Carter on Oct. 3.

In addition to 2,251,714 disabled veterans, Cleland said increased payments also will go to 246,800 widows and children of service personnel who died on active duty or veterans whose deaths were service-connected.

The compensation increases will total $358.4 million in fiscal 1978. The compensation rate was hiked a year ago, it was noted.

The new rates mean veterans will receive monthly checks ranging from $41 for those with a 10 percent disability to $754 for those 100 percent disabled. Additional monthly payments are made depending on the size of the veteran's family.

The basic rate of VA Dependency and Indemnity Compensation for widows and widowers of veterans under the new law will range from $277 to $708 monthly, based on the serviceman's or veteran's rank.

As with compensation, VA makes additional DIC payments according to the number of dependents.

Cleland said the legislation also eases qualifications for VA's so-called "wheelchair home" grants. This is a one-time payment of up to $25,000 to help certain disabled veterans confined to wheelchairs to buy, build or alter homes.

VA estimates some 690 veterans will be affected by the new provisions and that grants may total $17 million.

Cleland urged veterans or dependents with questions to contact the nearest Veterans Administration office.

VA telephone numbers are listed in the "U.S. Government" section of the directory or can be obtained from local operators.

CHAPTER VI , ARTICLE 4(B).1

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE 1975 EDITION OF THE NATIONAL ELECTRICAL CODE, WHICH IS THE ELECTRICAL CODE OF THE CITY OF ROMULUS

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus deems it in the best interest of the City and its citizens to amend the 1975 Edition of the National Electrical Code.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

SECTION I. SHORT TITLE: Amended Electrical Code

SECTION II. Section 210-4 is amended to read as follows:

210-4. Multiwire Branch Circuits

(a) Branch circuits recognized by this Article shall be permitted as multiwire circuits. Multiwire branch circuits shall supply line to neutral load only.

Exception No. 1: A multiwire branch circuit supplying a single appliance.

Exception No. 2: Where all ungrounded conductors of the multiwire branch circuit are opened simultaneously by the branch circuit over-current device.

(b) Circuit Interconnection. Neutral and ungrounded circuit conductors for two, three, or four wire circuits shall originate at the same outlet or panel. Neutral and/or ungrounded conductors for circuits shall not be tapped from different locations in the wiring system.

SECTION III Section 210-22 (a) is amended to read as follows:

210-22 (a) Motor-Operated and Combination Loads. Where a circuit supplies only motor operated loads, Article 430 shall apply. Where a circuit supplies only air conditioning and/or refrigerating equipment, Article 440 shall apply. Fixed appliances with motors larger than 1/2 HP rating shall be connected to circuits supplying motors only.

SECTION IV Section 210-24 is amended to read as follows:

210-24. Branch-Circuit Requirements - Summary. The requirements for circuits having two or more outlets, other than the receptacle circuits of section 220-3 (b) as specifically provided for above, are summarized in Table 210-24. Branch Circuits in dwelling type occupancies shall not be connected to serve more than one dwelling unit.

SECTION V Section 210-25 (b) is amended to read as follows:

210-25 (b) Dwelling-Type Occupancies. In every kitchen, family room, dining room, breakfast room, living room, parlor, library, den, sun room, bedroom, recreation room, or similar rooms, receptacle outlets shall be installed so that no point along the floor line in any wall space is more than 6 feet, measured horizontally, from an outlet in that space, including any wall space 2 feet or more in width and the wall space occupied by sliding panels in exterior walls. The wall space afforded by fixed room dividers, such as free-standing bar-type counters, shall be included in the 6 foot measurements.

In kitchen and dining areas a receptacle outlet shall be installed at each counter space wider than 12 inches. Counter top spaces separated by ranged tops, refrigerators, or sinks shall be considered as separate counter top spaces. Receptacles rendered inaccessible by the installation of stationary appliances shall not be considered as these required outlets.

Receptacle outlets shall, in so far as practicable, be spaced equal distances apart. Receptacle outlets in floors shall not be counted as part of the required number of receptacle outlets unless located close to the wall. At least one wall receptacle outlet shall be installed in the bathroom adjacent to the basin location.

For a one-family dwelling, at least one receptacle outlet shall be installed outdoors.

At least one receptacle outlet shall be installed in each basement and attached garage.

Laundry equipment duplex receptacle in dwelling type occupancies shall be mounted on the wall not higher than forty-eight (48) inches above the floor within 6 feet of the intended location of the equipment. A laundry lift pump of less than one-sixth (1-6) HP shall be permitted to be connected to the laundry circuit.

At least one receptacle outlet shall be installed for the laundry.

Exception No. 1: In a dwelling unit that is an apartment or living area in a multifamily building where laundry facilities are provided on the premises that are available to all building occupants, a laundry receptacle shall not be required.

Exception No. 2: In other than single-family dwellings where laundry facilities are not to be installed or permitted, a laundry receptacle shall not be required.

Exception No. 3: A dwelling that is a unit in a hotel, motel, motor court, or motor hotel, a laundry receptacle shall not be required.

As used in this Section a "wall space" shall be considered a wall unbroken along the floor line by doorways, fireplaces, and similar openings. Each wall space two or more feet wide shall be treated individually and separately from other wall spaces within the room. A wall space shall be permitted to include two or more walls of a room (around corners) where unbroken at the floor line.

The purpose of this requirement is to minimize the use of cords across doorways, fireplaces, and similar openings.

The receptacle outlets required by this Section shall be in addition to any receptacle that is part of any lighting fixture or appliance, located within cabinets or cupboards, or located over 5 1/2 feet above the floor.

Lavatory: At least one duplex receptacle outlet shall be installed on the same wall as the wash basin or on a wall immediately adjacent to the wash basin. The receptacle shall not be more than four (4) feet from any wash basin and shall be installed not less than thirty (30) inches and not more than forty-eight (48) inches above the floor and rated 15 amperes, 125 volts.

Halls, corridors, etc., multi-family dwellings shall have at least one receptacle outlet for each twenty-five (25) linear feet or major fraction of hall length.

Receptacle outlets located more than twenty-four (24) inches above the floor or more than twenty-four (24) inches above a fixed work surface they are intended to serve and pendant receptacle outlets are not to be counted as any of the receptacle outlets required by Section 210-25 (b) and (c) of the National Electrical Code except as provided for in lavatories.

Unfinished attic space in dwelling type occupancies adaptable for living which is accessible by permanent stairs shall be provided with at least one receptacle outlet which shall be wired on an independent circuit of at least 15 ampere capacity.

SECTION VI Section 210-25 (e) is added as follows:

210-25 (e) Receptacle Outlets (in other than dwelling type occupancies).

(a) Receptacle outlets shall be supplied by a circuit of minimum 20 ampere capacity in industrial plants, machine shops, service garages, gasoline stations or similar occupancies.

(b) Receptacle outlets in commercial buildings shall include not more than nine (9) on circuits of 20 ampere capacity and not more than six (6) on circuits of 15 ampere capacity.

(c) Receptacle outlets shall not be connected to circuits supplying general lighting including office portions of buildings.

(d) A readily accessible duplex receptacle, fed from any 115 volt receptacle circuit, shall be installed on the roof within twenty-five (25) feet of each roof top heating, air conditioning and refrigeration unit or any combination of these units.

SECTION VII Section 210-26 (a) is amended to read as follows:

210-26 (a) Dwelling Type Occupancies. At least one wall switch controlled lighting outlet shall be installed in every habitable room; in hallways, stairways, and attached garages; and at outdoor entrances.

At least one lighting outlet shall be installed in an attic, under-floor space, utility room and basement where used for storage or containing equipment requiring servicing.

Wall switches located for convenient and readily accessible use shall be required for all ceiling lighting outlets, except closets, storage spaces and unfinished basements. Lighting outlets over sink and dinette portions of kitchens, in halls, vestibule, and at outdoor entrances, shall not be combined in any manner and shall be switched separately. If more than one lighting outlet is installed in any one of these areas, such lighting outlets shall be permitted to be combined on a single switch.

Laundry lighting outlet in dwelling type occupancies shall be provided for use in the laundry area and shall be permitted to be connected to the same circuit which supplies the laundry equipment receptacle outlet.

Exception No. 1: In habitable rooms, other than kitchens or bathrooms, one or more receptacles controlled by a wall switch shall be permitted in lieu of lighting outlets.

Exception No. 2: In hallways, stairways, and at outdoor entrances remote, central, or automatic control of lighting shall be permitted.

SECTION VIII Section 210-26 (d) is added to read as follows:

210-26 (d) Basement Lighting. Basements in dwelling type occupancies shall be wired for a minimum of one lighting outlet in each 200 square feet or major fraction of area for use as general illumination. All enclosed areas that may be walked into such as toilet rooms, fruit storage rooms, utility rooms, excavated areas under porches, etc., shall be provided with at least one lighting outlet (except coal bins).

SECTION IX Section 210-26 (e) is added to read as follows:

210-26 (e) Stairways and Hallways (in dwelling type occupancies).

(1) Stairways shall be provided with a lighting outlet or outlets so placed that each stair section shall be adequately illuminated. Such lighting outlets for basements, second floor or attic stairs shall be located directly over stairway section or at head or foot of stairs. These lighting outlets shall not be counted as comprising any of the required lighting outlets for basement, attic rooms, etc.

(2) All stairway lighting outlets shall have multiple switch control at head and foot of stairway unless supplied by house meter and controlled by time clock or controls accessible to authorized persons only.

(3) Unless served from separate house meter, stairway lighting outlets shall be supplied from circuits of the dwelling units using the stairway.

(4) Hallway lighting. A minimum of one lighting outlet shall be installed for each twenty-five (25) feet or major fraction thereof.

SECTION X Section 210-28 is added to read as follows:

210-28. Switches (in other than dwelling type occupancies).

(a) Switches shall be installed to control general lighting outlets. These switches may be wall switches or disconnecting means incorporated in a readily accessible distribution panel. Individual switches to control specific fixtures shall be permitted to be installed if desired. A switch adjacent to entrances to all areas that may be walked into shall be provided to control a fixture or fixtures located so as to furnish sufficient illumination for persons to see their way into those areas.

(b) All stairway lighting outlets shall have multiple switch control at head and foot of stairway unless supplied by house meter and controlled by time clock or controls accessible to authorized persons only.

SECTION XI Section 220-3 (e) is added to read as follows:

220-3 (e) Space Heating Equipment (other than electric heat).

(1) At least one (1) individual branch circuit of not less than 15 ampere capacity shall be installed for the heating equipment.

(2) Only those motors which are an integral part of the heating equipment shall be permitted to be connected to the circuit required by (1).

SECTION XII Section 230-72 (c) is amended to include the following:

230-72 (c) Location of Service Equipment and Distribution Panels.

In dwelling type occupancies, service equipment and distribution panels shall not be located in coal bins, bathrooms, lavatories or clothes closets. Where practicable, they shall be located in the basement, utility room or garage. In single and two-family dwellings, this equipment shall be at least four (4) feet from the floor and shall not be subject to mechanical injury or shall be provided with suitable protection. Sufficient clearance and accessibility shall be provided when installed near laundry trays, oil tanks, or other permanently installed obstructions.

SECTION XIII Section 334-13 is amended to read as follows:

334-13 Wiring in attics. Non-metallic sheathed cable and armored cable installed in attics of dwelling type occupancies shall conform to Section 336-9 National Electrical Code except, if headroom in any portion of the attic is four (4) feet or over, wiring shall be installed as concealed wiring at least to the point where headroom is reduced to three (3) feet. In liveable attics, or attics adaptable under the Building Code for future living, wiring shall be installed as concealed wiring at least to a point of one (1) foot clearance of roof rafters and attic floor joists.

SECTION XIV Section 336-3 is amended to read as follows:

336-3 Uses Permitted or Not Permitted. Type NM and Type NMC Cables shall be permitted to be used in one and two-family dwelling, or multi-family dwelling, or multi-family dwellings and other structures.

(a) Type NM. This type of non-metallic sheathed cable shall be permitted to be installed for both exposed and concealed work in normally dry locations. It shall be permissible to install or fish type NM cable in air voids in masonry block or tile walls where such walls are not exposed or subject to excessive moisture or dampness.

Type NM cable shall not be installed where exposed to corrosive fumes or vapors; nor shall it be imbedded in masonry, concrete, fill, or plaster; nor run in a shallow chase in masonry or concrete and covered with plaster or similar finish.

(b) Type NMC. Type NMC cable shall be permitted for both exposed and concealed work in dry, moist, damp, or corrosive locations, and in outside and inside walls of masonry block or tile.

(c) Uses Not Permitted for Either Type NM or NMC. Types NM and NMC cables shall not be used as: (1) service-entrance cable, (2) in commercial garages, (3) in theaters and similar locations, except as provided in Article 518, places of assembly, (4) in motion-picture studios, (5) in storage battery rooms, (6) in Hoistways, (7) in any hazardous location, (8) embedded in poured cement, concrete, or aggregate.

SECTION XV Section 410-49 is amended to read as follows:

410-49 Lampholders

(a) Lampholders installed in wet or damp locations shall be of the weatherproof type.

(b) Porcelain or metal shell sockets used as cord pendant lighting outlets shall not be permitted within reach of grounded portion of buildings.

SECTION XVI Section 422-8 (d) is added to read as follows:

422-8 (d) Residential Food Waste Disposers. All such equipment and controls in dwelling type occupancies shall be provided with an independent disconnecting means within sight of the equipment and it shall be readily accessible. Food waste disposers of one-half horsepower or less shall be wired only with heavy duty 3-wire minimum No. 16 hard service cord and approved cap and three wire "U" slot grounding type receptacles. On new construction, a disconnect switch shall be mounted in the wall adjacent to the sink.

SECTION XVII Section 422-21 (c) is added to read as follows:

422-21 (c) Space Heating Equipment (other than electric heat).

(1) A readily accessible disconnect switch shall be mounted on the exterior of the heating equipment or on a surface adjacent to the heating equipment.

(2) Heating equipment which is not readily accessible shall have an additional disconnect installed at the nearest readily accessible location.

SECTION XVIII Section 517-63 (f) is amended to read as follows:

517-63 (f). Circuits in anesthetizing locations. (1) a general purpose lighting circuit connected to the normal grounded service shall be installed in each operating room. Exception: Where connected to any alternate source permitted in 700-6 which is separate from the source serving the emergency system.

SECTION XIX Section 620-73 is added to read as follows:

725-18 Conductor Physical Protection

(a) Where damage to remote-control circuits of safety control equipment would introduce a hazard, as covered in Section 725-4, all conductors of such remote-control circuits shall be installed in rigid metal conduit, in intermediate metal conduit, electrical metallic tubing, Type MI cable, Type ALS cable, Type CS cable, or be otherwise suitable protected from physical damage.

(b) Low Energy Wiring. Remote control, signalling, and power limited circuits.

(1) Conductors shall run parallel to or through joists.

(2) Conductors shall run parallel to beams and/or pipes if within one (1) inch, or shall be run on sill plates.

(3) Low energy wiring shall comply with (1) and (2). Vertical drops of conductors to furnaces, heaters, etc., shall be mechanically protected by securing to gas or oil pipes or electrical raceways, or securing to ducts, frame structures or back boards, or installing in metallic or non-metallic raceways, or forming in spiral coils for vertical drops of eighteen (18) inches or less.

Chapter 10 of the code is added as follows:

1000-1 Inspection:

If inspection reveals that the wiring system of an existing dwelling type occupancy is inadequate, or if certification as a habitable dwelling is requested, the following minimum requirements shall be complied with;

(a) Entrances and exits: Where two (2) or more entrances and/or exits exist, at least two (2) entrances and/or exits shall be illuminated by exterior lights. Lighting outlets shall be controlled by interior wall switches, located for convenient and readily accessible use.

(b) Living Room: Living room shall be provided with illumination. Lighting outlet shall be controlled by a wall switch, located for convenient and readily accessible use, one of the receptacle outlets controlled by a wall switch in lieu of ceiling lighting outlet is acceptable. Convenience duplex receptacle outlets shall be provided. Receptacle outlets shall be equally spaced around the room with at least one duplex receptacle outlet on each wall.

(c) Kitchen: Kitchen shall be provided with illumination. Lighting outlet shall be controlled by a wall switch located for convenient and readily accessible use.

A separate kitchen appliance circuit shall be provided, supplying a minimum of three (3) grounding type duplex receptacle outlets. Two (2) of these receptacles shall be readily accessible for convenient use of portable appliances. New appliance circuits shall be twenty ampere capacity.

(d) Bathroom: Bathrooms shall be illuminated. Lighting outlet shall be controlled by a wall switch. A receptacle outlet separate from the light fixtures, shall be provided and shall be located at least thirty (30) and not more than forty-eight (48) inches above the floor adjacent to the wash basin and not more than four (4) feet from the basin.

(e) All other Habitable Rooms: Illumination for each habitable room shall be provided. Lighting outlet shall be controlled by a wall switch. Wall switches shall be located for convenient and readily accessible use. Convenience duplex receptacle outlets shall be provided a minimum of two (2) receptacle outlets equally spaced around the room. An additional receptacle outlet controlled by a wall switch is acceptable in lieu of a lighting outlet.

(f) Basement: Basement shall be wired for a minimum of one lighting outlet in each 200 square feet or major fraction of area for use as general illumination. All enclosed area that may be walked into, such as toilet rooms, fruit storage rooms, utility rooms, excavated areas under porches, etc., shall be provided with at least one lighting outlet (except coal bins).

Stairwell and laundry area lighting outlets shall not be counted as part of the required basement lighting outlets.

(g) Laundry Areas: Laundry areas shall be provided with illumination. Laundry circuit shall be an individual circuit. A wall-mounted grounding type duplex receptacle outlet shall be provided, located near the laundry equipment.

An existing drop cord receptacle outlet on a separate circuit shall be acceptable providing it is a grounding type receptacle outlet not more than five (5) feet six (6) inches above the floor.

(h) Space Heating System: Heating equipment requiring electrical energy for operation and/or control shall be provided with an individual circuit. A disconnect switch shall be provided on or adjacent to the heating equipment. (Exception: Thermo-Pile controlled furnaces).

(i) Stairwells: Stairwells shall be adequately illuminated. Lighting outlets shall be controlled by wall switches. Wall switches shall be located for convenient and readily accessible use. Switches shall not be located where it is necessary to use darkened stair sections for their operation. All stairwells to finished portions of dwelling shall be provided with multiple switch control, one at the head, the other at the foot of the stairwell.

(j) Service and/or Feeder: Service to existing dwelling unit shall be a minimum of one hundred ampere, three wire capacity. Service equipment shall be dead front having no live parts exposed whereby accidental contact could be made. Type "S" fuses shall be installed when fused equipment is used.

Exception: Existing service of fifty-five ampere three wire capacity and feeders of thirty ampere larger two or three wire capacity shall be accepted if adequate for the electrical load being served.

(k) Existing Wiring and Equipment: Existing wiring and equipment shall be in good repair. Circuit extensions made with flexible cord wiring in lieu of permanent wiring shall be eliminated.

1000-2 New Work: All new work shall conform to the National Electrical Code and these rules.

1000-3 Evidence of Inadequacy. Evidence of inadequacy shall be any of the following:

(a) Use of cords in lieu of permanent wiring.

(b) Oversizing of overcurrent protection of circuits, feeders or service.

(c) Illegal extensions to the wiring system in order to provide light, heat or power.

(d) Electrical overload.

(e) Misuse of electrical equipment.

(f) Lack of lighting fixtures in bathroom, laundry room, furnace room, stairway or basement.

SECTION XXI SEVERABILITY

Should any section, clause or provision of this ordinance be declared by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of the Ordinance as a whole or any part thereof other than the section, clause or provision of this Ordinance as a whole or any part thereof other than the section, clause or provision of this Ordinance declared by such Court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid.

SECTION XXII CONFLICTING PROVISIONS

All Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict with any of the provisions of this Ordinance, be and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION XXIII EFFECTIVE DATE

This ordinance shall take effect immediately upon publication in the Official Newspaper.

I Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an ordinance adopted by the Romulus City Council at their regular meeting held on the 25th day of October, 1977.

Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk
City of Romulus

James C. Stewart, Mayor

Within forty-five (45) days after the publication of any ordinance duly passed by the Council, a petition may be presented to the Council protesting against such ordinance and shall be signed by not less than six (6 percent) percent of the registered electors registered at the last preceding election at which a Mayor of the City was elected. Said ordinance shall thereupon and thereby be suspended from operation and the Council shall immediately reconsider such Ordinance.

Camera collectors to gather

Old cameras never die, they are just waiting for someone to collect them.

And the proof is in the pudding as local antique camera buffs prepare for the sixth annual Antique Photographic Trade Fair, sponsored by the Michigan Photographic Historical Society.

The show will be held at the Ramada Inn, 8270 Wickham Road, off Merriman Road near the I-94 Expressway in Romulus, from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday.

The society collects, preserves and studies photographic memorabilia, cameras, images and artifacts of a bygone era.

This is your opportunity to collect and view rare old camera equipment, exhibited by more than 40 collectors and vendors from the United States and Canada.

The public is invited to attend. There will be a $1.50 charge at the door.

Women's issues conference hosted by 3 WC3 groups

"I'm Entitled: Women Aware and Moving," a women's issues conference, will be held at the Greenfield Center of Wayne County Community College (WCC), 8551 Greenfield at Joy Road, Friday and Saturday.

Features will include speakers, entertainment, food, a flea market and workshops, covering topics of particular interest to women of all ages and backgrounds.

The conference is sponsored by the WC3 Women's Student Organization, WC3 Women's Studies Program and Focus on Woman, a program of the Community Services Department of the College.

Keynote speakers will be the Hon. Barbara Rose Collins of the Michigan House of Representatives; Dr. Elizabeth Hood of the Wayne State University Training Institute for Desegregated Education and a contributor to the Michigan Chronicle, Dr. Mary Helen Washington, professor of Black Studies at the University of Detroit, and Linda Miller, president of the Detroit Chapter of the National Organization for Women.

Workshop topics will include single parenting, women and aging, women and welfare, women and health, abortion rights, Equal Rights Amendment, self-defense, gay rights, problems of reentry into the school-work force, and third world women. On Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. a "Focus on Woman Sampler" will be offered to introduce the content of several classes for women now being offered through the WC3 Community Services Program.

A dinner will be held Saturday from 5 to 7 p.m., followed by an evening of entertainment. A jazz trio composed of vocalist Sylvia McBride, Maria St. John on piano and Linda Lane on bass, will be featured in addition to puppeteer Debbie Rettke, the Virginia Dhu Dancers, and singer Laurie McPherson.

Free child care will be available. Registration is $1. A full program, listing events, dinner menu and registration form may be obtained by calling the Focus on Woman office, WC3 Community Services Department, at 832-4750.

Horse finishes in money

Romulus resident Patricia Anthony collected a cool $40,000 Oct. 22, when her horse finished seventh in the Lottery Mile, the lottery's instant game horse race for its grand prize winners.

The top prize of $100,000 went to a 56-year-old Detroit homemaker, Helen Meyers, while the $90,000 second-place prize went to Charles Huber of Warren.

Third place was won by Norma McNealley of Detroit, who collected $80,000.

In all some $550,000 was awarded to the 10 Lottery Mile instant game grand prize finalists. The finish in the game was determined by the eighth race at Detroit Race Course in Livonia on Oct. 22.

Agricultural panel says

Details sketchy on new programs

"Due to the number of complexity and of changes in farm programs, triggered by the new farm act, some of the details of the new programs will not be available as soon as we and area farmers would like, said Raymond Girbach, chairman of the Washtenaw County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Girbach went on to say that "we do expect to be making and announcement concerning proposed farm program rules very soon."

The committee is charged with administering federal farm programs in the area.

"Farmers quite naturally are interested in getting program details resulting from the new farm act as soon as possible, because some of the changes also will affect some crops planted and harvested in 1977, in addition to the crops covered during the 4-year life of the new law," Girbach added. "We are currently gearing up to make wheat deficiency payments, which generally were increased by 43 cents per bushel for 1977 crop wheat by a provision of the new law.

"The process can only work just so fast with so many changes, and we hope farmers will be patient with us for the short time it will take from the signing of the law until the new regulations are developed."

The law has some new wrinkles that have to be ironed out, Girbach said.

"For example, the law requires us to establish the 1977 acreage on each farm which normally is used for the production of crops, or 'normal crop acreage,' a term farmers will be hearing a lot," he explained. "County and state ASC Committee members are very much a part of the process being used to determine program rules on normal crop acreage.

"This is one reason it's important that farmers report their 1977 crop acreage to the ASCS office, if they have not already done so."

"While the details of the 1978 Agricultural Conservation Program have just been announced, practices in addition to the wide range of national practices also may be developed at the local level to meet specific pollution or conservation problems," he continued. "This is another indication that farm programs will be based more on local situations and on solving local problems."

The economic and environmental impacts of the new program rules also must be determined as a part of the process of making the rules. The local input and public scrutiny may tend to slow the process of getting out final rules and regulations, but will help assure ASCS and the farmers of having solid, meaningful programs for American agriculture, Girbach said.

Residents win big in lottery

Several Western Wayne County residents are hearing the jingle of spare cash after claiming $10,000 prizes in the State Lottery's "Three-of-a-Kind" game.

Claiming the hefty winnings are Charles Brown of Romulus, Elnora Cone of Westland, Oliver Kennedy of Romulus, Gwendolyn McClain of Belleville and Lucille Moody of Inkster.

In the current instant game, three matching cards, or spots, on one ticket, or two matches and a joker, which is used as a wild card, can win a prize from one free ticket to $10,000. On the average, more than one ticket in five is a winner.

Advocates opens Nov. 11 with debate on power

Nuclear power is the topic of debate as Channel 56 presents the preview edition of the award-winning series "The Advocates". The debate will be moderated by Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis and will be seen on Nov. 11 at 10:30 p.m.

The program, which uses the trial-debate format, brings together pairs of advocates who usually represent a split between the liberal and conservative points of view.

The supporters of nuclear power argue that the United States must build more power plants to fill existing power gaps. The opponents, on the other hand, say that the estimates for increased energy demands are inaccurate and exaggerated.

Heading up the proponents of nuclear power will be former deputy secretary of the treasury Charles Walker and John B. Anderson, the ranking Republican on the House Ad Hoc Energy Commission. Anthony Roisman, a staff attorney for the Natural Resources Defense Council, leads the voices of the opposition.

This preview edition of "The Advocates" heralds the return of the weekly debate series to

State begins mailing 1978 applications for license plate tabs

Starting this week, Michigan passenger vehicle and motorcycle owners will begin receiving the prepared application forms for their 1978 license plate tabs.

For the first time, most persons who own more than one vehicle will be receiving the different prepared application forms in a single envelope. This change is estimated to mean a savings of at least $50,000 in postage costs.

Secretary of State Richard H. Austin said: "There still may be some instances where we will be unable to use this kind of combined mailing. In any instance where there may be any doubt about the duplicate ownership — for example, in cases where there are even minor differences in the name or address on the registrations — we will continue to make separate mailing."

Austin noted that it actually will take about

Poems may net $1,000 in prizes

A $1,000 grand prize will be awarded in the poetry competition, sponsored by the World of Poetry, a monthly newsletter for poets.

Poems of all styles and on any subject are eligible to compete for the grand prize or for 49 other cash or merchandise awards.

Contest director Joseph Mellon said: "We are encouraging poetic talent of every kind, and expect our contest to produce exciting discoveries."

Rules and official entry forms are available by writing to World of Poetry, 2431 Stockton Blvd., Dept. A, Sacramento, Calif. 95817.

MR. AND MRS. STEWART POTTS

Children honor Belleville pair on golden year

Belleville area residents for some 41 years, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Potts of 142 Wabash Street marked their golden wedding day Oct. 22 at a dinner-dance reception given by their four children and their spouses.

The PNA Hall was reserved for the six o'clock party hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Gary Potts of St. Charles, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Potts of Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis (Penny) Allen of Pleasanton, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Tim Potts of Westland.

For the special occasion Mrs. Potts was presented with a corsage of gold-tipped white camellias which she pinned to her gold satin polyester gown.

The hall was decorated by the couple's family and a special cake made by a good friend, Mrs. Grace Kubitskey, served as centerpiece at the "bridal" table.

Among those congratulating the couple on their 50 years of togetherness were long-time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haggard who came from Hope, Arkansas for the festivities. Other guests were from Great Falls, Mont., Mitchell's Bay, Ont., Romeo, Sterling Heights, Madison Heights, St. Clair Shores, Grosse Pointe Woods, Mullett Lake and Belleville.

Stewart Potts and his bride, Bertha Staron, exchanged wedding vows in Detroit on Oct. 22, 1927. Besides their three sons and daughter, there are 12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild on their family tree.

Mr. Potts is a former tool and die maker who retired from Republic Die and Tool Co. in February, 1971. His wife retired three years later from the Van Buren School system for which she had worked as a cafeteria assistant at Belleville High School.

A former Belleville councilman who served as both police and street commissioner, Mr. Potts is a Past Master of Myrtle Lodge 89. Mrs. Potts is a member of the Rebekah Lodge and Order of Eastern Star. The couple also belong to the Belleville Area Senior Citizens Club.

Laura Colley accepted by Miami college

A graduate of Belleville High School, Laura Colley, has been accepted for January, 1978 admission to International Fine Arts College in Miami, Fla. She will study fashion merchandising and interior design.

During her two years, Miss Colley will have the opportunity to work in fashion shows and design centers in Miami, one of the three largest fashion apparel manufacturing centers in the world. Field trips throughout Florida and study tours in Europe and the Orient are also on her college schedule at International.

Miss Colley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Colley of Belleville.

New courses set at YWCA

With the onset of fall, the YWCA of Western Wayne County has planned a collage of activities to participate in throughout the season. Several new additions to the course schedule have been made. Registrations are now being accepted. Classes begin the week of Nov. 8.

A 6-week course in genealogy is being taught by Mrs. Rosina Raymond in response to the extraordinary interest in "Roots". Through genealogy, find a fascinating way to search out and understand heritages. Mrs. Raymond will assist in developing a family tree and how to add branches to it. This is a most popular form of gardening! During one period the class will visit the Burton Historical Collection. Mrs. Raymond, past president of the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research, has been pursuing her avocation for years, here and in Europe.

Moms and tots will have an opportunity to attain new skills in ice skating at the Dearborn Heights Civic Arena on Tuesdays from 9 to 10 a.m. A qualified instructor from the arena will provide a half hour each to tot and mom.

Rapid reading program will be offered both fall and winter. This course uses the latest learning techniques and concentrates on the basic reading principals. It enables development of optimal reading skills while building a foundation for further pursuit of the individual speed with an average increase of 3.46 times the beginning rate.

A photography course for adults has been designed to teach the fundamentals of picture taking, equipment and its uses, and the care and operation of the camera. An introductory course to photography provides experiences to "develop" new interest in this growing field. Albert Caesar, the instructor, is a member of the photographic Society of America and has a business in the Detroit area.

The YWCA will also offer instruction in three areas of art. Sculpture will work on the methods involved in modeling with clay, wire, cloth and plaster. A project will be chosen by the student and completed by the end of the course. Drawing will cover the mechanics of line, mass, shading and shadow, and the use of pencil and charcoal. Mixed media will give an overview of several different medias — paint, pencil, cloth, and weaving. ABFA, graduate from Wayne State University in art, Ms. Delphine Cisló will be conducting all three of the art courses.

Lose and control weight through Slim and Trim, an exercise and weight control program. Ms. Kathy Kish is currently teaching this at the YWCA.

Several methods of quilting, traditional and contemporary, applique, patchwork and trapunto (soft sculpture) will be covered by Ms. Margaret Malynn. She has taught quilting and other forms of art for several years out of her studio in Dearborn and for Detroit and Dearborn Historical Society.

"Entertaining with a Flare" is a 5-part series covering crepes, fondue, yeast baking, desserts and hors d'oeuvres. Learn how to make a variety of delicious foods for your next party.

Kindergarten through second graders can enjoy "Little Cookers - Neat Treats to Eat" and "Tumble Down", an introductory course in tumbling. For the third through sixth graders, "Ceramics with Clay" and "Games Galore", an exploration of several indoor and outdoor games, will be offered.

All participants, male and female, must be members of the YWCA; $3 for students, and $6 for adults. Memberships are valid for one year

About deadlines--

As is the case with most human beings, we fail to see what we're not looking for or fail to see what we don't want to see.

In this particular instance, we are referring to deadline notices which we attempt to print each week on the Suburban Living pages — boxed in notices that say "Suburban Living Deadline, Thursday, 2 p.m."

There's a reason for this deadline, be assured of that. We have to have time to prepare copy to be taken to the typesetters in our production office in Wayne.

With news coming across our desk and via the telephone throughout the day, there has to be time in which to write, re-write and edit copy as well as to compose heads and cutlines and plan layouts for the next issue.

We ask that you please try to remember that 2 p.m. Thursday is the cut-off time for accepting news which you expect to see in the following week's Suburban Living section. Items received after the 2 p.m. deadline more likely than not will be a week late appearing in print.

Your cooperation will get your stories printed on time.

MISS DYER

MISS CLARK

Couple planning 1978 weddings

Spring and summer of 1978 have been chosen as the seasons when two young couples will speak their "I do's." A former Belleville man and his fiancée have set their sites on a May ceremony while two Belleville residents have opted for a July altar date.

DYER - SWORD

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dyer of Lenmoore Drive, Belleville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Lynn, to Rick James Sword, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Sword of Edison Lake Road, Belleville.

The bride-elect, who is in her senior year at Belleville High School, is employed at General Finance Corporation of Belleville.

Her fiancé graduated from Belleville High School in 1977 and currently is employed at Belleville Die of Romulus.

The future bride and groom's July 15 wedding has been set tentatively for St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

CLARK - FRYDRYCH

The engagement of their daughter, Candace Louise Clark, to David N. Frydrych is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Case Clark of 528 Shields Dr., Beulah.

A graduate of Western Michigan University, Miss Clark holds a bachelor of arts degree in social work. She currently is living in Holt while pursuing her master's degree in social work.

The prospective bridegroom, who resides at 40 Peach Tree Dr., Davison, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Frydrych of 10697 Buchanan St., Belleville. He, too, graduated from WMU with a bachelor of business administration degree in accounting. At the present time he is employed as an accountant with Genova, Inc. of Flint.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH E. BERG

Joseph Berg, Sharon Henry wed in October ceremony

Since returning from a week-long honeymoon in Las Vegas, Nev., the newly wed Joseph E. Berg have taken up residence at 1186 Sherman Blvd., in Jackson.

Sharon Gail Henry, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Henry of Belleville, became Mrs. Berg in an Oct. 7 ceremony at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Deacon Dennis Martell presided at the double ring candlelight ceremony.

Escorted to the sanctuary by her father, Sharon appeared in a traditional white gown designed in the A-line mode with sheer bishop sleeves of embroidered applique to match that which outlined the V-necked lifted bodice.

A headpiece of matching embroidery secured the bride's pearl-scaled silk illusion veil. She carried a white Bible covered with white silk carnations and baby's breath accented by four pink rosebuds which will be used as a centerpiece in the couple's new home.

Four attendants, all sisters of the bridal pair, preceded the bride up the aisle. Janet Berg, the maid of honor, was gowned in a long pink A-line creation topped by a cranberry bell-sleeved jacket.

Vicki, Diane and Sandra Rae Henry wore identical gowns with multi-colored cranberry and pink chiffon jackets. Each of the quartet wore a pink rosebud wreath in her hair and carried a single pink rose surrounded by baby's breath and cranberry velvet streamers.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr.

and Mrs. Robert E. Berg of Livonia, asked his brother, Paul Berg, to serve as best man. Groomsmen were Michael Guzowski, David Kirsch and Paul Wendell.

Over 250 guests gathered at the UAW Hall on Michigan Avenue for the dinner-dance reception which followed. Mrs. Henry greeted relatives and friends in a long maroon A-line gown with a matching pleated cape. Her corsage was comprised of four pink silk roses and baby's breath tied with pink velvet ribbons. Mrs. Berg chose for her son's wedding a 2-piece long sleeved beige jersey ensemble to which she pinned her corsage of white silk carnations and beige and yellow rosebuds.

BOEC leaders

Business and Office Education Clubs (BOEC) at Romulus High School consist of three sub groups which are headed by Brenda Valuet (from left), Christie Ozment and Betty Holbrook. The trio was among the 17 students who attended the recent Regional Fall Leadership Conference at Oakland Community College.

BOEC contingent from RHS attends Leadership confab

Seventeen business students from Romulus High School's Business and Office Education Clubs (BOEC) attended a Regional Fall Leadership Conference on Oct. 20 at the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College.

Advisors attending were Barbara Cornell, office coordinator, and Mary Jerger, office education teacher.

Students in attendance were Betty Holbrook, Nancy Niewiarowicz, Ethel Hearst, Kathy Williams, Alvenia Warren, Jackie Morgan, Christie Ozment and Debbie Manley. Still others were Debbie McVicar, Debora Brown, Marie McPhee, Carrol Schneider, Brenda Valuet, Marjorie Allison, Sharon Siedlak, Cindy Loeman and Debbie Blatnik.

BOEC is a state of Michigan High school career education organization for students with a career objective in office occupations; is a nonprofit, non-political, non-sectarian student organization which began in 1972; is affiliated with the Office Education Association at the national level; and is an integral part of the business education course of study.

Membership is for those who are high school students enrolled in a business program who are committed to a career objective in the business world such as: accountant, bookkeeper, cashier, data processing related jobs, general office clerk, office manager, receptionist, secretary, teller, typist or stenographer.

There are three sub groups for the one BOEC Chapter at Romulus High School headed by Brenda Valuet, Christie Ozment and Betty Holbrook.

Chapter presentation at the conference was given by Christie

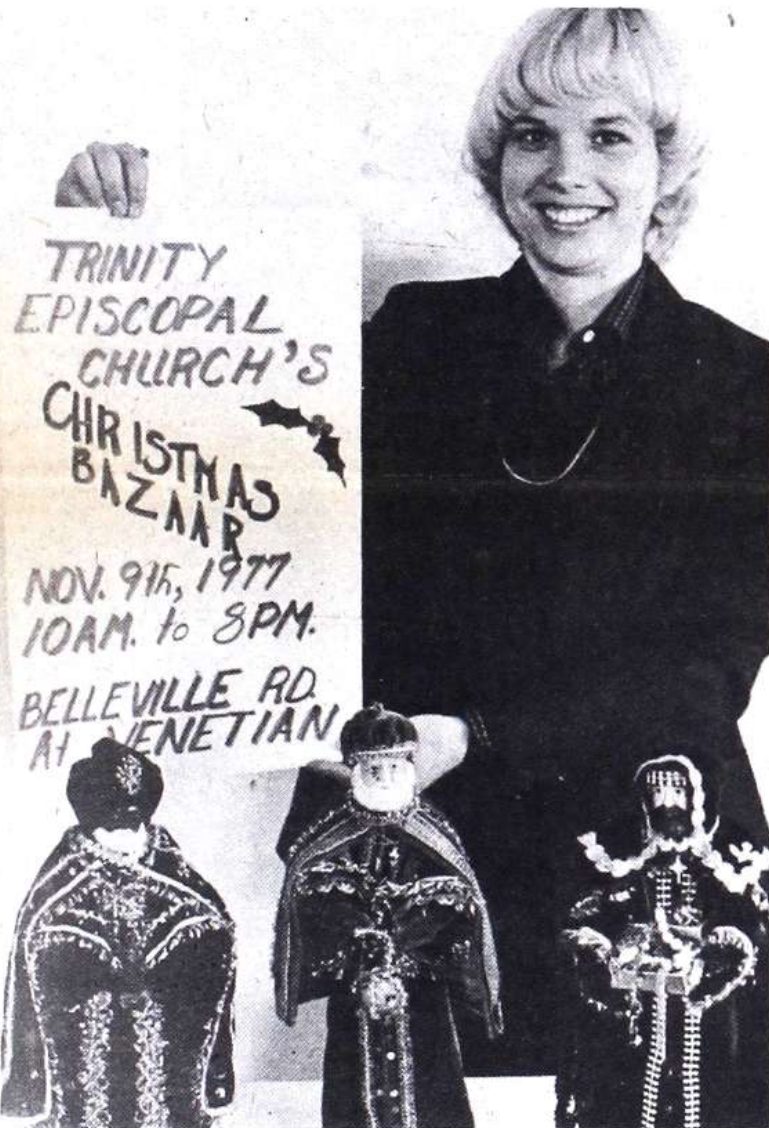

Ozment, Debbie Manley, Debbie McVicar, Debora Brown, Marie McPhee and Schneider. All students in attendance received a certificate.

Several BOEC students were on hand to help the Romulus Recreation Department entertain at Halloween parties at the Romulus Progressive Hall and at Harrison School on Oct. 31. In addition to helping at the parties, some of the students assisted in bagging candy during the week of October 24.

At Episcopal Church

Holiday bazaar is Nov. 9

A Christmas Bazaar will be sponsored by the Episcopal Church Women (ECW) of Trinity Episcopal Church on Wednesday, Nov. 9, with doors opening at 10 a.m.

A variety of booths will feature handmade items including decorative pillows, clothing, children's toys and holiday decorations.

Homemade soup and hot dogs will be offered for lunch and spaghetti will be on the menu at dinner time, which begins at 4:30 p.m.

Two raffles, one for a set of three kings statues dressed in handmade finery, and the other for a floral quilt, will be held.

Free babysitting service will be available while patronship from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to attend the festivities at the church which is located at the corner of Belleville Road and Venetian Avenue.

Come to the bazaar

Statues of the Three Kings, hand-dressed in regal finery, will be one of two prizes to be raffled Nov. 9 when the Episcopal Church Women host their annual Christmas Bazaar at Trinity Episcopal Church. Mary Jo Marsh, one of the many volunteer workers for the event, holds one of the posters which are promoting the pre-holiday attraction. A variety of handmade, homemade and homegrown items will be on sale for those who like to get "something different" for those on their Christmas gift list. Hours for the bazaar are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Anniversary forms available

For those marking wedding anniversaries with celebrations and parties, we have special anniversary forms to fill out. The questionnaires include all the pertinent information needed for putting a story together.

If you are planning to celebrate an anniversary and would like your friends to read about it in The Belleville Enterprise of The Romulus Roman, simply stop by our office at 116 Fourth St., Belleville, or telephone the Suburban Living Editor, Lee Smith, at 697-9191 to have a form mailed out.

We will be happy to accept photographs if they meet with our specific. Please include one if it's available.

There is no charge for this service.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH KITTLE

Newly wed Kenn Kittles honeymoon on East Coast

A week-long honeymoon in Massachusetts followed the autumn wedding of Mary Michele Dziedzic of Romulus and Kenneth Kittle of Jerome, Mich. The young couple repeated their double ring vows at St. Aloysius Catholic Church on Sept. 24 before The Rev. John Buehner and some 225 relatives and friends.

For the afternoon rite, the altar was appointed with hurricane lamps decorated with dried mums and baby's breath. Judy Cullen was organist and soloist for the occasion.

Parents of the bride and groom are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dziedzic of 36845 Grant, Romulus, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kittle of 1064 Addison Rd., Jerome.

Entering the church with her father, the bride was gown in an old-fashioned hoop-skirted dress of Chantilly lace, the tiers of ruffles cascading into a cathedral train as she walked. The little fitted bodice was cut with a square neckline and long wristpoint sleeves. An opal necklace and bracelet from the bridegroom complimented her ensemble.

A Camelot headpiece held the bride's lace-edged veil which fell to fingertip length. A colonial arrangement of dried white roses, pink rosebuds, daisies and baby's breath, tied with matching streamers added contrast to her white gown.

The honor attendant was Denise Males of Romulus, a cousin of the bridegroom and close friend of the bride.

Best man was the bridegroom's oldest brother, George Kittle.

Bridesmaids were Carol Dziedzic of Detroit, cousin of the bride; Denise Dobson of Garden City; Robyn Kutcher of Romulus; Kathy Mulready of Belleville, and Jan Boyers of Tecumseh.

Miss Males' pink polyester knit gown was fashioned with a Vneckline, shirred bodice with cameo at the empire waist and a long skirt with a V-panel of burgundy velvet to match the cape collar.

The six attendants appeared in identical pastel blue gowns with royal blue velvet accents. Headgear was comprised of brief pink veils gathered to tiaras; their bouquets being smaller versions of that carried by the bride.

The corps of ushers included Dallas Kittle of Jerome and Raymond Dziedzic Jr. of Romulus, brothers of the bridal pair; Joe Kutcher of Romulus, Jim Kittle of Jerome, another brother of the bridegroom; and Dean Sharp of North Adams.

The PNA Hall was reserved for the reception which followed. Some 250 guests were greeted by Mrs. Dziedzic in a V-necked sleeveless gown of rose polyester knit with a lace trimmed jacket. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in pastel blue polyester with a jewel-trimmed jacket.

A graduate of Romulus High School, the new Mrs. Kittle attended

Eastern Michigan University where she earned her bachelor of science degree in microbiology. She is now employed at Vaco Industries in Jonesville. The bridegroom graduated from North Adams High School, attended Ferris State College and is now an employee of Quality Industries in Hillsdale.

The newlyweds are making their home at 540 Knowles Rd., North Adams.

The rehearsal dinner, given by the bridegroom's parents, was held at the Holiday Inn of Romulus.

Spicy pumpkin ice cream tarts

There's no trick to preparing a dessert treat to serve for a special autumn occasion such as Halloween or Thanksgiving. Simply blend together pumpkin, molasses, spices, ice cream and pecans for a luscious concoction. Pile this delectable filling in tart shells of tender pastry and freeze for a memorable dessert treat.

Pastry for the tart shells is sure to be tender and flaky when made with lard, explains Reba Staggs, home economist for the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Frosty Pumpkinettes

- 1 cup canned pumpkin
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons molasses
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 quart vanilla ice cream

One-third cup chopped pecans
6 baked pastry tart shells

Combine pumpkin, sugar, molasses, salt, ginger and cinnamon. Soften ice cream and fold into pumpkin mixture. Mix well. Place 1/2 cup mixture into each tart shell. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Freeze until firm. Filling can also be frozen in a baked 9-inch pie shell. 6 servings.

Family fetes dad on 70th

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

On the receiving end for congratulations a couple Sundays ago (Oct. 23 to be exact) was Joe Sietz of Sumpter Road. A few hugs and kisses were also on the agenda for the honoree who earlier in the month had marked his 70th birthday.

His children — Mary Ann Emerson and her husband, Bill, and Dick Sietz and his wife, Grace — played host at the open house from 2 to 5 in the afternoon. Some 44 guests — mostly relatives — came from Dexter, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Trenton and Belleville for the festivities at the Emerson home on Martinsville Road which included a buffet complete with decorated cake. Because the man-of-the-hour has taken to his bicycle for trips in and around town, the motif on the cake and theme for several gifts was "the bike."

Having operated Sietz Store at the corner of Sumpter and Willis Roads for some 40 years, Joe and his wife, Helen, retired in February of 1975, sold their home and moved to a comfortable bungalow for two nearer to the city of Belleville, also on Sumpter Road. Joe remains very active in the community being a member of the Belleville Rotary Club and St. Anthony's Catholic Church where he serves as an usher and on the bingo committee.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Linda Maki, who's slated to be a fall bride, had the fun of opening an assortment of gifts for her future home on Sunday, Oct. 16.

Hostesses for the afternoon bridal shower were Linda Maton, Debbie Waddell and Lynne Wheelock, all of Belleville, who will be attendants at the wedding.

Forty relatives and friends from Ann Arbor, Canton, Detroit, Inkster, Jackson, Livonia, Milan, Saline, Westland, Ypsilanti and Belleville enjoyed pencil and paper games with plants going to the winners. Lee Kinunen of Westland took home the house prize.

A buffet lunch was served after the honoree and her fiancé, Terry Taylor of Ann Arbor, had unwrapped the many items which will help fill the gaps in closets, drawers and cupboards.

Ryan Patrick Keon makes grandparents of Ray Memerings

The birth of their first child, a son, is announced by Tom and Margaret Keon of 3607 Swanson, Wayne.

The new heir, who was titled "Ryan Patrick", arrived Oct. 20 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. His weight was recorded at 8 lbs.-3 1/2 ozs.

The new mother, the former

Margaret Memering, is the daughter of Belleville Councilman and Mrs. Raymond Memering of Belleville. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Keon of Belleville.

Ryan also is the great-grandson of Mrs. Alma Memering of Belleville and Mrs. Anna Crays of Wayne.

Talaga-Armstrong marry

Methodist church scene of wedding

Double ring vows were exchanged between Cynthia Ann Armstrong and Anthony Gene Talaga Oct. 1 at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville. The one o'clock ceremony was conducted by The Rev. Joy E. Arthur before some 50 relatives and close friends.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Stokes Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Yonkos, all of Hazel Park. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony L.

Talaga Jr. of 192 Clarence St., Belleville.

Organist Gwen Ashe accompanied Ruth Pollard who sang "Evergreen" and "The Wedding Prayer".

Carrying a colonial bouquet of autumn-colored mixed dried and silk flowers intermingled with fresh white gardenias, the bride was given in marriage by her son, Jeffrey M. Evangelist. For the occasion, the bride chose to wear an off-white jersey gown designed with a cotton lace bodice which featured a detachable hood, full sleeves and a stand-up collar accented by a removable jersey blouson jacket.

Mrs. Christian (Sandra) Lauth of Belleville was the bride's only attendant in a rust-colored floor-length gown styled with a cowl neckline which was pulled up to form a hood during the ceremony. Her bouquet was a miniature version of the bride's with the exception of rust velvet ribbon streamers.

The bridegroom asked Paul Peterson of Belleville to serve as best man.

The bride's mother chose a sleeveless peach and beige floral print polyester gown with a matching chiffon capelet for the occasion. Mrs. Talaga, the bridegroom's mother, donned a sleeveless red polyester knit gown. Both were presented with daisy corsages.

Some 115 guests gathered at the Romulus Progressive Club for the reception. The newlyweds are now at home to friends at 291 W. Columbia Ave., Belleville.

March wedding planned

The Adrian Pilgrim Evangelistic Tabernacle has been reserved for the March 17, 1978 wedding of Cheryl Plemmons of Belleville and Steven Watters of Adrian. The young couple's engagement and nuptial plans are announced by The Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Plemmons of 39933 Expressway, Belleville, parents of the bride-elect. A 1976 graduate of Belleville High School, Miss Plemmons works as a secretary for Bertrand, Inc., of Canton, and also is organist for her father's church in Taylor. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Watters of 3201 Knight Hwy., Adrian. He graduated from Adrian High School in 1970 and currently is employed at Alloy Abrasive Metal and Steel in Adrian.

Family Night held by PM's

The annual Family Night dinner of the Past Matrons' Association was held at the Masonic Temple Oct. 26. Tables were decorated with leaves, gourds, artificial pumpkins and Halloween napkins.

Among the 34 present, who enjoyed a roast beef dinner cooked by the officers, were Elizabeth and Walter James, Worthy Matron and Worlth Patron-elect, and Mary and Harold Brown from Horseshoe Bend, Ark.

Following the revealing of "Secret Pal" names and drawing new names, the evening was spent playing card bingo with "white elephant" prizes.

Family arrives from England and Ohio for birthday celebration

By Mrs. Joseph Spring 699-4021

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Mc-Mullan of North Shore Drive were members of their family — daughter, Mrs. Laurence Shurman (Mary) from London, England and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Payne, with daughters, Hannah and Sarah, from Terrace Park, Ohio.

The special occasion was in celebration of Orin's Oct. 22 birthday. Daughter, Mary, spent a week with her parents before returning home and the others were here for the weekend.

friends in the community for the past week.

Guests at various times during the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Potts of Wabash Street were their daughter and husband, Mr. and Lewis Allen and sons, Brett and Steven, from Pleasanton, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Gary Potts and Amy from St. Charles, Ill. Miss Kelley Potts from Elgin Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Ray Haggard from Hope, Ark. and Mrs. Joan Vernon and daughter from Great Falls, Mont.

attended funeral services on Oct. 25 for a relative, Arthur Bellman, at the Diener Funeral in Utica. Mr. Bellman, a former Potter Drive resident, passed away suddenly on Oct. 22.

After having spent the past two weeks with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Marshall at Roxbury, Conn., Mrs. Muriel Smith of Liberty Street returned home last Thursday. A sister-in-law, Mrs. Russell Benjamin of Fowler-ville, accompanied her on the trip.

were guests of honor at a dinner given by their sons and families, the Donald Carnahans of Ann Arbor, and the Bernard Carnahans of Ypsilanti, held at the latter's home on Ridge Road.

The twelve members present included the Carnahan's four grandsons and two granddaughters.

Memorial services for Mrs. Rose Prince Anderson were conducted Oct. 19 at the Chelsea Methodist Retirement Home. Born Feb. 9, 1882, in Sumpter

Township, she was the daughter of William and Sarah Scott Prince. She is survived by her son, Harold of Fairview, Mich.; her grandson, Robert J. of Belleville, and a granddaughter, Gloria Kreiner of Union Lake; twelve great-grandchildren and one great-great grandson. Interment was at Union-Udell Cemetery.

Her husband, Benjamin, preceded her in death as did her only sister, Mina Anderson Hart; a son, Hillard; and a granddaughter, Kathleen Anderson Nass of Goshen, N. Y.

Pork sausage with apricots

When you want to serve your family something special but don't have time to prepare an elaborate dish, try this recipe for Sausage-Apricot Treat, suggests Reba Staggs, home economist with the National Live Stock and Meat Board. You'll find this casserole is aptly named as it is truly a flavor treat.

Pork sausage takes only about 10 minutes to precook and brown. Then it's quickly combined with mushroom soup, milk, spices and apricot halves; topped with refrigerated rolls and baked for 30 minutes.

How's that for quick and easy, yet satisfying, service!

Sausage-Apricot Treat

- 2 pounds fresh (bulk) pork sausage
- 1/4 cup water
- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed mushroom soup
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 1/4 teaspoon ginger
- 1/4 teaspoon curry powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 can (16 ounces) apricot halves, drained
- 1 package (8 ounces) refrigerated butterflake dinner rolls, if desired

Place sausage and water in cold frying-pan. Cover tightly and cook slowly 5 minutes. Pour off drippings. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally, until lightly browned, about 5 minutes. Combine sausage, mushroom soup, milk, ginger, curry powder and salt. Carefully fold in a apricot halves. Pour into a 2-quart casserole. Separate dinner rolls and arrange in three overlapping rows over sausage mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes. 6 servings.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Seaman of Savage Road have returned home after having spent some time visiting relatives, Marian Boyd and Harriet Myers at Erie, Pa., and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Harold August at Middlesport, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orr of Harmony Lane attended a family pot luck dinner last Saturday at the home of the latter's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Pierce of Burton.

Former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown of Horseshoe Bend, Ark., have been guests of relatives and Mrs. Marjorie Potter of Liberty St., who underwent eye surgery at Beyer Hospital on Oct. 19, was able to return home the following Saturday and is now recovering nicely.

Mrs. May Chapman of Belleville Road was a guest last week of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Cullin of Lit-chfield, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Quinley of Sumpter Road - with granddaughters, Wendy and Tracy Traskos of Riggs Road, spent the past week at Mecosta.

Schoolcraft stages 'Murder'

The first area performance of Agatha Christie's "Murder at the Vicarage" will be presented at the Schoolcraft College dinner-theater, Nov. 18-19 and Dec. 2-3.

A mystery drama, the play originally appeared in London during 1949 and again in 1975. According to Schoolcraft theater instructor and play director Lawrence Rudick, the performance is the first in the Detroit metropolitan area.

Members of the all-student cast include Buzz Buzzell, Lisa Danke, Marc Harlow, Janine Hill, Steve Swanson, Anna Warmann and Karen Wehberg, all from Livonia, Michael Groves, Betty Hancock, Paige Lysinger and Steve Massel from Northville, and Kenneth Keating and Charles Montgomery from Plymouth.

Director Rudick is assisted by Bob Gregory, technical director, Alice Anderson, producer, from Livonia, and Dennis Smith, stage manager, from Westland.

A theater-in-the-round will be created in the Waterman Campus Center where dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. Schoolcraft Chef Robert Brelthaupt has announced a special menu of tossed salad, cornish game hen with colbert sauce, herbed rice with watercress, assorted rolls and breads, choice of beverage and

Antique lecture series opens with painted furniture topic

What do painted furniture, art pottery and jewelry have in common? Possibly the only thing is the fact that they are the subjects of three illustrated lectures in the Henry Ford Museum's Antiques Lecture Series.

On Friday the first in a series of seven collector-oriented lectures — "Painted Furniture of the 17th through mid-19 Century" — will launch the 26th annual series in the Henry Ford Museum Theater at Greenfield Village.

Presenting the season opener is John H. Hill, a noted author, lecturer and restorer of antique furniture. Hill holds a bachelor of arts degree from Townson State College, Maryland, and master of arts degree in Early American culture from the University of Delaware. He also has been a fellow of the Henry Francis DuPont Winterthur Museum, Del.

His illustrated lecture will be a comprehensive survey of the beautiful and japanned furniture of the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries. In particular, it will focus on the fine grained and marbled furniture of the 19th century. Hill will look at the furniture styles from the standpoint of the craftsmen by emphasizing materials, techniques and problems of furniture craftsmen.

Six other distinguished speakers also will highlight specialized areas of the Early American decorative arts and culture during this year's series.

On Dec. 9, Jane Shadel Spillman, associate curator of American Glass, the Corning Museum of Glass, will talk in the subject of "American Pressed Pattern Glass".

On Jan. 13, George O. Bird, formerly senior curator of Decorative Arts, Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum, will discuss "Art Pottery of the United States". On Feb. 10, Sarah B. Sherill, associate editor, The Magazine Antiques, will offer "The World at our Feet: Floor Coverings in America, 17th to mid-19th Century".

On March 10, Phillip H. Curtis, curator of Decorative Arts, the Newark Museum, will review "A History of Porcelain Manufacture in America". On April 14, Henry J. Kauffman, noted author, lecturer and collector, surveys the subject of "A History of American Metals".

On May 12, Jane Hanson, art historian, author and lecturer, will talk on "Jewelry in the United States". The lecture will be followed by a jewelry clinic, and members of the audience may bring articles for discussion.

Pennsylvania Ballet stars

The Pennsylvania Ballet, considered one of the top four companies in the United States, will present three performances at Detroit's Music Hall Center on Nov. 11 & 12.

One of the few remaining Ballets to tour with its own resident orchestra, the 75-member troupe of dancers, musicians, and technicians will present two evening performances at 8:30 p.m., plus a 2 p.m. Saturday matinee.

It was only 13 years ago that dancer-choreographer Barbara Weisberger, with the encouragement of her mentor, George Balanchine, and a grant from the Ford Foundation, laid the foundation for this company in Philadelphia. Within four years they had debuted at New York's City Center.

Since then, the Pennsylvania Ballet has toured in 35 states and Canada, its repertoire has grown to include more than 80 ballets, 32 of which were introduced by this company.

On Friday evening at the Music Hall, the Pennsylvania Ballet with the Pennsylvania Orchestra will perform two Balanchine choreographed ballets, "Allegro Brillante" (music by Tchaikovsky) and "Four Temperaments" (Hindemith). Also on Friday's program will be Benjamin Harkavy's "Grand Pas Espagnol" (Beethoven) and Rodney Griffin's Rialto" (Gershwin).

On Saturday's matinee, "Rialto" will be repeated along with Jerome Robbins' "Interplay" (Gould), Marius Petipa's "Don Quixote Pas de Deux" (Minkus) and Balanchine's "Scotch Symphony" (Mendelssohn). Saturday evening will feature "Scotch Symphony," "Four Temperaments" and Lynne Taylor's "Equinox" (Bord).

Tickets for the Pennsylvania Ballet's evening performances are available through the Music Hall box office, at 350 Madison Avenue, and can be ordered by calling 963-7680.

Shopping: Unlimited money needed

By MAUREEN BEATTY

For me, grocery shopping long ago ceased to be a pleasurable experience. The high cost of food and crowded stores have turned this necessary task into a distasteful chore. Today's shopper needs an unlimited bank account, nerves of steel and a suit of armor when entering this realm of insanity. No matter how I plan, I find spending within the allotted amount for a family of two impossible. One reason for this is that, in childhood, we developed the bad habit of eating meat. I am aware, of course, that anyone with an average income should not splurge on such luxuries, but like old soldiers, bad habits never die. Regardless, once a week fortified by two aspirins and a novena to St. Jude, I set out once again.

A shopper's problems begin in the parking lot. My husband always knows when I've been shopping by the new nicks displayed on the doors of the car. That is of course, when I can find a parking space. Usually, grocery carts are parked where cars should be, taking up most of the room within a half mile of the store.

Once inside, finding a basket becomes a game of Russian Roulette. A small crowd gathers immediately inside the door, waiting for an employee to round up the carts that are taking a coffee break in the parking lot. A study of the faces in the waiting crowd, can be a lesson in human nature. Some faces are openly hostile, their owners appearing to say "I got here first. Don't dare take a cart until I get one." Others peer out timidly, the faces' occupants probably thinking "Just don't shove me. I can't take a hassle today."

With shopping cart eventually secured, a game of bumper cars begins. With no stop and go signs or one-way streets, it's each man for himself — without the protection of seat belts. Time elapses as a shopper tries to find merchandise that is clearly marked as to price, so as not to take extra time at the checkout line. More time is wasted trying to find boxed items that have not been slit by the invisible demons who are responsible for opening the cartons when they arrive at the store. All this is accomplished under considerable duress as other shoppers stand behind, sending daggers through the people blocking the aisles.

However, a shopper usually reaches a check out counter still intact. At this point a shopper is merged with 600 people at the front of the store. Caution is definitely needed here. After standing in line for 15 minutes, I once made the mistake of leaving my cart unattended while I ran to get a forgotten item. (There were still four people ahead of me.) I returned to find my cart and I had been pushed aside like an abused wife, with no recourse but to once again go to the back of the line.

Last week I was lucky for the first time. A checkout girl who was closing her register decided she had time to wait on one more customer, so she told me to bring my groceries over. I no sooner started to unload my cart when two women came up to me and demanded to know if the check-out girl and I were lovers. What a shame! They looked like they might return to a normal state, if they could only reach the door.

The ultimate abuse is finally handed down when the groceries are totaled. A bag of groceries now costs a week's salary plus a small bank loan, but I find that with careful planning and wise shopping, we can eat three days a week and entertain one day a year. With hindsight though, I find that there is no price too high to pay for permission to leave the store a return to some form of normalcy on the outside.

I recently had occasion to visit Huron High School. After hearing and reading so much lately about the problems in schools, I was pleasantly surprised to find the school teeming with neat looking, well behaved teen-agers. If this is an example of today's youth, I for one feel very positive about our future.

Ford's tracks down 55 of its Model A's

As the halfway mark approaches in its worldwide search for 1903 Model A cars, Ford Motor Company has turned up 55 of the durable little vehicles.

The search will conclude next May, in time to invite owners of the original Model As to attend special luncheons honoring Ford's 75th Anniversary on June 16, 1978.

Since the hunt began, nearly 200 letters, telegrams and phone messages have arrived at the company's World Headquarters in Dearborn, Mich. They have come from all over the United States and from Canada, Switzerland, New Zealand, Mexico, Australia, South Africa and the United Kingdom.

One letter was from Harold Y. Hartley of Akron, Ohio, who enclosed a faded photograph of himself and a cousin as youngsters sitting in the first Model A delivered. It was bought by Mr. Hartley's uncle, Dr. H. Wellington Yates, a Detroit physician.

Records in the Ford Archives show that the Yates' car was shipped on July 20, 1903, one month and four days after the company was incorporated by Henry Ford and 11 investors. Unfortunately, Huntley doesn't know where the car is today, and thus far it has not turned up in the search.

George DeAngelis, an antique car expert and a member of Ford's 75th Anniversary committee, said the company is pleased with the results of its search to date.

"We think it's quite remarkable to have located 55 of the cars, considering that only 1,708 of them were built," he said.

"And we're not giving up the search yet," he added. "I would be surprised if we don't hear about several more between now and next spring."

Volunteers top priorities

The Veterans Administration's (VA) Voluntary Service, a national program for volunteers in health care, is getting high priority from VA Administrator Max Cleland.

Cleland, himself a recipient of volunteer assistance while recovering in VA hospitals as a triple amputee from the Vietnam War, has called services by volunteers "one of the most meaningful and important contributions by Americans for the veteran."

At Cleland's direction, VA's Voluntary Service now is getting an entire new look, according to Paul Weston, who is managing the project as a special assistant to the VA administrator.

A national public awareness program has been launched to interest citizens in the program and provide visibility for the more than 100,000 volunteers already involved in VA hospital care, he added.

With a new program slogan of "Volunteers Make a Difference," and a new symbol — the A-OK hand sign — presented in blue and yellow, the VA hopes to re-emphasize its Voluntary Service program.

Also, VA is conducting a national management study to assure its volunteer administration uses the best possible techniques. The study includes an analysis of possible new uses of volunteers in outreach programs to inform veterans of benefits and services.

The VA's 31-year-old Voluntary Service program for health care, established in 1946 by then VA Administrator General Omar N. Bradley, has accumulated more than 200 million hours of volunteer service.

In 1976 alone nearly 110,000 volunteers provided more than 10 million hours of service to hospitalized veterans. It is one of the oldest and largest volunteer programs in America today.

Weston said: "The VA has a special commitment to volunteers."

Our VA health program could not have provided the quality of service it has over the years without them. "We are determined to treat the voluntary effort as having the highest priority. The services VA volunteers bring to us deserve this kind of attention."

A newly-created job-planning team and a highly sophisticated computer system are part of a coordinated effort by Wayne County officials to help youths and adults find jobs.

The computer system will involve a network of 32 terminals scattered throughout Wayne County that will provide job seekers with a "hotline" to where the jobs are and what credentials are needed.

Wayne County Commissioner Royce E. Smith of Belleville said county officials have applied for federal funds to finance the computer "job opportunity" network, and if the Labor Department approves the grant, "the system could be available for public use as early as January."

The job-planning team, composed of volunteers from business and labor, is the creation of the Wayne County Office of Youth Services, the Wayne County Office of Manpower and the Wayne County Intermediate School District. The team will work with county officials to write proposals for programs and funding that will provide "meaningful training and job slots for young people."

Dr. Jeannette Drew, director of the Wayne County Office of Youth Services, made the announcement following a youth employment conference held Oct. 19 at the Veterans Memorial Building in downtown Detroit.

The conference, sponsored by her office, was aimed at bringing business, schools and CETA (Comprehensive Employment and Training Act) programs together to "give a much-needed boost to the youth labor market."

Nearly 200 business, labor and school officials participated in conference workshops.

"I am positively impressed with the private sector response to the youth employment situation," Dr. Drew said. "It isn't just employment we need — but meaningful employment for our young people."

"One of the goals of the new planning team is to develop jobs and educational work experience that 'count' in terms of having to earn a living for the rest of your life."

"Jobs where kids lean on a rake bring in some money — but they certainly don't contribute to career development."

Smith informed conference participants that the county Office of Manpower has asked the U.S. Labor Department for $1.5 million in grants for pilot programs in Youth Employment Services.

"Part of that package includes funding for the computer network," he said. "We're hoping to get final grant approval in January so we can start putting the terminals in schools, libraries, employment offices and other public places."

Smith described the computer setup as "utterly fantastic."

"This computer will do just about everything but drive you to the job interview," he said. "If, for example, you want information on crane operators, it will tell you what they do, what experience or training is needed, how to get that training and what the job outlook is for crane operators right here in southeastern Michigan."

"If the job market is tight, it will suggest related fields or further education and training," Smith added.

The Wayne County Office of Youth Services will continue to identify potential jobs for youth in the private sector and provide this information to agencies dealing with youth employment.

Dr. Drew said Wayne County has $1.6 million in Comprehensive Youth Employment Training Act funds for 1977-78 that are earmarked for youth jobs in the private sector.

Job hotline

Wayne County Commissioner Royce E. Smith asks a new computer system about the job possibilities as a crane operator. The computer tells him there are 3,100 people working as crane operators in the area ... but the job outlook isn't too good. There will only be 270 job openings next year, it reports. "Would you like a job in some related field?" it asks. Smith was testing a new job information system that Wayne County officials hope to implement perhaps as early as January to help youths and adults get jobs. The county would establish 32 computer terminals, with a majority slated for Western Wayne County, in libraries, schools, public employment offices and other civic buildings. Participating in the demonstration were Dr. Rod Durgin (from left), state director of the Michigan Occupational Information System which operates the computer system, Wayne County Commissioner Mary E. Dumas, Commissioner Smith and Carl Woloszyk, from the Michigan Department of Education, Vocational Technical Education Services.

Now is the time for 'harvesting' state's wild nuts

The mushroom lover has his day in May. For the nut nut, the time is now.

Fall is the season of the wild nut harvest in Michigan. According to J. Lee Taylor, extension horticulture specialist at Michigan State University, several nut trees native to the southern half of the lower peninsula may be harvested in the fall.

The best known of these probably is the black walnut. This large tree, which also is valued as a source of fine cabinet wood, bears hard, rough textured, round nuts encased in a tough, thick husk. Black walnuts are ready for harvest as soon as a good portion have fallen off the tree.

"Harvest and hull the nuts quickly," Taylor advised. "The stain in the hull will penetrate the nutmeats and discolor them if the hull is left on too long. It also will give them a strong, disagreeable flavor."

To remove the hulls, you can run over the nuts with an automobile, run them through a corn sheller or pound them through a hole in a board. You can clean them up by washing them in a cement mixer with just enough water to cover them and a few pieces of broken concrete to knock the remaining husks off. Or spray the hulled nuts with water under pressure.

Dry hulled walnuts in shallow layers — no more than three nuts deep — on screens. Two weeks in a cool, dry, shaded spot with good air circulation should have the nuts dry enough to store.

To be sure, crack a few nuts. If the kernels are crisp, they can be stored. Place the nuts in mesh bags and hang them outside in a garage or shed or indoors in a cool root cellar. Store them in the shells or crack them and extract the kernels. Store these in tightly sealed jars in the refrigerator. You also can freeze the nutmeats, Taylor noted. Cool storage of some kind is important to keep the oils in the nuts from becoming rancid.

Walnuts are easier to crack if you soak them in water overnight and then drain and dry them briefly before cracking. Soaking softens the shell and makes the kernel swell. After cracking, kernels must be air-dried on trays or screens before they can be stored.

Butternuts, often called white walnuts, look like elongated black walnuts. Handle the same as black walnuts.

Hickory nuts vary in size from small to large, depending on the species. The sweet kernels, are encased in hard, thick husks that turn from green to brown in the fall. The best hickory for nuts is the shagbark, so called because of its loose, peeling bark.

'Harvest and hull the nuts quickly...'

Gather hickory nuts as soon as they fall from the tree. Hull them and place the nuts on screens to dry. Crack a couple every few days to check for dryness. When the kernels are crisp, store the nuts in the shells in a mesh bag. A cool, airy place where squirrels cannot get to them is best.

Beechnuts are small with sweet meat. The hard nuts are surrounded by a prickly husk. The beech tree has smooth, light gray bark and leaves that turn a brilliant yellow in the fall. Treat the nuts as you would hickory nuts.

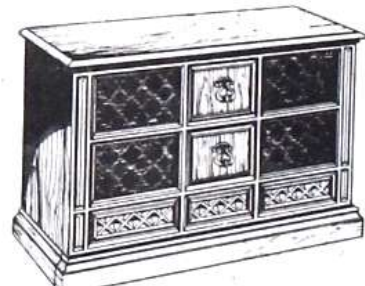

"Before you gather and haul home bushels of wild nuts, crack a few and check for full, flavorful kernels," Taylor advised. "In some years, nut trees may fail to fill their kernels because of cool weather or poor growing conditions. For a number of reasons — including drought and defoliation by insects or diseases — kernels may be shriveled and unappetizing. You might as well find this out at the tree before you've gone to all the work of gathering, hulling, drying and cracking your wild harvest."

A sprightly array in state

November is for 'get-out-and-do' people

Like every other month of the year in Michigan, November moves in with a sprightly array of "doing" activities for the get-out-and-do people of all ages, according to the Travel Bureau of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

Doing it yourself, for pleasure and sometimes profit, has become a popular pastime. In that area, the November calendar lists several events that should stir creativity and hidden talent such as the Art and Craft Show Nov. 3-6 at Eastland Mall in Burton, Hobby Show at the Light Guard Armory in Detroit Nov. 4-6, Folk Arts Fair Nov. 4-6 at the International Institute in Flint, Area Artist Show and Sale at the Jesse Besser Museum in Alpena Nov. 6-16, and the Holiday Art Mart Nov. 25-Dec. 23 at the Civic Art Center in Battle Creek. It includes work by area artists in a wide variety of mediums.

The past also has become a prevalent part of the present. Collecting and restoring furniture, utensils, knickknacks and various other memorabilia from other times has turned many a "modern Millie" into an antique buff. The Antique Show and Sale Nov. 10-12 at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn will feature free lectures at 2:30 p.m. each day, which should prove valuable to those new at the game, as well as seasoned collectors. In addition to some 50 dealers from the United States and Europe, the show will include an ice cream parlor, country store and the pantry shelf, stocked with homemade goodies. Yesterday's treasures take the spotlight again Nov. 13 at the Antiques Market in Ann Arbor.

The anticipation of winter's snow and the frosted activity it brings, stimulates such events as the Ski Swap at the Eastbrook Mall in Grand Rapids Nov. 1-5, Ski Show Nov. 4-6 at Cobo Hall in Detroit, Winter Sports Show at the Muskegon Mall in Muskegon Nov. 7-13, and the Ski Swap and Sale at the Men's Intramural Building at MSU in East Lansing Nov. 28-Dec. 1. Artistry on ice describes the delightful entertainment provided by "Holiday on Ice". The 1978 edition comes to Michigan Nov. 8-13 in the IMA Sports Arena in Flint, Nov. 15-19 at the Civic Center in Lansing, and Nov. 20-22 at the L.C. Walker Arena in Muskegon. The same holds true for the Ice Follies Nov. 29-Dec. 4 at Olympia Stadium in Detroit.

In the area of specialized hobbies, coin shows are scheduled for Nov. 5 in the County Center Building in Kalamazoo and Nov. 6 at the Fairgrounds in Coldwater. Rock hounds, pebble pups and lapidary enthusiasts will be gathering for the Tri-County Rock and Mineral Show in the Bay Community Center in Bay City Nov. 5-6. Growers and admirers of epiphytic and terrestrial plants of the Orchidaceae family will be interested in attending the Orchid Show Nov. 11-13 in the Westmain Mall in Kalamazoo.

Whatever your preference in entertainment fare, chances are better than good that you'll find your brand listed in November's calendar. One of opera's favorite ladies, "Carmen" will grace the stage of the Music Hall in Detroit Nov. 2, 4-5 and in Miller Auditorium at WMU in Kalamazoo Nov. 11. The Detroit Symphony will present a Beethoven Festival in Ford Auditorium in Detroit Nov. 2, 4, 8, 10-13. In the realm of favorite musicals; there's "Cabaret" Nov. 3-6 and 9-12 in the Mendelssohn Theatre in Ann Arbor and "My Fair Lady" Nov. 30 at Miller Auditorium, WMU, Kalamazoo. Music Country style, comes with the Merle Haggard Show on stage at L.C. Walker Arena in Muskegon Nov. 6. If you like the oldies but goodies, see Buddy Rich and the Big Band Machine, Nov. 13 at the Center for the Performing Arts in Detroit and Fred Waring and His New Young Pennsylvanians at Miller Auditorium, WMU, Kalamazoo, Nov. 15. Some other highlights of the month include the J.L. Hudson Thanksgiving Day Parade in Detroit, Grayling's annual Red Coat Roundup Nov. 12-15 and Harrison's Buck Contest Nov. 15-30, and the opening of Fantasyland, Nov. 26 at the Kennedy Memorial Center in Lincoln Park. Fantasyland is a magical holiday experience and will be open to children of all ages through Dec. 24.

The list is long, the enjoyment unlimited when it comes to things to see and do in Michigan in November. Make sure not to miss any of your favorite things by writing for a free copy of the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events available from the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, Box 30226, Lansing 48909.

Historical Society seeks businesses 100 years and up

Wanted: Businesses that have operated in Michigan for more than 100 years.

The Historical Society of Michigan is continuing its search for centennial businesses operating in the state. The society sponsored a contest during the Bicentennial year to locate the oldest business in Michigan. Because of the enthusiastic response, the recognition of centennial businesses has been adopted as an ongoing program of the society.

Overall winner of the contest was George Jerome and Co., a Detroit surveying firm founded in 1828, nine years before Michigan became a state.

According to Frank C. Wilhelme, executive director, more than 225 centennial businesses have been located through an intensive search conducted by local historians throughout the state during the last year.

"This most exclusive group of businesses has been honored in community ceremonies sponsored by historical societies and chambers of commerce," Wilhelme said.

"Ceremonies included presentation of a certificate officially designating the recipient as a Michigan Centennial Business."

The society is especially interested in locating all businesses celebrating their centennial in 1977 or 1978. Older businesses not yet identified also are urged to notify the society.

The names of all centennial businesses and their founding dates will be sent to the State Library, the State Archives, and the State Historic Preservation Officer. This information then can be used by researchers studying Michigan's early commercial and industrial history. The names also will become part of a business directory scheduled for late fall publication.

Applications for centennial business certificates should include complete name, address and phone number; name and title of chief executive officer; documentation to verify founding date; and name and address of person submitting the application. All applications should be mailed to the Historical Society of Michigan, 2117 Washtenaw Avenue, Ann Arbor 48104.

Design show displays work done in state

Everyone knows the Model T automobile was designed in Michigan. But, viewers of Design in Michigan Exhibition, at Cranbrook Academy of Art Museum, now through Nov. 13, also will learn that the first agricultural combine harvester was designed in Michigan by Hiram Moore; that Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes and Ferry Seed Company were among the first Michigan companies to use advertising design to reach the mass media; that one of the first refrigerated railroad cars was designed in Michigan by George Hammond.

Design in Michigan Exhibition, cosponsored by Michigan Council for the Arts and Cranbrook Academy of Art, shows off Michigan's traditional use of design to solve problems beginning as early as the prehistoric Great Lakes Indians, who adapted birch bark to make their canoes.

The exhibition includes illustrations, photographs and models that exemplify—even if the "designers" weren't always aware of it—the four major criteria for effective design: efficiency, compatibility, responsiveness and informativeness.

Also included in the historical section are explanations of the importance of design in Michigan's lumber industry, Great Lakes shipping, city planning of Detroit, landscape planning on Belle Isle and Nichols Arboretum, the stove and automotive industries.

(A second section of the exhibition explains Michigan's contemporary use of design in the last decade as shown in more than 150 recent award-winning designs.)

For guided school and group tours of the exhibition, call the Museum at 645-3312. Cranbrook Academy of Art Museum, 500 Lone Pine Road, is open 1 to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Sundays, closed Mondays. The museum is a facility of Cranbrook Academy of Art, which grants the bachelor and master of fine arts and the master of architecture degrees to student-artists from around world.

Re-Elect LEONARD J. FOLMAR for ROMULUS CITY CLERK

Leonard J. Folmar, the only City Clerk Romulus has had in its 7-year history, is running for re-election in the Nov. 8 general election.

Folmar, 35, and his wife, Celeste, reside at 35856 Cypress and have two sons, Winston Todd, 5, and Marcus Bradley, 3.

After growing up in Romulus, he graduated from Romulus High School in 1959 and attended Ferris State College in Big Rapids, from 1959-1963. He graduated with a business administration degree.

In 1963 he entered the Naval reserves and served six months active duty before returning home. He was employed by a Detroit architectural firm the next two years before entering the Army in 1966.

Folmar served in the quartermaster corps and in 1968 was stationed in Weisbaden, Germany, with the 8th Army, 11th Quartermaster's Paratrooper Division.

Upon returning home, he served as assistant director of urban renewal for Romulus Township from 1968 to 1970.

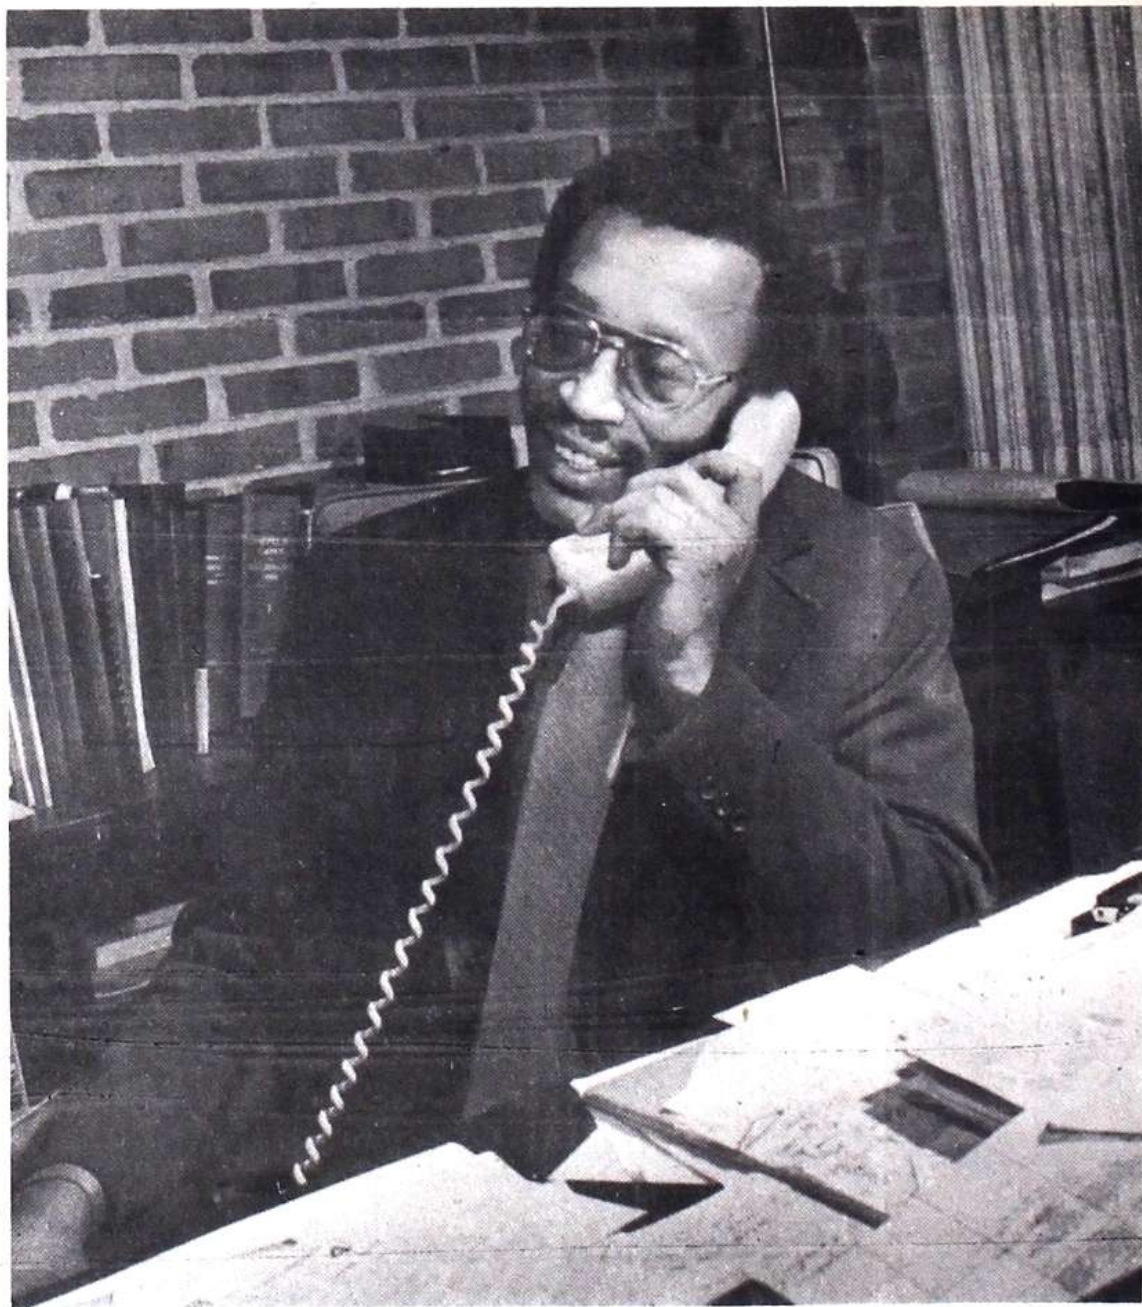

Folmar ran for clerk when Romulus became a city in 1970 and was elected. He was re-elected in 1973, and in 1975 was unopposed when he was elected to his third consecutive term.

Highly regarded among his peers in the Wayne County Municipal and Township Clerks Association (WCMTCA), Folmar was elected vice-chairman of that group in 1976. He was voted chairman of WCMTCA last April to serve as head of the group for the coming year.

In addition, he recently has been appointed to the legislative committee of International Institute of Municipal Clerks, a national association with members in the United States and 10 other countries.

"I'd like to see the clerk's office inaugurate new services," he said. We need to publicize what a clerk's role is and its significance to the community."

An avid sports enthusiast, Folmar was a basketball star in high school and college and now enjoys playing golf whenever he can.

Red Cross asks: Share your natural resource

With the winter months ahead, the conservation of natural resources is on everyone's mind. And the Red Cross is asking members of the community to share one of their most valuable natural resources—a pint of their blood.

Because the life-giving properties of blood cannot be manufactured, it is essential that blood donations from the community remain constant. Each day between 900 to 1,000 units of blood are needed by open heart surgery patients and victims of accidents and blood disease.

Make an appointment to donate this month by calling or visiting, the Dearborn Donor Center in the Village Plaza, 23400 Michigan Avenue, Dearborn. Call 274-5450.

Blood donations are accepted from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Friday, 2 to 8 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday and 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday.

The Red Cross bloodmobile also will be at several outcounty locations during the month.

Donors can contribute from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at St. Michael's Lutheran Church, 3003 Hannan Road, Wayne. Call 728-1950 for an appointment.

Garden City East High School will be the site on Nov. 9 with appointments available from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Call 421-8220. The high school is located at 6500 Middle Belt Road, Garden City.

A bloodmobile also will be at the Wayne Amvets Post Hall on Nov. 9. The hall is located at 1217 Merriman Road, Westland. Appointments for from between 2 and 8 p.m. can be made by calling 721-9327.

And closing out the month will be a blood drive at St. Martha's School, 18307 Oakwood, Dearborn. Donations can be made from 2 to 8 p.m. Call 336-4259 for an appointment.

MaBell's budget service priced as low as '27 rates

More than 105,000 Michigan families are paying less for telephone service than just about anyone else in the country.

These families are paying only $3.39 a month for 2-party Budget Service — about the cost of comparable phone service 50 years ago. But although the service is priced as low as 1927, its quality is 1977, according to Eugene L. Greek, local Michigan Bell manager.

With 2-party Budget Service, Michigan Bell residence customers anywhere in the state can have one phone, make up to 45 local calls a month and receive an unlimited number of local and long distance telephone calls.

"2-party Budget Service is pretty basic telephone service, but it is especially designed and priced to make sure that any customer who needs the security of phone service can have it—at a price he or she can afford to pay," Greek said.

It is especially beneficial to most senior citizens, people living on low or fixed incomes and those who receive more telephone calls than they make, he said.

The typical 2-party Budget Service customer is a retiree about 63 years old — often a widow — with an average annual income of $5,500. Moreover, customers with the service most often have only one or two people in their family and they make an average of about one telephone call a day, Greek said.

Many use Budget Service as an "emergency-type" service — a system which enables family and friends to call frequently to check on shut-ins living alone, he noted. It provides inexpensive reassurance for Budget Service customers and their families and friends.

Michigan Bell first introduced Budget Service in July 1964, to meet a demand for low-cost phone service for people with limited incomes, retirees, the unemployed and those who wanted a telephone primarily for emergency purposes, Greek explained.

That philosophy and the need for the service have not diminished and that's why Michigan Bell continues to offer Budget Service, Greek said. Today some 81,000 families in the Detroit metropolitan area and some 24,500 families in outstate communities have the service.

There is no charge for converting to Budget Service, he said. All a customer has to do to make the change is to call the local Michigan Bell business office.

What's for lunch?

On tap for students in the Van Buren and Lincoln Consolidated schools next week will be such luncheon entrees as chicken turnovers with gravy, spaghetti with cheese and tomato sauce and beef in gravy.

In Van Buren's elementary schools the menu Monday will be juice, pizza, potato chips, fruit, cookies and milk, followed by chicken turnovers with gravy, mashed potatoes and gravy, fruit Jell-O, Bavarian pudding and milk Tuesday.

No lunches will be served next Wednesday, Thursday or Friday because of half day sessions.

In the junior highs the menu Monday will be bowls of chili, hot dogs on buns, fruit, cookies and milk, while juice, sloppy joes on buns, french fries, fruit Jell-O, cake and milk will be on tap for Tuesday.

Next Wednesday's bill of fare will be spaghetti with cheese and tomato sauce, Italian veal cutlet, vegetable, bread and butter, pudding and milk.

Next Thursday the cafeteria will be serving juice, pizza, salad, cobbler and milk, with soup, fish-wich, potato chips, cole slaw, cookies and milk closing out the week.

The alternate menu selection will be Belleville burgers Monday, hot ham and cheese sandwiches Tuesday, Coney Island foot-longs next Wednesday, two tacos next Thursday and Belleville burgers next Friday.

Pigs-in-the-blanket will be the bill of fare for Monday students in the Lincoln Consolidated schools. The side dishes will be buttered corn, pears, Jell-O and milk.

Tuesday's lineup will be pizza, buttered green beans, fruit and milk, followed by baked fish on buns, whipped potatoes, fresh fruit and milk next Wednesday.

Next Thursday the cafeteria will be serving beef in gravy, whipped potatoes, buttered peas, rolls and butter and milk, while submarine sandwiches, potato chips, fruit cocktail and milk will top off the week.

56 airs 'Bovary' series

All four parts of the BBC dramatization of "Madame Bovary," Gustave Flaubert's 19th century novel about a romantic adultress, encore Nov. 6 on Channel 56.

Originally seen last fall on Channel 56's "Masterpiece Theatre" series, the four episodes of "Madame Bovary" air Sunday, beginning at 9 p.m. and concluding at 1 a.m.

The mini-series stars Francesca Annis in the title role as the beautiful young woman who thinks life is a romantic dream and tries to escape the boredom of marriage in the arms of other men. Tom Conti portrays Bovary's plodding doctor-husband, and Brian Stiner and Denis Lill are her two lovers.

Although Flaubert's novel is now considered one of the world's greatest, it so outraged public sensibilities when it first appeared, that the French government tried to suppress it. Literary critics condemned the subject matter and yet praised Flaubert's honest and skillful writing.

State is next for Zebras

Wayne wins regional crown

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

With a perfect dual meet season and the regional cross country behind them, Wayne Memorial and Coach Ernie Righetti will head for Grand Rapids on Saturday in quest of the Class A state championship. Wayne captured the regional title last Saturday at New Boston Huron's Metro Park by edging Edsel Ford, 76-78 and finishing at the head of a field which included some 20 other teams.

"The race was close because our fifth man, Tim Quintance, was rushed to the hospital earlier in the week for an emergency appendectomy. Tim's doing fine, now, but he's out for the season," Righetti explained.

Righetti pointed out that his team apparently had tired because it had run against league rival, Riverview, earlier in the week.

Trailing Wayne and Edsel Ford was Garden City East which piled up 110 points. All three teams qualified for the state meet.

Westland John Glenn finished fifth with 145 points. The Rockets qualified one runner, Jim Kancierz, who finished 21st, for the state.

Running against Riverview earlier in the week apparently took its toll on Wayne's outstanding senior, Rich Blaha who lost the regional crown to Adrian's Richard Miller. Miller toured the 3-mile course in the winning time of 15:08 and was followed to the wire by Blaha, who was clocked in 15:12, while Rick's runningmate, Doug Tolson was third (15:31).

Other Wayne finishers were Paul Spencer, who was 10th in 15:31; Ron Mason, 14th in 15:48 and Mark Michalowski, 47th.

"We are always happy to win," Righetti said, "however, we were disappointed with our over-all performance."

Glenn, coming off a victory at the Northwest Suburban Conference championships, also couldn't muster enough "emotional support" to keep pace with the favorites.

"We were not as emotionally high for the regionals as we were for the league championships," said Rocket Coach Jerry Szukaitis, "consequently we didn't perform as well as I expected we would. However, it was a good effort."

Glenn also had the 24th best runner at the regional in Mark Johnson while Steve Chambers (31), sophomore Tom Andrews (33), Paul Stepehens (36) and Jim Barber (41) rounded out the Rocket line-up.

Barber found himself running the three miles without a shoe. He lost it four steps from the starting line and decided to go the entire distance without it.

Belleville also qualified one runner, junior Steve Medecz, for the state. Medecz finished 12th in the field with a 15:47 clocking.

"I thought we did a good job at the regional," said Belleville Coach Dave Medley. "There were some excellent teams there and we managed to drop most of our times."

The Tiger runners also finished in 36th with Jeff Locke, 38th with Darrell Thompson, while Mark Sienko (53) and Gary Roach (64) also contributed.

Livonia Franklin and Churchill competed at the Class A regional at Royal Oak Kimball and failed to make the cut. Birmingham Brother

Glenn retains CC title

Labeling his team's performance as "superb", Jerry Szukaitis, the patriarch of area cross country coaches, watched on a pleasant afternoon John Glenn's Rockets win the Northwest Suburban Conference championship.

After losing to Garden City East in the season's dual meet opener, the Rockets have improved steadily and managed to surprise East and Thurston at the league meet held at Cass Benton Park.

Glenn, East and Thurston went into the championship with identical 3-1 records. Glenn garnered 43 points to finish ahead of East, which had 57, Thurston, with 66, Livonia Franklin, with 78 and North Farmington, with 114.

It was Glenn's fifth championship in the last six years.

"We were really up for this meet," Szukaitis said. "It was a superb performance by our team that won it."

Thurston's Curt Reynolds captured the conference's individual title with a record-shattering 15:47.9 run, while Garden City East's Tim Phillips was second, followed by Tom Hess (Thurston), Kevin Kitzze (GCE), and Glenn's Mark Johnson.

Johnson was clocked in 16:30 and other Rocket contributions included eighth and ninth places by Jim

JERRY SZUKAITIS

Kancierz (16:42), Jim Barber (16:45), respectively. Steve Chambers finished ninth in 16:46 and Tom Andrews was 14th (17:00).

Belleville meanwhile finished behind Edsel Ford at the annual Suburban 8 Conference meet as Coach Dave Medley's Tigers amassed 86 points to the champs' 39. Following the leaders were Plymouth Salem (96), Trenton (99), Dearborn (121), Allen Park (131), Livonia Bentley (157), and Redford Union (203).

Derrick Baker of Allen Park was the man to beat and he turned in the winning time of 15:58 to earn the gold medal. Dearborn's Tim Ruah was second.

Belleville's best effort came from Steve Medecz who was seventh.

Belleville ended the dual meet season with a 9-2 record, its best in recent years.

"I'm really proud of this team," said Coach Dave Medley who rounded out his second year as head coach. "I feel that we've turned the corner and we're looking forward to next year."

Unbeaten Wayne Memorial cleared its final Great Lakes 8 Conference hurdle en route to the league championships.

Coach Ernie Righetti's Zebras tramples Riverview 23-32 as sophomore Doug Tolson beat Rick Blaha to the wire to provide Wayne with a 1-2 finish. Tolson's winning time was 14:40. Blaha (14:51) led teammate Ron Mason (15:06) across the finish line.

Wayne's Mark Michalowski was eighth (16:21), Gary Dykes was ninth (16:41) and Joe Morgan was 10th (16:46).

Wayne was seeking its second consecutive Great Lakes title and Righetti sees Dearborn Fordson as a possible threat to his plans.

Monroe is host for the league championships.

Lost for the season

With junior quarterback Rich Hewlett at the throttle, Plymouth Salem's grid machine has churned out eighth consecutive victories and captured the Suburban 8 Conference championship. A Class A state playoff berth within their reach, Coach Tom Moshimer's Rocks now will have to finish the season without their star QB who was injured in the third quarter at Dearborn. Lurking in the minds of prep fans is the question: "Can Salem beat Farmington Harrison, the two-time undefeated Western Six Conference champ without Hewlett on Friday. A loss to Harrison would jeopardize Salem's playoff chances."

Robichaud's grid playoff hope rides on victory over Milan

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

With the Region IV Class B playoff berth at stake, Robichaud will meet Milan Saturday in the season finale for both schools.

Coach Bob Yauck's Bulldogs, who have strung together a 7-1 over-all record, the best in the school's history, need a victory over Milan to keep their post-season playoff hopes alive.

Warren Woods, undefeated in eight starts, has the inside track on one of the two playoff berths in the region while Robichaud, Clarenceville, Melvindale and Marysville are battling it out for the second spot.

"Our first job is to beat Milan," Yauck stressed. "If we lose Saturday, then we can forget it. We have no control over what the other teams and their rivals will do, so we have to get out there and beat Milan to stay in the thick of the race."

Robichaud nearly saw its dreams of competing in the playoffs vanish at Willow Run. The Dearborn Heights gridder struck for a touchdown in the first quarter thanks to Terry Ross's fumble recovery in the Willow Run end zone and Bob Yauck's extra point, but the Flyers came back and scored with 12 seconds left in the game.

Willow Run lost its bid to force the game into an overtime when a host of Robichaud defenders led by Daryl Goree, Duane London, Ralph Payne and George Green got to the Flyer ballcarrier before he could do any further damage.

Robichaud scored midway in the first quarter as quarterback Alvin Carter engineered a 61-yard drive that carried the Bulldogs to the Willow Run 3-yard line. Then, a handoff to Michael Morgan looked good for the touchdown, but the ball squirted from Morgan's hands and fortunately for the Bulldogs, Ross was close enough to pounce on it for the six-pointer.

Yauck, the coach's son, booted the extra point which stood up as the difference in the nonleague game.

Robichaud's speedy junior, Mark Woodson, had the largest hunk of yardage as he chalked up 174 yards in 28 carries. That was more than half of the 265 yards the team compiled.

Woodson managed to get through the holes thanks to Roger McGhee's blocking. The Bulldogs received a superb defensive performance from Ron Williams who was picked on by Willow Run's aerial assault. Williams, along with Payne, Ross and Morgan each intercepted passes.

Grissom's world

In quest of Elusive White Tail

By SAM GRISSOM
Outdoor Writer

While checking over my bowhunting gear I suddenly realized that perhaps I was stepping out of my league by accepting an invitation from the Michigan Travel Bureau and Hunter's International to spend a week hunting white tail deer.

The hunt was to take place on Bois Blanc Island. When I first received the invitation I was thrilled... Who wouldn't be?

The opportunity to hunt on over 22,000 acres of land, 66 percent stateowned, that receives very little hunting pressure doesn't come along very often.

When I called to accept the invitation I found out that while a few of the invited guests were to be outdoor writers, most would be renowned bowhunters. Many of the invited bowhunters hold National awards, so it seemed that even the worst shot present would outrank me.

Not wanting to embarrass myself, I've been practicing with my bow until my arms are sore. I've finally reached a stage where I feel at least a little comfortable with my ability. In the same line of thinking I decided that a review of everything about the white tail deer might be in order.

Normally wary, the white tail buck throws all caution to the wind. Knowing something of his breeding habits could put you one step closer to taking your deer.

As the weather starts to cool, a buck's body starts to undergo drastic biological changes. The blood vessels in the velvet surrounding his antlers dry up and he will run and scrape them against small trees and shrubs in his attempt to rid himself of this velvet.

Damaged trees with bark missing would indicate that a buck frequents the area, however, it is not the same as his breeding territorial marker.

As the rutting period progresses, the buck's neck will engorge with blood. At this time a buck will become very concerned about establishing "his territory."

Once having decided on a particular area he will stage mock battles with the shrubs and tress in the surrounding area, savagely slashing them with his rack.

He will then paw a circular depression in the earth into which he will deposit a segmen.

Once a buck establishes his territory he will return repeatedly to it. This trait can be used by the hunter to gain the necessary advantage.

Located between the toes of a deer is a scent gland called the interdigital. A buck in rut is able to track a doe by following the scent in her tracks. A tracking buck will follow along the trail with his nose to the ground, paying very little attention to anything other than the doe's tracks. This biological habit can be fatal mistake that the buck would never make in the spring.

Knowing something of a buck's habits, locating the territorial signs, and remembering that a doe will often have a buck following close behind could help turn your hunt into a successful one.

Defending champ Salem is missing

Wayne hosts WW girls' swim

With Plymouth Salem, the defending champ, missing from the field, the stage is set for the 1977 Western Wayne Swimming & Diving Championships for girls.

Wayne Memorial and Coach Jim McPartlin are the host for the third annual meet which will get under way at 4 p.m. on Friday with the finals scheduled for 3 p.m. Saturday.

Coveting the throne left vacant by Salem are Wayne, Lincoln Park, Belleville, Westland John Glenn, Livonia Franklin and Willow Run.

Wayne warmed up for the big meet with a key victory over Monroe, a Great Lakes 8 Conference affiliate. Setting two new school records, Wayne dumped the Trojans 96-76 to remain undefeated in three conference starts and boost their over-all record to 6-1 on the year.

Wayne swimmers set new highs in the 200-yard medley relay where they finished second thanks to a judge's decision. Terri Discher's 2:31.4 for the 200-yard individual medley also eclipsed the old mark in that event.

Glenn gals allows champs escape with key swim win

The Northwest Suburban Conference league swim championships will have to decide who'll wear the girls' swim crown.

Westland John Glenn missed a golden opportunity to take a commanding two-meet victory over North Farmington, the defending champ, last week as Coach Jean Garbus's swimmers dropped a close 89-83 decision to North. Earlier in the season the Westlanders startled the champs by posting a first victory ever over them. "Nine-tenth of a second in the final relay separated us from the victory," commented Mrs. Garbus. "But I can pick out at least five other events where we could have turned the tide."

North's freestyle relay team sewed up the key dual meet by taking the event.

Rene Hudson nearly pulled off a victory in the 100-yard breaststroke as she was out-touched by Sheri Kaplan. Miss Kaplan's winning time was 1:24.5.

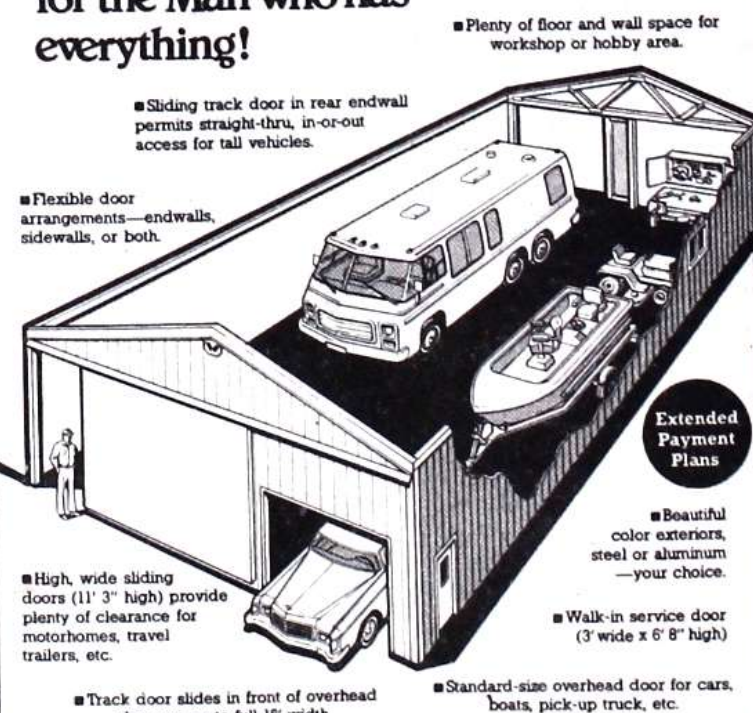

Both teams have two more league meets ahead of them before they meet again at the league championships which are set for Nov. 16-17 at Redford Township Thurston. Against North, Westland had only one winner —diver Janet Borgerding who compiled 167.25 points for her winning performance.

Glenn, losing the battle of first places to Belleville 7-4, turned back their nonleague rivals, 95-75, earlier in the week.

A good-quality timing light, usually is a pistol-shaped device equipped with leads that connect to both battery terminals and to the No. 1 spark plug. Most timing lights of this kind draw their power from the car battery, although some can be connected to electrical outlets. The cost of a good timing light varies widely. Less expensive lights use dim neon bulbs that are effective only when triggered close to the ignition timing marks—which can be both difficult and dangerous.

Can Salem beat Harrison with star QB Hewlett?

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Plymouth Salem paid an exorbitant price for its 21-14 victory over Dearborn Friday afternoon.

Coach Tom Moshimer's undefeated Rocks lost junior quarterback Rich Hewlett to an injury which will sideline the elusive and rugged signal-caller for the rest of the season.

After scoring the Rocks' third touchdown on a one-yard sneak in the third quarter, Hewlett sustained a broken collarbone on the next series of offensive plays. His role as offensive sparkplug was handed over to back-up QB Paul Dillon.

The question that lurks is most area fans minds is: "Can Salem beat Farmington Harrison (7-1), the two-time Western Six champ, Friday night?"

Salem is in the thick of the Class A Region II post-season playoff race and it can't afford to lose. And, if the Rocks do get past Harrison, can they survive the playoffs without the offense that Hewlett seems to generate.

Friday night Rock fans will get some of the answers.

At Dearborn, Salem had its problems shaking the Pioneers who had nothing but prestige at stake — Salem had wrapped up the Suburban 8 Conference championship the week before.

Dearborn drew first blood as the Pioneers cashed in on a Salem turnover deep in Rock territory and scored from the 2-yard line on Kevin Gotts' lunge. Jim Susalla kicked the extra point and with 5:06 remaining in the opening quarter the hosts had a 7-0 lead.

Salem, with Hewlett at the throttle, drove right back after the ensuing kickoff and scored the equalizer. The Rocks put together a 79-yard drive and Hewlett brushed off a couple of would-be Dearborn tacklers and scored from 26 yards out. Dave Basierbe's first of three point-after tied the score at 7-all.

It was Salem that tilted the scoreboard in its favor next. This time Doug Rowe capped a 59-yard sustained drive and scored from the four. Basierbe's second PAT provided the visitors with a 14-7 advantage.

Dearborn refused to quit. The Pioneers marched back and scored with 1:20 to spare in the half. They cashed in on a 20-yard scoring pass from Dennis Scala to Gene Capatina. A gamble by the Pioneers cost them field position and a touchdown on their first drive of the third quarter.

The Pioneers drove to the Salem 37-yard line and on a fourth and one instead of punting and pinning the Rocks to the goal line, they went for and didn't make that expensive yard.

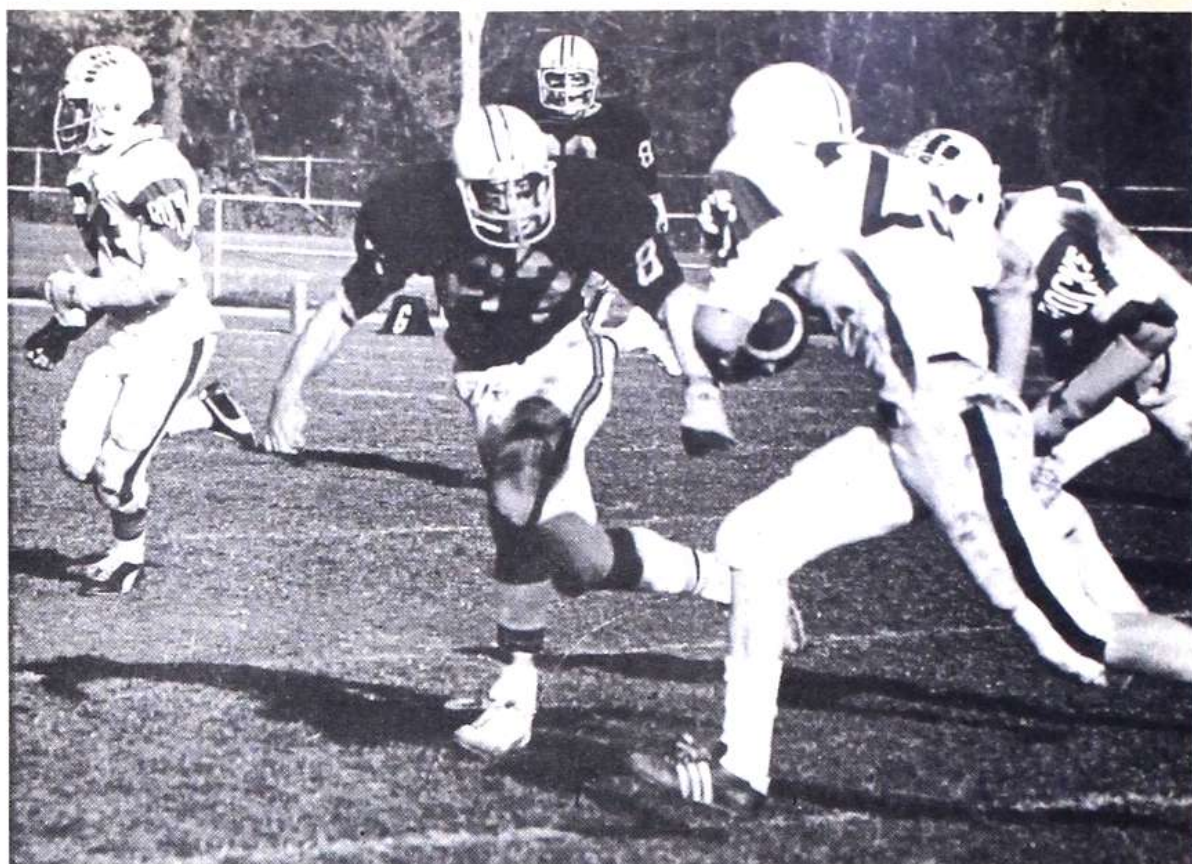

Hewlett came back and engineered a 63-yard drive which culminated with the junior quarterback sneaking over the ball from the one.

After the kickoff Dearborn couldn't move against the rugged Rock defense and gave up the ball via a punt. In the next series, Hewlett sustained his season-ending injury trying to barge his way past an anchored Pioneer linebacker.

The victory was the seventh in the league and brought the curtains down to a perfect Suburban 8 season. The Rocks have a 8-0 over-all record.

Salem had the edge in first downs 15 to 10 and in rushing 215 to 60. However, Dearborn chalked up 105 yards to Salem's 50 from its passing attack. Salem fumbled twice and lost the ball twice and was penalized three times for 20 yards as compared to the Pioneers' three for 45.

Hewlett led Salem ballcarriers with 63 yards on 10 carries and two touchdowns. Rowe picked up 55 yards on 13 attempts while Chris Ritchey wound up with 47 yards on eight rushes.

Detour Ahead

As a Dearborn defender quickly zeros in on Plymouth Salem's David Booker (white jersey), the inevitable occurs; the ballcarrier falls. But Salem managed to get up for a game that had little effect on the Suburban 8 Conference standings and won a 21-14 decision over the Pioneers to finish the conference season with a perfect 7-0 record. Salem had wrapped up the championship a week ago and the importance in the Dearborn and Friday night's matchup with Farmington Harrison lies in state playoff points. Coach Tom Moshimer's Rocks need a victory in order to nail down one of the two playoff berths in Region II.

Clarenceville eyed as victim

Spartans to be 'Spoilers'

Ending the Tri-River Conference campaign with its best record in recent years, Cherry Hill will attempt to play the role of "spoilers" Saturday when Clarenceville pays Coach Jerry Pawloski's Spartans a visit.

Clarenceville still is a Region IV playoff dreamer and needs the victory to remain alive; the Spartans would like to improve their over-all record to 5-4.

"The key to the game will be to stop their running back Tim McCamant who has scored over 20 touchdowns this year," Pawloski said. "If we can manage to contain him, it will be a pretty good game to watch."

Cherry Hill wrapped up the league season with a 23-7 victory over Southgate. That victory enabled them to move from the cellar in 1976 to third place in 1977. The Spartans trailed only Dearborn Heights Crestwood and Melvindale, both 5-1 teams, in the final standings.

"As I pointed out in our pre-season discussion," Pawloski reflected, "I felt our team would have something to say about the championship. And these boys proved that they were no pushovers. From last place to third place isn't a bad leap and we have most of these kids back next year."

Southgate, with a 1-7 record, got on the board first and held a 7-0 lead until the dying minutes of the first half when the Spartans caught up and went ahead.

Southgate scored after a 60-yard drive on a 6-yard plunge by fullback Dave Moran.

On the ensuing kickoff, Rick Searcy returned the ball for 75 yards for a touchdown. A pass from quarterback Scotty Dawson to Tim Minor accounted for the two-point conversion which put the Spartans in the lead for good.

Cherry Hill went on to get a third quarter insurance touchdown, set up by Dale Redick's pass interception. Redick stole the aerial at midfield and reached the Saber 2-yard line before he was brought down. On the first play from scrimmage, Dawson sneaked in for the six-pointer and Minor kicked the extra point.

The Spartans put the game on ice in the final quarter with five minutes left. After a 60-yard drive, Randy went in from the six. Minor again booted the extra point.

"This was probably our best all-around game of the year," Pawloski said. "Southgate is noted for its passing game and they weren't able to hurt us."

Along with Redick, Wayne Nichols and Jon Sweet each intercepted.

Pawloski had plenty of praise of his interior linemen, made up of Russ Duncan, Bob Tamm, Brett Loritz, Nichols and Steve Grindling. They paved the way for the ballcarriers who had little trouble moving against the Sabre defense.

Head over heels

Falling head-over-heels for Plymouth Salem's Mike Genrich (87) is Dearborn's Brian Pinford. The Pioneers gave the visiting Salem contingent an early scare before succumbing to the reigning suburban 8 Conference champ, 21-14. The victory proved costly for the champ as it lost junior quarterback Rich Hewlett, the key to the Rocks' offense.

Tiger Swim Club chalks up 1st win

It didn't take long for the Tiger Swim Club to chalk up its first Super Six Conference victory.

After losing the opener two weeks ago, Belleville came back and dunked Ypsilanti, 418 to 320, to post its inaugural victory of the season.

The 9-10-year old boys and girls medley relay teams contributed first places. Doug Champman, Tony Attwell, Dan Dubisky and Matt Stoelton combined for a winning 1:19.7 effort, while their counterparts Teresa Weglarz, Diane Nichols, Mollie Murphy and Jennifer Schurr won in 1:19.45.

Meanwhile, the 200-yard medley team for 11-12 year old boys came through with a 2:32.54 victory. The Tiger lineup for the event included Calvin Loshinski, Randy Schofield, Paul Nichols and Brian Tanne.

Trina Zurich, Sheri Blackstone, Kathy Kubisky and Lee Wallerstead turned in a 2:25.79 to win the 200-yard medley relay for girls 11-12 years old. The boys' 13-14 year old medley relay team of Mark Schofield, Tim Evans, Grant Memering and Dave Dubisky also took first in 2:04.88.

In the individual events, Miss Murphy touched in first for the 50-yard backstroke, while Nichols captured the event for boys 11-12 years old and Kathy Kubisky came in first in the 50-yard backstroke for 11-12 year old girls. Mark Schofield and Laura Kuhr earned first places in the 13-14 year old age group for the 50-yard backstroke.

Donnie Nichols, Rick Schurr, John Haase and Chris Coleman combined for a 1:37.5 to win the 50-yard freestyle relay and Tony Attwell, Doug Chapman, Matt Stoelton and Dan Dubisky teamed up for a 1:12.1 to win the 9-10 year old freestyle relay.

Other Tiger victories came in the 200-yard freestyle relay where Calvin Loshinski, Randy Schofield, Brian Tanner and Paul Nichols were clocked in 2:01.5 and Trina Zurich, Sheri Blackstone, Lee Wallerstead and Kathy Kubisky were the winners in the 200-yard freestyle for 11-12 year old girls.

The Tigers will be back in the pool on November 7 at 6 p.m. when they travel to Willow Run.

Dutch 200 at Fiesta

Though not as rare as a 300 game in bowling, a "Dutch 200" is definitely a rarity. And Al Traver, who was forced into the line-up of the Fiesta Bowl's Thursday Night Mixed League when Dale Bratby didn't show, fired his first "Dutch 200" game.

Traver started the auspicious night rolling a 161, then he started his strike-split affair and carded a 200 and finished the night with a 135 game.

It was the first "Dutch 200" game at Fiesta Lanes this season.

It's Wayne vs. Glenn in 'Fall Classic'

Jaycees' trophy is placed on the block

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

All Wayne Memorial Coach Floyd Carter could do Friday night at Riverview was to nervously stroll along the sidelines.

Carter's Zebras took a 33-6 beating from their Great Lakes 8 Conference rivals and that continued Wayne's skid which has reached five losses.

Glenn warmed up for their seventh meeting with their arch rivals with a 17-6 victory over a visiting Berkley.

The Westlanders have won the last three games over Wayne and have in their possession the Wayne Jaycees' Fall Football Classic Trophy, a prize Wayne would like to snatch away.

"Glenn has as good a football team as they did a year ago," Carter pointed out. "They have a strong defense, execute well on offense and don't make many mistakes --and we can't seem to get away from many those mistakes. Glenn has lost only two games but to excellent teams and we're going to have to play our best game of the season to beat them."

Glenn's Chuck Gordon singled out

"Wayne's very explosive offense," as one of the areas which his Rockets will have to unmanle in order to win.

"However, they also have excellent quickness on defense, so they're around the football all the time. I'm sure there will be a lot of people comparing records, but when you go into a game like this you can throw all of the records and stats out the window."

Glenn got on the scoreboard midway in the first quarter against Berkley after a Rokcet drive stalled. Kal Deluca was called in and he booted a 22-yard field goal to stake his team to a 3-0 lead.

After a punt, Glenn got the ball back at midfield and with a couple of minutes left the Rockets struck again. This time it was quarterback Bill Lee who bisected the Berkley defense with a pass to Andy Pucci who raced 32-yards for a touchdown. Deluca kicked the extra point.

The Westlanders put the game out of reach with a Lee-to-Jim Irwin touchdown pass that covered 33-yards in the second quarter. Again it was Kal who kicked the point after.

Gordon's Rockets came out and played conservative ball the second half and kept the game on the ground. Berkley evaded the shutout with a 15-yard touchdown pass from Brett Hyble to Don Campbell.

"After losing to Franklin the week before, we were concerned about how our kids would come back," Gordon said. "We needed a victory badly and we got it."

Tim Ruark picked up 64 of the Rockets' 192 rushing yards. He carried 15 times while fullback Paul Svabik accounted for 59 yards in 10 attempts. Tom Jurewicz, a defensive end, intercepted a Berkley pass and Isreal Lababino distinguished himself as a defensive halfback.

Glenn had the edge in first downs 14 to 7 and rushing 192 to 135. The Rockets piled up 83 yards to Berkley's 94.

Riverview, Wayne's longtime nemesis, built up a 19-0 halftime lead before going on to defeat the Zebras 33-6. Trailing 26-0, Wayne got on the board with 4:07 left in the third quarter when Mike Wilson bolted from the three and scored to cap a 59-yard, 11-play drive. Mark Korte attempted to pass for the two-point conversion and missed his target.

Riverview scored once in the first quarter, added a pair of touchdowns in the second, then went on for 7-pointers in each of the final two stanzas.

Franklin 2nd half rally jolts Churchill

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Livonia Franklin Coach Armand Vigna said it was going to be close.

And Churchill's Ken Kaestner didn't want to disappoint the Patriots' head grid strategist.

Striking for touchdowns in the first two quarters, Churchill gave the reigning Northwest Suburban Conference co-champs a scare Friday under the lights before losing a 21-13 nonleague cross-town rivalry game.

"The first two times we had possession of the ball, in fact the very first possession of the game, we fumbled," Vigna said. "We were fortunate that we managed to play over those mistakes."

Churchill recovered a Franklin fumble on the Patriot 31 yard line and four plays later Doren Mason plunged over from the two-yard line. The Chargers' point-after attempt was wide and with 3:56 left in the quarter the hosts garnered a 6-0 advantage.

After the ensuing kickoff, Franklin put together a 10-play drive which culminated with Dave Bowen's 35-yard counter-dive play touchdown jaunt.

Don Boka then proceeded to kick his first of three point-after for the evening.

Churchill took the lead again, scoring in the second quarter on a 19-yard pass from Rich Coppola to Tim Malik. That put the finishing touches on to a eight play drive that covered 68-yards.

Boka, who has been near perfect with his extra-point and kicking game, provided the Patriots with the first break of the second half. After an exchange of punts, Boka got off a kick that wound up on the Charger nine-yard line. Four plays later Churchill fumbled and Franklin's Dan Rochowiak recovered on the 15.

Franklin quarterback Mike Fry used up but two plays before handing off to Bowen who zipped into the Charger end zone from 10-yards out.

Ahead 14-13, Franklin scored an insurance touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Jerry Cifor, though he didn't get an opportunity to cross the Charger goal line, helped himself to 94 yards on 21 carries to account for the largest hunk of Franklin yardage. Fry, who connected on two of four passes for 21 yards, also carried 10 times for 44 yards. Bowen wound up with 65 yards on five tries.

Larry Acton had an exceptional game on defense, in fact, Vigna labeled it "Larry's best performance of the season."

Boka, Mike Broome, Rochowiak and Jim Rose, who filled in for the injured Steve Shuster as a defensive tackle, also had excellent games.

Franklin winds up the season Saturday against another city rival, "big brother" Bentley, who seems to cherish the role of 'thorn' in the Patriots' side.

One way to beat Catalano

The 8-year-old gelding Jayfire found a way to beat red hot jockey Wayne Catalano Wednesday (Oct. 26) at Detroit Race Course. He simply dumped his rider, Bob Bright, coming out of the starting gate and without the extra weight hit the finish line a length ahead of Catalano and Little Kahuna. Catalano got official credit for the victory of course, his fifth of the day and his twelfth in three days.

Churchill runners lose crown

Chargers' 7-year reign ends in Western 6

For the first time in eight years the Western Six Conference has a new cross country king.

Northville, undefeated in five starts in the league, replaced Livonia Churchill, which had won the last seven championships, as the No.1 team in the league.

Garnering 38 points, Northville earned its first cross country championship by beating out Waterford Mott which finished second with 55 points.

Churchill wound up with 84 points and third place while Farmington Harrison and Walled Lake Western each had 90 points for a fourth place tie and Canton ended up in the last spot, sixth, with 174 points.

"Obviously I'm disappointed that we didn't win it," said Dave Westover, Churchill coach.

"However, I feel that Northville has a superb team and Mott isn't bad at all. These two teams beat us in the regular season."

The league championship is decided at the league meet and the teams do not count their dual meet season toward the title.

Walled Lake Western's John Yuhn won individual honors as he covered the 3-mile course in 15:52 while Northville's Brian Turnville posted a 15:58 for runner-up honors. In third place was Matt Barnard of Waterford Mott. He finished in 16:00.

Keith Levertton placed 10th for the Spartans as he crossed the finish line with a 15:59 showing. Teammates John Ireland (16:37) and Scott Johnston (16:44) were 30th and 33rd, respectively, and Mike Michno was 35th (16:47).

"By qualifying for the state we certainly achieved one of our goals," Grasley offered. "But we still haven't come up with a total team performance this year and we're hoping for that to happen at the state meet in Sturgis."

Touchdown!

The Knight that's galloping toward the Flat Rock goal line is New Boston Huron's Mike Knight (87) who hauled in a 13-yard pass from quarterback Randy Pichan to help the Chiefs end Flat Rock's 14-game winning streak on their home gridiron. Coach Tom LaBeau's team hammered the Rocks 22-0 to finish the conference with a 4-3 record, their best in recent years. Pichan also scored on a 14-yard option play and kicked a 33-yard field goal. Kelly Summerfield tallied on a one-yard plunge to account for the Chief's first touchdown.

Helping out little leaguers

It isn't often that someone digs into his own pockets and comes up with financial aid for little league football. But the owner of Woody's Gas Station in Belleville did — and will do it again this Saturday as he promised to provide the Belleville Cougars with half of the profits he makes from sales all day Saturday. In the photo at the left Dave Samsel, president of the Cougars (at left) is the recipient of a $150 check from Mike Smolen, who represented Woody's on Sunday at the presentation ceremonies. Standing behind the two are an army of Cougars who will be helped by Woody's generous offer. Clay Cameron, a member of the Cougars, said that they would purchase new equipment for next year with the money. The Cougars however didn't fare well on the gridiron against Romulus in their season finale — the freshmen won 32-0, however both the junior varsity (14-0) and the varsity (12-6) dropped their games.

Notes from everywhere

Will Wayne Memorial leave the ranks of the Great Lakes 8 Conference and join the Suburban 8?

Jack Johnson, the silver-haired athletic director at Dearborn High, said that the Suburban 8 is exploring that possibility.

"If the Taylor schools fail to get the necessary millage to restore sports it's obvious the remaining schools in the league may want out," said Johnson last Friday during halves at the Plymouth Salem-Dearborn High football game.

"We're exploring the possibility, after all, at one time we competed against Wayne on a league basis."

Wayne and Dearborn did belong to the old Huron-Rouge League which dissipated in the late sixties after some clashes with Lincoln Park.

It would be ashame, though, to see the Great Lakes 8 Conference, (Wayne, Fordson, Monroe, Riverview, Lincoln Park, Wyandotte, Taylor Truman, Taylor Center) disband because of the millage failures. It is a good, well-balanced league.

Speaking of money, Cherry Hill's head baseball coach Ken Mientkiewicz is trying to raise some for his Spartans. He's invited the Arkansas Gems, a women's professional basketball squad to town for a fund-raising game against the Cherry Hill faculty squad.

"We're hoping to raise between $500 to $600 which will go toward the purchase of new equipment," Mientkiewicz said.

The game is scheduled for 8 p.m., November 19 at Cherry Hill and fans can pick up tickets from Jim Dolloway, the athletic director, any member of the varsity baseball team, or at the Cherry Hill Book Store. Tickets will cost $1.25 and $1.75 for students and adults, respectively. You may also purchase tickets at the door the night of the game, but it will cost you 50 cents more.

Meanwhile, out in Belleville town, Mike Prydyla a bowling coach for the teen-agers in the Youth Bowling Association, reported that their inaugural "Beat the Coach" night helped raise $500 which will be used to purchase food baskets for needy families so that they too may enjoy a Happy Thanksgiving.

"We have some 360 kids between the ages of 6 and 17 who took part in this tournament at Lodge Lanes," Prydyla commented. "The kids were given a 100 percent handicap and if they beat their coach they were awarded patches."

"In the past we would ask the kids to bring in canned foods and then distribute them to the needy, we scrubbed that idea and decided to raise money instead."

Prydyla, a Ferris State graduate who makes his home in Romulus, is one of the coaches for the Early Bird League.

And, on the subject of bowling, you may have missed Randy Work's superb performance a couple of weeks ago on Bob Allison's "Bowling for Dollars" TV program.

The Wayne bowler fired a pair of strikes and walked away with over $1,000 in prize money.

Work is related to one of our former longtime employee, Ann Meckler who retired from the Associated Newspapers two years ago. Ann also was on the program in the role of a fan. She was holding her niece, Jennifer, age 5.

"And that was the first time I have ever been on TV," Mrs. Meckler confessed. "It was really exciting."

It's no secret that Wayne Memorial will host Westland John Glenn Friday night for the 1977 high school football finale.

These two teams have played six times and split evenly and Glenn has in its trophy display case the coveted Wayne Jaycees' Fall Classic Championship trophy.

It is favored to keep it.

But that you can read about somewhere else on these pages. What most don't know is that Jeff Bemederfer, the Youth Pastor for the First Baptist Church in Wayne pulled off was a "diplomatic coup" — he brought the two teams together Saturday night for a late supper, (a Last Super?)

Bemederfer invited Bill McCartney, the University of Michigan assistant football coach and former Divine Child mentor, to speak to the gathering.

And, according to the Wayne and Westland John Glenn coaches, "the kids really enjoyed the entire program."

"I felt it was a great experience for our kids," said Wayne Coach Floyd Carter. "The stress was on sportsmanship and Christian Fellowship and I think there wasn't anyone who was present that didn't come away feeling good."

Glenn's Chuck Gordon said his players came away with an experience they would cherish for a long time.

"Usually teams meet on a football field, bang heads, then walk away, however, the dinner gave both teams an opportunity to meet in a cordial atmosphere, exchange ideas and just have fun."

The players were allowed to bring dates and it was just one heck of a night," Gordon added.

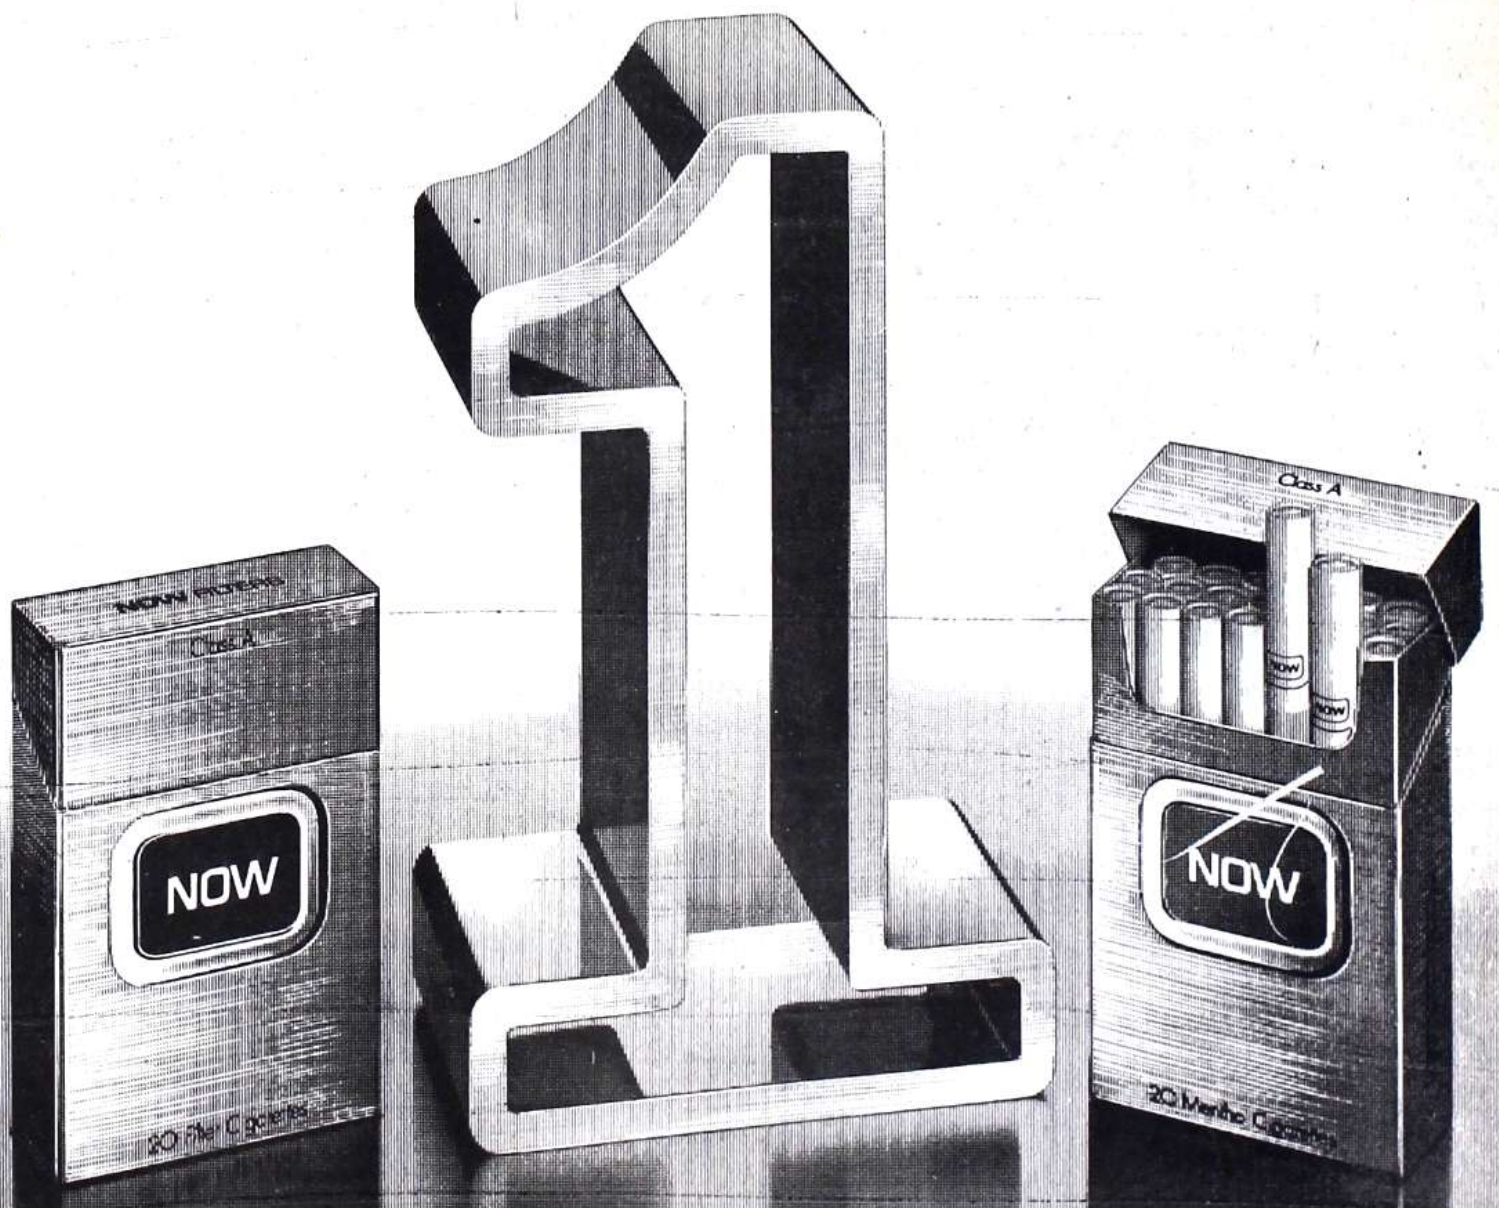

And, like the saying goes: May the best team win Friday night.

The best teams? Well, if you're a high school football fan — and who isn't? — this weekend is the weekend that the Michigan High School Athletic Association's computer will be working overtime to determine which teams have the points to qualify for the playoffs. Most of the local interest is centered around the happenings in Region II where undefeated Plymouth Salem has the inside track for a playoff berth. However, if Salem or Portage Central should falter in their final games, Dearborn Fordson could possibly sneak in. Over in Region IV, Clarkston leads the field with the battle for the second berth being waged between Detroit Southwestern and Birmingham Brother Rice.

Other Class A notes show that Flint Southwestern is the probable qualifier in Region I with East Lansing going along as the second best in that area and in Region III Grosse Pointe South has it wrapped up while Lakeshore (St. Clair) must beat Bishop Borgess for the second slot.

With the prep playoffs just around the corner, can our All-Area Football Team be far away?

TRUST REALTY INC. PERFORMANCE PLEDGE

To: MR & MRS JOHN DOE (SELLER)

The sole purpose of this pledge is to set forth the conditions under which Trust Realty Inc. is to follow while under the employment of the above named parties.

1. Trust Realty will immediately list your property with the Multi-listing system, giving you not only the sales staff of Trust Realty but 127 other Real Estate offices working to help sell your property.

2. Trust Realty will also make your property available to non Multi-list Real Estate offices, giving you an even greater chance of rapidly selling your property.

3. Trust Realty agrees to market your property in a professional manner abiding with the Michigan Real Estate laws and the Realtors Code of Ethics, which gives you the peace of mind knowing that the sale of your property will be handled properly.

4. Trust Realty agrees to use their experience in Real Estate advertising to your best advantage to produce the most qualified buyers possible for your property.

5. Trust Realty will to the best of our ability pre-qualify your buyers to make sure that they can obtain a mortgage.

6. Trust Realty agrees to utilize all available means of Real Estate financing and mortgaging, making the sale of your property a reality.

7. Trust Realty will see that all legal documents are properly drafted, executed, witnessed and acknowledged making the conveyance of your property easy for you.

8. Trust Realty will keep your property on the market during normal business hours so you will not have to worry about losing a possible buyer because you were not at home.

Trust Realty Inc. promises to follow the above conditions while working for the above employer as an Exclusive Listing Agent.
